We want to add 1,000 new subscribers to our paper before New Year's, and we are going to do it if a liberal offer will count for anything. We have just closed arrangements with the publishers of that great farm paper The Prairie Farmer of Chicago, for a limited number of yearly subscriptions, and we propose to give it one year free to every one of our old ubscribers who will renew between now and New Year's; and we will give it one year free to every new subscriber who gets to his order to us before New Year's, paying one year in a lvance. The Prairie Farmer is the oldest farm and live stook paper published in the Westera states. It comes weekly, and contains from sixteen to twenty pages, and has departments for all members of the household. This great farm paper is now read by 100,000 farmers, stockmen, dairymen and fruit-growers in the western and central states, and it is considered the old standby by its readers. You know what our own paper is and we vouch that you will be pleased with The Prairie Farmer. Certainly we will never be able to make such an offer again. Think of it. Demand for Copper

In our last issue, attention was called to the great growth of copper production. This production, however has not equalled the demand, which is so great that all reserve products in this country and in Europe are exhausted. Notwithstanding the great increase in the price of copper during the past two years, the production has increased but about 10 per cent per annum and the consumption in a greater ratio, resulting in the complete exhaustion of reserves as stated. The capacity of the great copper mines of the lake and other regions of the United States are taxed to their ut most. There is immediately south of us, in our neighboring Republic of Mexico, some of the greatest copper deposits in the world-rich in silver, and gold, too-they are being rapidly absorbed by American and foreign capital, many million dollars having been invested therein within the past two years: The superior advantages that Mexico affords for profitable mining are becoming known and appreci ated. In the richest part of the copper belt of Mexico, the Mines of El Progreso Copper Mining Company, whose advertisement appears in this issue, are situated. In the line of profitable investment nothing better could be desired, and as the company's policy is not to limit investments to there others aspiring to newspaper large sums, but rather to invite the cofame at Cody? The field is open for operation of all, it is hoped that many will avail themselves of the opportun ity presented.
