GEO. TAYLOR CAUGHT

HELP MURDER THE MEEKS FAM-ILY IN MISSOURI.

Escaped from Jail While Under Sentence to Hang-Crime One of the Most Brutal in the History of the State.

Meeks' Murderer Caught. George Taylor, wanted in Carroll County, Mo., for the murder of Gus Meeks' family, is believed to be under arrest at Hanford, Cal. He was identified by B. F. Lane, a witness against him on his trial in Missouri. Taylor refuses to talk.

The murder of the Meeks was one of the most atrocious crimes ever committed in Missouri. On the morning of May 11, 1894, the people of Browning, Linn County, were startled by the discovery of the bodies of Gus Meeks, his wife and two small children in a straw stack in George E. Taylor's corn field, four miles southeast of that place. Nellie Meeks, aged 8 years, who had been struck on the head and left for dead recovered consciousness early in the morning and she told the story of the crime. George Taylor and his brother, W. P. Taylor, fled and did not return until after their capture by Jerry South of Buffalo City, Ark., two months later.

The brothers on trial were convicted of the crime and sentenced to be hanged on April 30, 1896. They were confined in Carrolltown, Mo., jail and on April 11, 1896, made their escape along with another man charged with the crime of murder. Bill Taylor was soon retaken and at 10:58 on the morning of April 30 was hanged in the jail yard at Carrolltown. The Taylor brothers were wealthy at the time of the Meeks slaughter, and among other interests they conducted a bank at Browning.

Senate Adopts the International Monetary Conference Bill.

WOLCOTT MEASURE PASSED.

By the decisive vote of 46 to 4 the national senate on the 29th passed the bill for the appointment of commissioners to an international money conference. The closing of debate brought on several notable speeches, including those of Senator Hoar of Massachusetts, Senator Vilas of Wisconsin, Senator Jones of Arkansas, Senator Allison of Iowa and Senator Carter of Montana. It disclosed that little opposition existed to the bill, the only division being as to the expediency of seeking bimetallism through international agreement. As voicing the general view on the democratic side of the chamber, Senator Jones favored the adoption of the measure exactly as republican senators desired, in order that the responsibility might be theirs. Senator Hoar expressed the conviction that the four great nations-the United States, Great Britian France and Germany-were fast and inevitably tending toward a bimetallic agree-

An outline of the plans of the Chinese government in the direction of the construction and replacement of the navy destroyed and captured by the Japanese during the late war has reached the navy department through a report from Commander F. M. Barber (retired), who was invited to address the Chinese Tsung-Li-Yamen, or imperial council, last fall upon the feasibility of securing ships in the United States. He was informed that China proposes to reconstruct her navy and become a first class naval power in ten years. The bay of Kia Chow, on the south side of Shang Tung, is to be thoroughly dredged and fortified for a great naval depot, and the arsenal at Foo Chow is to be reorganized and enlarged under French engineers so as to be capable of constructing modern vessels of war of all types.

Krueger Is Indignant.

A dispatch to the London Telegraph says that after the interview between J. B. Robinson, the millionaire mine owner. and President Krueger, of the Transvaal republic, the correspondent of the Telegraph handed the president a copy of the cabled report of the speech of the Hon. Joseph Chamberlain in parliament, when the discussion of the question of the appointment of a commission to inquire into the troubles in South Africa were renewed. After reading the speech carefully, President Krueger rose and with a show of great indignation, giving his hearers the impression of a lion at bay, exclaimed: "Let them come if they want to take my country."

TO SUCCEED WEYLER

HIS SUCCESSOR SAID TO HAVE BEEN NAMED.

Senor Azcarrago to Be the New Governor General of Cuba-American Prisoners on the Island Are Also to Be Released.

To Succeed Weyler.

A Madrid dispatch announcing the appointment of Weyler's successor as governor general of Cuba is considered in Washington as absolutely authentic. A week ago Senor de Lome communicated to Secretary Olney that Senor Azcarrago had been tendered this position, but no definite action had been taken.

