Governor Asks: Answer Those Seal Letters

During the Midwest Governor's Conference held in Omaha last week, Governor Morrison took time out to remind fellow Nebraskans to answer their Christmas Seal letters. They were mailed out by the Nebraska Tuberculosis Association on Nov. 15.

"Christmas Seals are far more than a holiday expression of seasons greetings. They are a traditional reminder of how fortunate we are to be blessed with good health," the Governor said.

"Most of the time we take this for granted until we ourselves, members of our families, or our friends become ill. It takes a special holiday like Thanksgiving to make us pause and reflect on this. But the Christmas Seal theme, 'Health Is A Many Splendored Thing—Keep It So,'—tells us how we can show our concern for better health in the entire community."

Governor Morrison said the tuberculosis association, which is the nation's oldest voluntary health organization, has saved millions of lives through the Christmas Seal campaign.

Combined with their efforts to eradicate tuberculosis, TB workers are now attacking another extremely serious community health problem—other respiratory diseases, which are the principal cause of loss of time from school and work. These include hay fever, asthma, pneumonia, emphysema, and all diseases which damage the lungs or hinder breathing.

The tuberculosis association said that ninety-three cents of every dollar raised in Nebraska, will remain in the state for community programs of detection and medical education and research, as well as provide rehabilitation aids for hospitalized tuberculosis patients.
