AUGUST POOR

What a wonderful precinct Ohio precinct is. No precinct in the county has land of greater value. No where in the county are farms better kept than they are in old Ohio. No criminal cases come from this precinct and very few civil cases. Its schools pay the highest salaries to teachers and the delinquent tax list shows less than one hundred dollars from this precinct. If there is a precinct in the county that can make a better showing we will gladly announce it if you will but call it to our attention.

We think it was a Roman philosopher who said you can tell which dog you hit by the yelp.

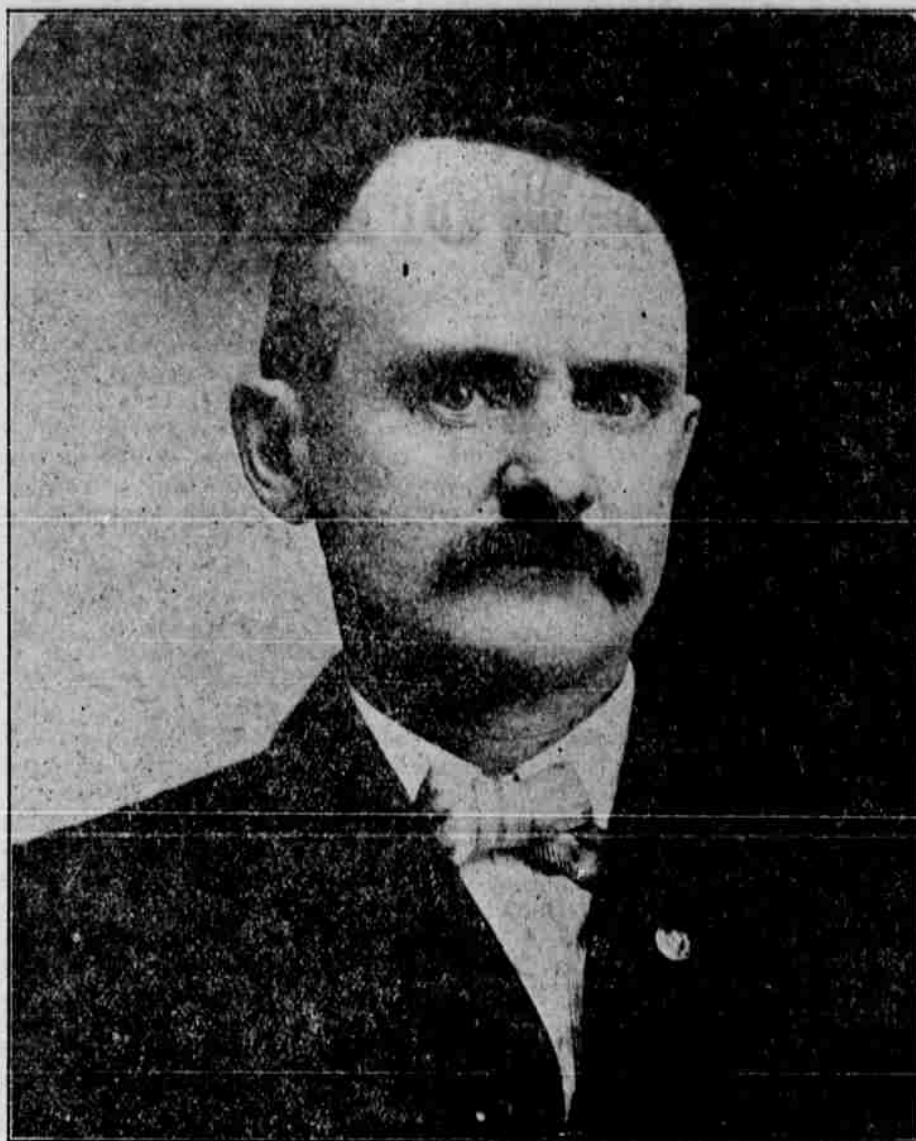

Under and by virtue of the provisions of the new revenue law there has been paid in Richardson County more than forty thousand dollars in delinquent taxes. When the levy is put down where it should be and where it will be next year, the taxes will be lower than they have been for years. It is already estimated that the new law will produce enough revenue from the collection of delinquent taxes alone to pay the state debt. The time will come when the republican party will point to the law as one of its greatest achievements, and when the carping critic of today will acknowledge his mistake.

