Novel Trip to Boston

The "Railroad Social" at Cornell Hall last Saturday night, given by the Epworth League, was an unqualified success, over a hundred young people being present and making the trip to Boston with stops at Ainsworth, Longpine, Fremont, Omaha, Chicago, Cleveland, Buffalo and Saratoga. After the end of the journey was reached, all were served with Boston beans, brown bread, pickles, wafers and "kofe," and a few games were indulged in. In the conversation match Judge Walcott and Mabel Towne demonstrated their ability and were awarded the first prize, and the "booby," a musical popgun, was presented to Mr. Danielson and Miss Fisher. It is said that Danielson has been "popping" to everybody he meets, ever since.

Curly Huggins Loses a Roll

Curly Huggins, a stockman from the reservation, came through here on his way east, Tuesday, to buy some blooded stock, was entertained by our gentle zephyrs that evening to the tune of $175. He had the money tied up in a wad, when a gust of wind dived down in his pocket while near the depot, and sent that roll of money to the four quarters of the globe, or some other place out of reach. When a Nebraska zephyr starts in to do a job it would just as leave turn a man inside out as not. However, Mr. Huggins philosophically checked on the Norden bank and proceeded on his way. It's pretty tough, though.—Ainsworth Journal.

Freight Train Wrecked

East bound freight No. 26 picked up nine cars of ice here, Saturday evening, and left town about five hours late. When about a mile this side of Ainsworth a broken flange on the rear truck of one of the cars made the car jump the track and a general smashup resulted. Eight cars of coal and ice were piled up on and along the track, and as a result west bound passenger No. 3 arrived in Valentine about 15 hours late and east of the wreck No. 4 was 7 hours behind her schedule. Fortunately no one was injured, but several thousand dollars' worth of property was destroyed.

WOW's Will Organize

C. L. Peck, organizer for the Woodmen of the World, has succeeded in obtaining, up to date, 24 members for the camp which will be organized here next Monday night, by which time it is thought not less than 30 applications will be in. Many of our most prominent business men are interested in this work, and the camp will start in fine shape. It is every man's duty to carry insurance for the benefit of his wife, his children or his parents, and there is no time like the present to start. By entering the lodge as a charter member the fees are materially reduced.

New Brands

Mike Boltz, of Nenzel, and George Hevne, of Hoepo, recognizing the value of a brand advertisement in this paper, this week present their newly registered state brands to our readers. Every stockman in the northwest should follow their example, as an ad in this paper is worth double one in any other paper.
