SUPERB BAND CONCERT.

Colonel Sutton and his colts of the McCook band are to be most warmly congratulated upon the superb concert given in the Temple theatre, Monday evening, and upon the enthusiastic manner in which the splendid program was received by the large and brilliant audience assembled to greet them on their first public appearance since recent reorganization and donning of handsome new uniforms.

From opening march to concluding national air the spell-binders had the audience with them in enraptured sympathy. The McCook band under Mr. Sutton's conductorship has for years held a high position among western bands. After a pause of some length, he has again developed a band—quite a number of them young men and new material—of such merit as to fairly challenge the admiration of all, for their snap and finish, and for their sympathetic expression of the artistic interpretation of their veteran director.

And the vocalists. While theirs was a more or less minor part of the program, they fairly divided with the instrumentalists in the warmth and enthusiasm of the audience's approval. Mrs. Britt, if possible, augmenting her already large popularity, and the rendition of the arrangement of the "Sextette from Lucia," by the chorus, called for a repetition of that favorite selection.

Following we give the personnel and instrumentation of the band:
H. P. Sutton, Conductor.
Piccolo—Charles Rogers.

Flute—Charles W. Kelley.
Eb clarinet—F. R. Burbridge.
Bb clarinet—J. N. Gaarda. Ray Jordan, Sidney Vierson, Frank McClure, Harvey Culbertson.
Cornet—A. P. Ely, J. W. Rhodes, Henry Best, Amos O. Rogers, Ray Bayless.
Horns—Frank C. Smith, J. T. Ludwick, Earl J. Smith.
Trombones—Rex Scott, T. F. McCarl, Charles Nelms, Edna Kay.
Baritone—Ed. Kasparek.
Euphonium—F. A. Pennell.
Tenor Saxophone—Charles Milligan, Jr.
Baritone Saxophone—George S. Scott.
Basses—E. E. J. Wilcox; BBB, J. R. McCarl and F. L. Snider.
String Bass—H. W. Snider.
Drums and Battery—J. G. Schobel, Clifford Burbridge and C. W. Barnes.
Albert Barnett, Major.
The vocalists included the following well known singers of the city: Sopranos—Mrs. Charles W. Britt, Mrs. Leroy Kleven, Mrs. C. S. Quick, Jr., Miss Velma Sutton. Altos—Mrs. G. L. Burney, Mrs. A. M. Williams. Tenors—Mr. H. C. Clapp, Mr. D. N. Cobb, Mr. J. A. Colfer. Basses—Mr. C. W. Britt, Mr. F. M. Colfer, Mr. J. R. McCarl.

The formal program following indicates the high character of the entertainment given.

Part I.

March, "King of the Air," Everlof.
Overture, "Ungarischer Lustspiel," Keler-Bela.
"The Pilgrim Chorus," From Tannhauser.
Ballet music, "Pas des Fleurs," From Delibes' Opera, "Naila."

The Municipal League Meeting

The opening day of the Municipal League meeting, Wednesday, was much hampered by the stormy weather, but quite a number of delegates arrived, and the program was carried on as well as could be.

In the afternoon Hon. George F. Welz, mayor of Fremont, spoke on municipal ownership of lighting plants at the commercial club rooms.

In the evening, the delegates were the guests of McCook at a concert in the Temple theatre, by the famous McCook band. An address by Albert Barnett was also a feature of this interesting gathering.

Today, the league has been in full swing, meetings being held in the McCook commercial club rooms.

This morning, Dr. Cummins of Seward spoke on the question of public health and quarantine laws and Dr. Randall on fire dangers and how to prevent them. He will also address the school children this afternoon, and again speak to the ladies especially tonight in the club rooms.

At noon today, the delegates were tendered a banquet at the Temple banquet hall by the McCook commercial club, served by the ladies of the O. E. S., at which about one hundred delegates and citizens of McCook sat down. After the dinner, Adna Dobson of Lincoln and C. H. Meeker of our city spoke very encouraging words concerning irrigation and proposed McCook Irrigation ditch project.

The meeting has been very satisfactory, tho not so well attended as it would have been had the weather conditions been more favorable at the outset.

SOCIAL AND LITERARY.

The Kaffee Klatch met with Mrs. H. P. Waite Wednesday afternoon, for the completion of the study of "Twelfth Night."

The final session of the Young Married Peoples' club was with Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Stoll, and found expression in a dance in the Monte Cristo hall, Tuesday evening. A handsome decorative feature was the "old oaken bucket" scheme carried out so cleverly. Mrs. W. E. McDivitt and Mrs. Leroy Kleven served punch.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mrs. R. B. Wilson of Fort Morgan, Colorado, was in the city, Tuesday on business matters.

Mrs. O. G. Coppom is entertaining for a week her sister-in-law, Mrs. J. O. Coppom of Holbrook.

Mrs. C. D. Ritchie leaves for Lincoln, tomorrow, on a visit to her parents, and to attend a society event.

M. L. Ruby leaves this evening on No. 6 for Plattsmouth to be gone about ten days on business and pleasure combined.

Mrs. Richard Knox arrived from Missoula, Mont., first of the week, and will be the guest of her parents for some time.

Mrs. Lytle of Liberty, Nebraska, on her homeward way from Palisade, Monday, stopped over to visit with Rev. D. L. McBride and family.

Jos. B. Fradenburg of the Omaha law firm of Baldrige, DeBord & Fradenburg arrived here last night, and with C. D. Ritchie drove to Frontier county on legal business, expecting to return tomorrow.

Miss Helen Jones of Lincoln was in the city, early in the week. She departed for the capital city Tuesday night, taking a little boy with her for admission to the home for the homeless in that city. Miss Jones is a cousin of Mrs. W. S. Morlan of our city.

Miss Naomi Wootton of the Nebraska Telephone Co. office departed on No. 6, Tuesday night, for Grand Island, where she will continue in the company's employ. Her position here will be filled by Mrs. Jack Davis who will make an efficient successor to Miss Wootton, who has been recognized by the company for some time as one of their most desirable office clerks.

Fatal Fall Down Stairs

Mrs. M. J. Scott of 129 North 29th street, Lincoln, was instantaneously killed by a fall down a stairway in her home about noon on Saturday, March 16. When her son Ralph came home for his lunch he did not find her awaiting him as usual and after some searching found her at the foot of the stairs leading to the basement. He summoned assistance and the coroner was notified, and after an investigation it was concluded that death was due to a fractured skull, and that an inquest was unnecessary.

Mrs. Scott had for some time been crippled with rheumatism, and it is presumed that some detail of her house work took her to the head of the stairs where she lost her balance and fell, her skull being crushed by contact with the concrete wall at the bottom.

The remains were brought to this city Tuesday morning, and after a brief funeral service at the home of her son E. O. Scott, were laid to rest in Longview cemetery. The profusion of beautiful floral tributes attested the esteem gained by a life of love and kindness. A gentle spirit has passed on, one who contributed largely to the sum of human happiness during a useful life.

Mrs. Mandana J. Scott was born in Wayne county, Ohio, on May 20th, 1855. She is survived by one daughter, four sons and two brothers. The youngest son and daughter made their home in Lincoln with her, the oldest son, C. O. Scott, is a resident of Spokane, Washington, the second lives in this city, the third S. W. Scott in Youngstown, Ohio.

The sons from Ohio and Washington were unable to attend the funeral. The daughter and son from Lincoln are still guests in the home of their brother here, and Miss Addie Duermeyer, friend of the family who accompanied them, returned to Lincoln this morning.

The children have tenderest sympathy in the death of their mother.
