

BETTER HAVE A CARE.

The Bicycle Ordinance is to be Enforced.

THREE PERSONS BROUGHT UP.

More Arrests Will Be Made If Law is Not Observed—Members of Bicycle Club Interested and Have Been Keeping Tab on Violators—The Ordinance.

From Friday's Daily: People who ride bicycles will soon begin to have some respect for the ordinance regulating the use of wheels in the city and the preliminary steps were taken today to see that its provisions are more closely lived up to.

On account of the privileges given them by the city council, the bicycle club is interested in having the law observed and have taken the trouble to hire a special officer to watch for violators and make complaint to the city authorities.

As a result of this three persons were today advised to appear before the police judge and square themselves before the court. This they did and were assessed a fine of $1 and costs.

It is understood that this is only a starter, providing the law is not more closely observed.

In order to give the people fair notice of the provisions of the law THE NEWS republishes the ordinance in full and all who ride bicycles should make a careful study of it so they may not have reason for complaint should they be brought up short by the officers for its violation:

Ordinance No 244.

An ordinance regulating the use of bicycles on the streets and sidewalks of the city of Norfolk, Nebraska, and providing a penalty for the violation of the provisions of said ordinance.

Be it ordained by the mayor and city council of Norfolk, Nebraska.

Section one. It shall be unlawful for any person to ride a bicycle upon the sidewalks of the city of Norfolk, Nebraska, upon either side of Norfolk avenue between Sixth and First streets.

Section two. It shall be unlawful for persons to ride bicycles more than two abreast upon the streets or sidewalks of the city of Norfolk, Neb., and it shall be unlawful for them to ride at a rate of speed exceeding eight miles per hour.

Section three. It shall be unlawful for any person to ride a bicycle upon the sidewalks of the city of Norfolk, Nebraska, at any time except when the streets of said city of Norfolk are in such condition by reason of rain, snow or other cause that a bicycle cannot be safely ridden thereon. When riding upon the sidewalks as above specified every person upon meeting or passing a pedestrian or person standing upon the sidewalk shall dismount from his or her wheel and shall walk past such pedestrian or person before remounting.

Section four. It shall be unlawful for any person to ride a bicycle within the corporate limits of the city of Norfolk, Nebraska, after it begins to grow dark unless there is attached to the front of said bicycle a lighted bicycle lamp.

Section five. It shall be unlawful for any person to ride a bicycle within the corporate limits of the city of Norfolk, Nebraska, unless there be attached to said bicycle an alarm signal or bell and the same shall be sounded by the person riding the bicycle before crossing a street or crosswalk.

Section six. It shall be the duty of every person riding a bicycle to turn to the right upon meeting any vehicle or pedestrian.

Section seven. Any person violating any of the provisions of this ordinance, shall upon conviction thereof, be fined in any sum not exceeding five dollars and shall be adjudged to pay the costs of the prosecution and may be committed to the city jail of Norfolk, Nebraska, until said fine and costs are paid or until otherwise discharged according to law.

Section eight. All ordinances and parts of ordinances in conflict with this ordinance are hereby repealed.

This ordinance shall be in force on and after its passage and publication according to law.

J. C. SITT, Mayor.

City Clerk.

The lighting of Marquardt's opera house was materially improved last night with the aid of E. M. Norton's acetylene gas machine which he kindly loaned to the entertainment.

The trial of Charles Curtis, colored, on the charge of petty larceny was held before a jury in Judge Hayes' court yesterday afternoon. After hearing the evidence the jury could not reach an agreement and the case was dismissed by the court.

J. Walter Rose writes from Chino, California, to a Norfolk friend that it is oppressively hot there, the thermometer registering 98 and 100 degrees in the shade commonly. Compared with that kind of weather Norfolk people have no cause for complaint on the matter of high temperature.

Madison Chronicle: The city of Norfolk done itself proud this year. There were about 200 people came down Tuesday to give the Great American Eagle bird a send off and this city will always bear the fact in mind, and whenever the opportunity offers we will return the compliment with interest.

Arthur Ahlman is endeavoring to see what can be done toward securing a bicycle meet to last a couple of days during the first of August. If enough interest is shown, the track at the fair grounds will be placed in first class condition and he hopes to secure the attendance of leading professional and amateur riders of the state.

The Davenport, Ia., Democrat finds that the newspapers of the state have been spelling the name of the new president of the state university in different ways, viz., McLean, McLean, McLane, and MacLean. It suggests that one way is enough and states that in the absence of explicit directions from the professor himself the authorized way of writing it is Maclean.

That "central" at the telephone station has no "snap" is an easy conclusion from the record kept yesterday. There were 742 calls answered between 8:10 in the morning and 6:00'clock in the evening. This averages more than 70 an hour during the day and when it is considered that at times they bunch up it may be realized that the operator is kept on the move to keep up.