All American citizens now in prison in Cuba as suspects will, with few exceptions, be given their release some time during the coming week.

This information, it is said, has also been conveyed to the state department by the Spanish legation. The whole Competitor crew, it is understood, is included in the amnesty, and there is a possibility that Gen. Julio Sanguilly and Louis Somellirn may also be freed.

The state department has for some time been conducting correspondence with the Spanish authorities negotiating for the releases of the imprisoned American citizens. The department has impressed the fact upon the Spanish government that if it would release the imprisoned citizens it would go a long way toward allaying the feeling of the United States toward Spanish rule in Cuba. State department officials have been confident that they could persuade the Spanish government to take this view of the situation, and they, it is said, have succeeded at last.

Extra Session Will Not Consider Any Other Legislation. Chairman Dingley, of the ways and means committee of the national house of representatives has outlined the program of the administration at the extra session of congress. Said he:

There will be no general legislation during the extra session. President McKinley will call congress in extraordinary session, for the specific purpose of passing a revenue bill. When we meet in March the bill will be ready to present to the house, and it will be passed within thirty days and sent to the senate. Nothing else will be done by the house. We will adjourn from day to day, or take three days' adjournments, according to the provision of the constitution. The eyes of the country will be on the senate alone. The house will not consider pension bills nor enter into any general legislation. We will simply remain nominally in session until the senate reaches a conclusion on the revenue bill, and then the measure will go into a conference, where it will be perfected in a manner to suit both houses of congress. I do not believe that the senate will force a long session when nothing is under consideration except the tariff bill.

R. J. DUN & CO.'S REVIEW.

Says January Has Been a Mon Disappointment.

Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of R. Trade says: January has been a month of disappointment, but of real gain. Wheat has declined severely; cotton has scarcely risen enough to pay brokerage; wool holds steady in spite of enormous buying; woolen goods hardly change in price; iron and its product decline; leather is sluggish, hides are lower, for some shoe manufacturers accept a shade lower prices; the average of railroad stocks is slightly lower than it was December, 31, and the advance in trust stocks has been small. To traders in such properties the month has been disappointing. Yet during the past week the record shows that ten iron works have started, and only two have stopped; thirteen woolen works have started, and nine more are about ready to start, while three have stopped. Similar things are seen in other industries and the additional establishments are not starting without some increase in orders received.

NEWS OF THE WEEK IN A CON-DENSED FORM.

The Magnificent Coach Shop of the B. & M. Railroad at Plattsmouth Destroyed by Fire-One Employe Killed While Fighting the Fire.

Bad Fire at Plattsmouth.

Plattsmouth was visited on the evening of the 25th by one of the most disastrous of the above description at the places fires that the city has ever been afflicted mentioned. with, and the magnificent brick coach shop of the B. & M. railroad was turned into a pile of ashes in less than an hour.

It was just 8 o'clock when John Segraves, one of the night watchmen in the shops, discovered flames. His efforts to subdue them were futile, unfortunately, and with his clothing on fire he rushed out to sound the alarm. A fire brigade was organized and the men worked heroically. They were fighting for the company's property as though for their lives and their exertions and well directed efforts saved the paint shop and thousands of dollars' worth of property. About seventy-five men were employed in the coach shop, and all of them have lost their tools, some of the kits being very expensive. The total loss to the company is estimated at $139,000.

The fire was attended with one fatality. George Fletcher, assistant foreman in the freight car shops, being the unfortunate victim. He was picked up insensible near the planing mill and carried to General Foreman Help's office, when life was found to be extinct. The doctor examined the body, but beyond a slight abrasion over the right eye no bruise or injury was found. It is believed that his excitement and distress affected his heart to such an extent as to stop its functions. The deceased was about 46 years old, was a member of the Burlington Volunteer Relief Department and leaves a daughter 18 years of age.

ASSAULT ON FRED WEIS.

John Wideroder Winds Up a Spree in a Dangerous Way.