Through an unfortunate oversight the bills announcing the candidates meetings this week do not contain the name of George Smith. A meeting of the candidates without George Smith would be about as satisfactory as the play of Hamlet with Hamlet left out. Uncle George's name will be on the ballot however and his army of friends will all find it. Our George (Smith) will defeat the democratic George (Carpenter) so badly that the race will prove uninteresting.

We venture the assertion that not one half of the lawyers in Richardson county know the democratic candidate for county attorney by sight. Do the taxpayers of this county want their legal affairs to be entrusted to a man who not only has never had a case in the district court, but has never been in the court room during a term of court. W. H. Morrow stands high as a lawyer of ability and respectability. He has had business at every term of the district court for years. He will serve the people with fidelity and painstaking care. In a matter of such great importance party lines should be obliterated and every voter cast his vote for Morrow.

The News of last week frankly admitted that the drainage scheme of R. E. Grinstead is feasible and that it would reclaim the bottom lands. It seemed to think however, that the owners of bottom land are more interested in the revenue law than they are in the reclamation of their land. The land along the Nemaha and Muddy bottoms is today not worth $30.00 per acre, in fact there is no market for such land because of its susceptibility to overflows. This land is as rich as the valley of the Nile. It will raise anything the climatic conditions will permit, and if the overflows could be eliminated would be worth from eighty to one hundred dollars per acre. If there is a bottom land owner who would forego this reclamation in order to repeal a law that may increase his taxes three or four dollars for the first year, he should be visited by the insane commission without delay. Grinstead's idea will prevent the overflows. It has been successful wherever tried and the News admits its feasibility.

ALGERNON GALUSHA.

The above portrait is an excellent likeness of the republican candidate for secretary of state. Richardson county is peculiarly interested in his candidacy. He will succeed a Richardson county man (George W. Marsh.) He has visited Falls City several times and is very generally acquainted with our people, which fact, taken in connection with the fact that the Richardson county delegation to the state convention, at Fred W. Miller's suggestion, participated very materially in a movement which resulted in his nomination, gives Richardson county republicans an unusual interest in his success. The following is taken from the Seward, Blade.

"An old Seward county boy who has made his mark in the world and although he is at present a citizen of Red Cloud, Neb., yet we feel that Seward county has a right to claim him as we sent him out to battle with the world in his young manhood.

Al, as we all learned to call him, was born at Franklin Falls, New York, July 29th, 1859, but moved at the age of eight to Lawrenceville, same state, where he was educated in the academy. He struck the great western which led him to Seward in 1882, where he clerked in a store and gained many friends who well remember him as a bright young man of good character and very attentive to business.

In 1886 he went to Red Cloud and was for many years engaged in the mercantile business, but is at present traveling as a salesman, and although he has just been nominated by the State Republican convention to be their standard bearer for Secretary of State, instead of traversing the state looking for votes, he is attending strictly to his employer's business, and we judge the people will recognize that important fact.

Mr. Galusha is an honorable member of the Masonic order Blue Lodge No. 53, at Red Cloud, also of chapter No. 19 and Cyrene Commanery No. 14. He is a member of the A. O. U. W. No. 60 at his home, is a member of the Grand lodge and secretary of the finance committee.

If the Journal is so concerned over the endowment of a bed at the Mercy hospital by the city, and really desires to see the local governments, city and county, husband their resources, we would suggest that the county attorney return his two years salary for which he has given no equivalent.

W. H. Hogrefe is one of the most progressive and able business men in Richardson County. He has had legislative experience. He knows the needs of his people and will make those requirements his first object. The people of this county need strong, earnest, able men like Mr. Hogrefe in the legislature. A vote for him is a vote for an intelligent and conservative legislator.
