J. A. Fike, of Valentine, and E. L. Myers, of Newport, stopped off at Ainsworth Wednesday afternoon on business.—Ainsworth Home Kite.
Walter Meltendorf's house is rapidly approaching completion, and when finished Walter will have one of the neatest residence properties in town.
John Snyder has moved his horse onto the lot south of the livery barn and built a 12x12 addition thereon. This gives him a neat little residence.

Miss Jessie E. King of Gordon is visiting with Kate and Wren Donohoe while on her way home from the conservatory of music at Lincoln.

C. W. Wilkins, of Spencer, Iowa, has been in town this week looking after business matters. He is closing up some deals entered into by the late W. H. H. Clark.

The mandolin club of Fort Niobrara is an excellent musical organization, and that combined with local talent will make the concert of May 19 a distinct success.

C. W. White left for his place at Norfolk Sunday morning. Mrs. White and family following yesterday. Many friends in Valentine will regret their departure.

J. A. Carroll and family have moved into the Ludwig property near the Presbyterian church and are "keeping house" once more. Miss Childs is boarding with them.

Ira Richardson and Jas. Gillaspie were up from Kennedy Monday and went to Rushville the same night to appear for the state in the prosecution of a cattle stealing case.

Chas. H. Hille, of the firm of Owen & Hille, contractors and builders, of Minneapolis, was in town Monday and Tuesday went to the reservation to inspect the school buildings.

John Neiss was over from his ranch on the reservation Monday and caused J. O. Vincent to "blow" himself for the treats on an old practical joke. Don't say anything about it to Vincent.

Bishop Anson R. Graves will conduct services at the Episcopal church Sunday, May 23, morning and evening and will administer the confirmation rite to those wishing to join the church.

At a meeting of the trustees and members of the Presbyterian church last week, it was decided to build a parsonage. Messdames Quigley, Barker and Ludwig were appointed a committee to solicit funds.

C. H. Cornell is building a neat 16x24 frame building on the lot east of his building on Virginia street, to be used as a workshop and laboratory. We are empowered to deny the report that the Senator is to be married.

The Georgia University Graduates, a minstrel company of 25 people, will appear at Cornell Hall tomorrow, Friday evening. This troupe of fun-makers comes to us highly recommended and should receive good patronage.

Remember the entertainment given under the auspices of St. John's Guild at Cornell Hall May 19. The mandolin club of Fort Niobrara will furnish part of the program. Seats for sale at the usual price at Watson's drug store.

C. R. Watson started for Wisconsin Tuesday morning to visit his parents near Green Bay. He will be gone two or three weeks. Ye editor is in charge of the weather bureau during his absence, so look out for cyclones and such things.

Patrick Ormsby and Nora O'Donnell were to have been married at Chadron last Wednesday, but Pat refused to buy a new suit of clothes for the ceremony or hire a carriage to haul the girl to church so the affair was at the last moment declared off.

W. G. Ballard was up from his ranch at Wood Lake Monday on business. Mr. Ballard is one of the men we always like to see come to town, and our merchants are always better off for his visits. He brought news of Henry Ballard's recovery from his recent illness.

W. E. Haley and Ed. Clark, two legal lights from Valentine, stopped in Springview Tuesday night while on their way to Butte.—Keya Paha Call.
Postmaster Haley will be "all puffed up" when he learns that he is now entitled to the distinction of being called a "legal light."

Prof. J. O. Beatty and T. A. Jeffers will hold a musical convention here commencing with Saturday night. Prof. Jeffers comes to Valentine highly recommended as an instructor and in connection with Mr. Beatty should give entire satisfaction to our people. The convention will last 10 nights.

EDITORIAL WEDDING

ROBERT GOOD AND MISS IVA M. DAVISSON

Daughter of the Longpine Republican Journal Editor, were Married on April 28—Description of the Affair by the Papers.

One of the happiest events of the season occurred Wednesday evening, April 28, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Davison, the occasion being the marriage of their daughter Iva to Mr. Robert Good.

Miss Davison has been a resident of Longpine for a number of years and is one of our most highly esteemed young ladies. Mr. Good is a resident of Valentine, Nebr., where he is editor and proprietor of the VALENTINE DEMOCRAT, and to his host of friends in Valentine and in Longpine he needs no introduction.