John Wilderoder is in jail at Fremont on a charge of assault, which may develop into something more serious. He accumulated a good sized jag, and went into Fred Weis' store and sold him a second-hand overcoat. After paying for the coat Weis sat down near the stove. Wilderoder seriously hurt, and walked to Dr. Devries' office to have the wound dressed. He had a scalp wound about an inch and a half long and the doctor fears that concussion of the brain will follow. When Wilderoder was taken to the city jail he set fire to his mattress, and later tried to hang himself with a rope made from tearing up a quilt, but lost his nerve when he began to choke, and got on his feet again. Wilderoder says he is sorry he didn't take better

War on High Hats.

The city council of Lincoln has instructed the city attorney to draft an ordinance prehibiting the use of enormous headgear; in places of amusement. The following introduced by Councilman Webster, were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the city attorney be instructed to draft an ordinance similar to the measure adopted by the city of Chicago, prohibiting the wearing of headgear

Little discussion followed the reading of the resolutions, but it appeared the uanimous sense of the council that theater goers, after paying as high as $1.50 for tickets, should have the privileges they have bought. Commandant Culver Resigns.

The resignation of Commandant J. H. Culver of the Milford Soldiers' and Sailors" Home has been filed with Land Commissioner Wolfe of the board of public lands and buildings. The resignation takes effect on March 31 next. Commandant Culver states that this date is fixed as being the most canvenient period to make the change, as all government and state reports may be closed, and under existing circumstances will be most favorable to his successor. At a late meeting of the board of public lands and buildings it had been determined that Commandant Fowler's term should begin on February 1. In the damage suit at Beatrice of David Nehr against John A. Dobbs, the jury awarded the plaintiff damages in the sum of $425, which, of course, throws the costs upon the defendant. The Dobbs-Nehr dog case, as it is known, has become famous in Gage County. Nehr shot and killed a valuable dog owned by Dobbs, for which he was arrested, tried, convicted and sentenced to one day in the county jail, which sentence he served. The case was taken to the supreme court and re-

If there is no will the estate will be divided among the heirs, twenty-nine in number.

Hopes to Save His Neck.

A motion for a re-hearing in the case of Millionaire Arthur Duestrow of St. Louis, Mo., convicted of the murder of his wife and child, and sentenced to hang, has been filed in division No. 1 of the supreme court at Jefferson City. Action on the motion will probably not be taken for two weeks. The motion makes the declaration that the members of the division of the court deciding the appeal did not examine the record in the case as required by an express statute of this state, but overlooked it altoentirety. The fight must be made over, gether, with questions based upon it duly prescribed by the appellant's counsel.

This policy I have pursued to the end, and because the people were in favor of the bill I signed it. Of the merits of the argument made against the bill I have nothing to say. Company to Go to Cuba.

Dr. C. H. Bulson, late of the National Guard of California, where he held the rank of major, is gathering a company of men in San Francisco to help the Cubans. Bulson is said to be acting under a commission from Gen. Colby of Nebraska, who is stated to be at the head of the American-Cuban volunteers. Bulson admitted that he had thirty or forty volunteers and wanted sixty-eight. He said he hoped to leave in a few weeks for Tampa or Jacksonville, Fla., to embark with the rest of the Cuban volunteers for the scene of the war. He said he was not organizing a military company as it was against the law, but the volunteers would all take passage for Florida together nominally as private citizens.

The new board of purchase and supplies held its first meeting on the 30th at Lincoln in the office of Land Commissioner Wolfe. The meeting was a special one. and was called to consider the guestion of coal supplies for the state house and some of the state institutions. It appears that in January last, the old board let contracts for coal for the penitentiary, hospital for the, insane at Lincoln and capitol building to the Whitebreast Coal company, and the Sheridan Coal company. Since that time it has been learned that the officers of the asylum and penitentiary could buy the same quality of coal in the open market for 25 per cent. less per ton than was charged by the contractors with the state. These contracts have some time to run yet. The old contracts were annulled and bids asked to supply coal for the remainder of the quarter.
