Every little boy in Norfolk seems to be interested in the show window at Marquardt's jewelry store, where there is a big display of fireworks to be given away free, in front of the store, on the evening of July 3, to boys not over 10 years of age.

THE NEW LABOR LAW.

Female Employees' Hours of Work Limited.

GOES INTO EFFECT JULY FIRST.

Ten Hours a Day, or Sixty Hours a Week as Much as Female Help Shall Labor. Is Not Liabie to be Violated in Norfolk. Seats Must be Provided.

The new state law relative to the employment of female labor, which was passed by the recent legislature, is the cause of much perplexity by those who employ ladies, especially in the larger cities of the state.

Deputy Labor Commissioner Sidney J. Kent is the official upon whom the task of seeing that the law is enforced will devolve.

Mr. Kent seeks to enforce the provisions of the law without having recourse to courts. He hopes to do this by making the law familiar to all and by agreements between employers and employees.

The action recently taken by Norfolk merchants in closing early relieves them from prosecution under the law and it is probable that the labor commissioner would find no violators of the law should he visit Norfolk.

The following is the law, which was known as house roll No. 192, at the time of its passage through the legislature: Section 1. That no female shall be employed in any manufacturing, mechanical or mercantile establishment, hotel or restaurant in this state more than sixty hours during any one week.

Section 2. Every such employer shall post in a conspicuous place in every room where such females are employed a printed notice, stating the number of hours' work required of them each day of the week, the hours of commencing and stopping such work, and the hours when the time or times allowed for dinner or for other meals begins and ends.

Section 3. Every such employer in such establishments shall provide suitable seats for the females so employed, and shall permit the use of such seats by them when they are not necessarily engaged in the active duties for which they are employed.

Section 4. Any employer, overseer, superintendent, or other agent of any such employer who shall violate any of the provisions of this act shall be fined for each offense in a sum not less than $20 nor more than $50; and it is hereby made the duty of the deputy labor commissioner to enforce the provisions of this act.

Beware of Food Samples. Quite recently in New York two deaths occurred from poisoning by the use of powders sent to the victims by mail.

In Leavenworth, Kans., the other day nearly every doctor in town was called to attend the children who had gathered up, eaten and been made ill by samples of an article left at houses by canvassers for advertising purposes.

Alum baking powders have always been favorite articles for this sampling business. Yet there is nothing more liable to lead to danger than the practice of using the various samples of baking powder left at the door.

It is safer to refuse all samples of food or medicine offered at the door. Pure cream of tartar baking powders sell up on their merits, and are never peddled or sampled.