A large number of guests were assembled at the appointed hour and at fifteen minutes past eight Miss Brownlee was seated at the piano and began to play the wedding march. The guests arose to greet the wedding procession which was led by Miss Mae Davison as bridesmaid and Mr. W. S. Jackson, of Valentine, as groomsmen, followed by the bride and bridegroom. The party proceeded to the parlor where Rev. J. H. Andress performed the marriage ceremony and pronounced the contracting parties husband and wife.

The bride was beautifully dressed in white. Her dress was of white silk trimmed with lace, and her gloves and slippers were of white kid. Orange buds adorned her hair and a beautiful bunch of bride's roses were in her hand. Altogether the vision was one fair to see. The bridegroom was faultlessly attired in black, and the two looked as happy as one could well desire to be. The groomsmen was also perfectly dressed, while the bridesmaid's apparel put us in some doubt, whether there might not be some mistake as to which daughter was the bride.

After the ceremony was concluded and congratulations extended, refreshments were served and a social time was enjoyed by all. Mr. and Mrs. Good left on the night train for Valentine where they will make their future home. A number of their friends accompanied them to the depot and generously contributed copious showers of rice as an expression of their good will. A large number of beautiful and costly presents were received of which we failed to secure a list. Those present were:

Hon. J. A. Fike, W. S. Jackson and Miss Edna Fischer, of Valentine.
Miss Sadie Dewey, Wood Lake.
J. V. Berkley, F. L. Coffey, Miss Louie Miller, Miss Rose Robinson, of Ainsworth.
Miss Louie Richmond, of Johnston.
Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Good, of Butte.
Mrs. Dr. E. P. Green, of Denver, Colo.
John H. Andress, Misses Aaron Mason, May Stevens, Jess Whitmore, Bertie Bowalee, Kate Mygatt, Maud Lowe and Messrs and Mesdames Andrew Lowe, H. P. McKnight, Geo. A. Davidson, Otto Berger, J. C. Castle, J. A. Nay, F. B. Mygatt, Fred Whittemore, E. O. Deland, of Longpine.
—J. H. Andress in Republican Journal.

MARRIED:—Wednesday evening, April 28th at the home of the bride's parents in Longpine, Miss Iva Davison to Mr. Robert Good, of Valentine. The bride is one of Longpine's handsomest and most attractive young ladies and well known in this place. Mr. Good is at present editor and publisher of the VALENTINE DEMOCRAT, a prosperous newspaper in our neighboring city. The happy couple have a bright and prosperous future before them as the Star-Journal confidently believes.—Ainsworth Star-Journal.

Robert Good, of the VALENTINE DEMOCRAT, and Miss Iva Davison, of Longpine, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony in Longpine, Wednesday night, April 28, 1897, at 8 o'clock. The Home Rule wishes them a happy, prosperous and blessed journey through life.—Home Rule.

Robert Good, a former resident of this place, publisher of the VALENTINE DEMOCRAT and Miss Iva M. Davison, of Longpine, were married Wednesday, April 28, 1897. The Republican hastens to extend congratulations to the happy couple wishing them a life of unadulterated joy and much prosperity a la McKinley.—Newport Republican.

Robert Good, of this city, and Miss Iva M. Davison, of Longpine, were married at 8:00 o'clock Wednesday evening, April 28, 1897, at the home of the bride's parents, the Rev. John Andress performing the marriage ceremony in an impressive manner in the presence of a large circle of invited guests. W. S. Jackson, of this city, acted as best man and Miss E. Mae Davison, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid.

The bride is one of the most highly respected and accomplished young ladies of Longpine and while she comes to Valentine a stranger she will receive a warm reception that will make her feel at home and a stranger no longer.

BOND ELECTION

The bond election passed off quietly Tuesday, a very light vote being cast. Up to the hour of going to press all precincts but three have been heard from and the bonds have a majority of 80 votes, with a fair prospect of winning out. A queer thing happened this morning. Returns from a certain precinct were brought in and the carrier reported 47 votes against the proposition and none for, yet at the general election last fall the total vote of the precinct was 42! This is the only precinct casting as large a vote as was counted last fall.

Time-Witkinson.
If all went well, at Kennedy last evening Frank Kime and Miss Irene Wilkinson were married. A big dance and supper was to have followed the nuptials, and many guests were invited. Frank is one of Cherry County's most popular young ranchmen, and the bride is well and favorably known to large numbers of our people. THE DEMOCRAT wishes the couple much happiness, and hopes they will have a long and prosperous life.
