OSCILLATING EYES.

A Rare and Peculiar Disease of the Organs of Sight.

DR. SEYMOUR'S INTERESTING TALK.

The Cause and Cure of Sore Eyes, Styes "Twitching" Eyes; Glasses the Proper Remedy.

The reporter who has been so suc cessful in securing so many interesting letters and interviews from Dr Seymour, asked some questions on his own account, which Dr. Seymour very kindly consented to answer. What are the different troubles which you treat with glasses, besides failing vision?" "Fitting glasses to improve the sight," remarked the doctor, "is only a portion of my work. Besides straightening cross-eyes, there are many other allments, such as sore squinting, nervous troubles, headache, neuralgia, weak eyes, oscillating or twitching eyes, properly termed nyestagmus; in fact, there are very few eye troubles which cannot be treated directly by the use of proper glasses." "What are oscillating eyes? This is not as common as many of the other complaints I have mentioned, but I will describe a patient brought to me recently and tell you how his trouble can be secured. A little boy 10 years old was brought into my office not long ago, whose eyes, besides being crossed, continually twitched or oscillated. This, his mother ex-plained to me, had been their condition since he was a very small child, and although she had consulted many physicians she has been informed that nothing could be done for him." "Can you cure this with glasses?" "Yes," said Dr. Seymour. "This is the only remedy that can be applied which is sure to improve this condition. Unlike the majority of cross-eyed children, the eyes in this case turned out. In fact, the child used but one eye and by acquaintances was considered near-sighted, whereas the majority of cross-eyed children are far-sighted. This continual twitching is due to a deformity of the eye-ball, which does not refract the light correctly and the continual movement is necessary to relieve the retina of this diffusion of light, which is painful and if allowed to rest in one spot would injure the sensitive tissues which receive the image. The cause of this trouble is not generally understood, as cases of this kind are rare, and like many other eye deformities, is apt to be attributed to a nervous condition caused by a sudden fright. The treatment for this trouble consists in perfecting the sight and bringing the light to a proper focus, which invariably re-lieves this tension, and the patient steadily improves." "In what manner can sore eyes be cured?" was the next question. "This can be answered best in a general way; sore eyes, unless due to blood dis-orders, usually originate in straining of the sight, the eyeball first becoming strained from overtaxation and M. D. Tyler cause a chronic condition which may the inflammation extending to the lids result in granulated lids or chronic sore eyes. Glasses not only relieve the cause, but act as a protection, and, strange to say, even styes, which are source of great annoyance to some people, can in many cases be entirely cured. I think it is safe to say that three out of four patients coming to me with this complaint have been entirely relieved simply by wearing the proper glasses and using simple home

> "Why have you discontinued the use of drugs so universally used in your work?" "Because I think the eye should be treated as an optical instrument, and that nine-tenths of all disorders are due directly or indirectly to the abuse of this instrument. In my work there is a definite science which brings definite results, while in medical treatment the relief afforded is apt to be but temporary and in the majority of cases the treatment is speculative. Glasses properly and scientifically fitted are never injurious and there is positively no experiment on the part of a scientific specialist in this line. All results promised are sure to be obtained, provided the man who makes them thoroughly understands the principles upon which his science is based. I confess myself exclusively to the eye and its treatment > in this manner, after having many years of experience in all branches of this work, and I feel that my success justifies me in commending this method to all thoughtful people who are subject to eye troubles."

A Labor of Love.

Dr. W. I. Seymour, the Omaha eye specialist, who intends to visit this city in the near future, has had great success among cross-eyed children. This is a labor of love with Dr. Seymour, as there is nothing that appeals more to him than the sight of a child growing up with cross-eyes, which he has demonstrated over and over again can be entirely corrected by the proper treatment if taken before it is too late. The parents of such afflicted little ones will miss a great opportunity if they fail to consult the doctor during his

It is the simple result of unceasing labor; unremitting study and unswerving devotion to a well chosen specialty, coupled with an in domitable determination to master his profession in all its details, simple and complex. These are the forces which have combined to make him the foremost optician of his day. Imitators and pretenders, by seeking to copy his methods and by subterfuge and inuendo in the form of their ad vertising, endeavor to mislead the public by a comparison of price between their work and his, but it ends in a dismal failure, like the glasses they so often misapply.

KIDNAPERS ON TRIAL

Carrie Jones Pleads Guilty and Will Testify Against Barrow.

New York, June 15 .- The trial of George Beauregard Barrow for kidnaping Marion Clark, the 20-months-old child of Arthur Clark, and who was found at New City, was begun yesterday before Justice Fursman. At the request of Mr. Howe, Barrow's attorney, Mrs. Barrow will be permitted to sit by the side of her husband during the trial.

Before Barrow's case was called Abraham Levy asked that his client, Carrie Jones, be called to the bar. She at once enteted a plea of guilty. Mr. Levy said that his client was repentant and would throw herself upon the mercy of the court. He asked that she be remanded for sentence and this was done. The girl will be called as a witness against the Barrows.

Forty Thousand Men Will Be Made Idle Unless Differences Are Not Soon Adjusted-Almost Every Industry In the State Affected-To Test Eight-Hour Law.

DENVER, June 15 .- The anticipated strike at the smelters in Denver, Pueblo and Leadville, owned by the Americau Smelting and Refining company began yesterday. State Labor Commissioner Smith estimates that 40,000 men employed in the mining and smelting industry of Colorado will be thrown out of employment if the differences between the smelter owners and their employes are not soon adjusted.

> Kansas Strikers Excited. PITTSBURG, June 15.-Excitement was caused among the striking union miners at Yale yesterday by rumors of the coming of a trainload of negroes, said to the mines. Before daylight a crowd of probably 1,000 union miners assembled at Yale. They patrolled the Missouri Pacific tracks for two miles on either side of the mines and stopped several trains, which were searched for the expected negroes. The reported coming of the negroes caused the miners to quit the Frontenac, Pittsburg and Midway mines. These mines had been operated regularly since the beginning of the strike. No negroes have appeared,

however, and there has been no disturbance. Thirty-Five Hundred on Strike. Buffalo, June 15 .- Fully 3,500 men are on strike or have quit work along the docks for various reasons, and outside of the elevating of grain no work is being done. The freight handlers held a big meeting last night and decided to remain out until the demand of the Erie housemen for an increase in wages is granted. The ore handlers on the Minnesota docks, who were fired on Tuesday night, did not go to work yesterday, declaring that they were afraid to do so. The ore handlers on the other docks have also refused to continue work until they are guaranteed protection by the police.

CLEVELAND, June 15 .- There has been little change in the street railway strike situation. A serious riot broke out at the railroad crossing on Perkins avenue. Some 5,000 men are employed in the great machine and other shops in that vicinity and a crowd of 500 of these held up five Wade Park avenue cars, blocking tracks and stoning the cars. The small escort of police was powerless against the mob. J. H. Anderson, a non-union motorman, was struck on the head by bricks and seriously injured. Reinforcements of police finally dispersed the mob.
