Andrew Carnegie last Friday announced that he had given $25, 000,000 to the Carnegie corporation of New York, organized today, under a charter granted by the New York legislature, last June, to "promote the advancement and diffusion of knowledge and understanding among the people of the United States." * * *

There was some humor in that resolution passed at the recent state teachers' convention in Omaha, resolving that the selection of Vancouver and Victoria and on the of state superintendent, etc., be taken out of "polities." Presumably, the teachers wanted the selection taken out of general polities and put into teacher polities. It is the observation of The Tribune that the teachers of the state are already overburdened with polities. What they need is not more, but less politics.