Sioux City Journal: The Tutti Fruttis returned home yesterday from Randolph, Neb., where Tuesday afternoon they met the Coleridge, Neb., baseball team on the diamond. The Sioux City boys were vanquished by a score of 4 to 3. They say they were beaten all right, however. William Sheeley, of this city, pitched a good game, and William Yager and Frank Bryson did some good work behind the bat.

The Modern Woodmen of Madison county will hold their first annual picnic at Battle Creek Wednesday, July 13. Arrangements have been made to secure one and one-third fare for the round trip. A coach for the special accommodation of those who desire to attend will be attached to the morning freight and will leave the Creighton depot at 7:30, returning at 6:45 in the evening. All Woodmen and the public generally are invited to attend.

It would appear by the following item taken from the Chino Valley Champion of Chino, California, that there is a nucleus for a "Norfolk Club" of no small membership at that town: "A four-in-hand tally-ho conveyed a party from here to Coldwater canyon on Saturday morning, returning Sunday evening. There were in the party Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Pardonner Mr. and Mrs. J. McCoy Williams, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Rose, Mr. and Mrs. Pollock and Miss Pollock of Pomona, Miss Taylor of Ontario, Miss Hamilton, E. C. Hamilton, E. S. Peffer, Roger Williams, Wilson Pardonner and Jeannette Pardonner."

The attendance of citizens at the G. A. R. meeting at the post hall last evening could scarcely be taken to mean that Norfolk people are anxious to entertain the next district reunion of the Grand Army, there not being a person present outside of post members. However, this may be no indication of the sentiment of the people, as several prominent business men have expressed themselves as heartily in favor of the project and it may be that business or social engagements prevented their attendance at the meeting. It is understood that a canvass will be made of the city and individual expressions gleaned as to the desire of the business men and other citizens.

The Norfolk friends of Miss Clare Whyman, who formerly lived here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Whyman, will be glad to hear of her just reward for her studiousness. The pleasing intelligence is gleaned from the Daily Beacon of Aurora, Illinois, where the family now has its home. Under the head "Valuable Reward" the paper says: "Miss Clare Whyman, of Garfield avenue, stood at the head of the graduating class of the West Aurora High School in both daily recitations and examinations, and her reward is a scholarship in the University of Chicago." This university is one of the leading educational institutions of the country and Miss Whyman is indeed to be congratulated. Nebraska people seem to have a way about them that captures anything good in sight.

A good audience attended the third performance of the Festival of Flowers at Marquardt's opera house last evening and were well repaid for doing so. The popular features of the other performances, as usual, elicited praise and applause, while some of the new numbers completely captured the audience. The artistic poses and serpentine dance by Baby Phyllis, the Highland Fling by Miss Grace Spear, the song by Marion Salter, the "jolly waiters from all nations" and the Turkey-Turks were especially pleasing to those in attendance. The reception accorded Miss Nellie Gercke on her reappearance before a Norfolk audience was very enthusiastic and must have been very satisfactory to her. On her appearance the building fairly shook with the demonstration in her honor and at the close of her selection it was if anything more enthusiastic. Her voice is very sweet and the finish which has been given it by the instruction she has received and her hard study and training have made it about perfect as to volume, tone and expression. The distinct utterance of her words are in pleasing contrast with many trained singers' imperfections in that particular. Norfolk may well be proud of Miss Gercke's accomplishments and should she again appear before a home audience it will greatly please a large number of people. Prof. Ludwig Koenigstein rendered the accompaniment to Miss Gercke's selection in a very satisfactory manner.

Freezing Weather in July Would cause great discomfort and loss, but fortunately it is seldom known. A vast amount of misery is caused at this season, however, by impoverished blood, poor appetite and general debility. These conditions may be remedied by enriching the blood and toning the stomach with Hood's Sarsaparilla. This medicine seems to put new life into the whole physical system, simply because of its wonderful power to purify, enrich and vitalize the blood, create an appetite and invigorate the digestive functions. We advise you to get a bottle and try it if you are not feeling just right. It will do you more good than a six week's vacation. It is the best medicine money can buy.

Geo. N. Beels has abandoned the practice of law for the practice of Christian Science healing. His new shingle was hung out to the public this morning.

Rev. and Mrs. Main have returned from the Black Hills, where they have enjoyed an outing of several weeks' duration. Mr. Main will again occupy the pulpit of the M. E. church tomorrow.

Will Darcy, a 19-year-old Creighton boy, was another of the Fourth of July victims. He took hold of the wrong end of a sky rocket and lighted it, and is now minus a fore-finger and may lose the entire hand.

Mrs. S. R. McFarland of Stanton, aunt of S. R. McFarland of this city, died last Thursday and was buried yesterday. She was 50 years of age and had long been a sufferer from consumption, from which disease she died.

The O'Neill Frontier, one of the best weekly publications in the west, this week started in on its 20th year. It says "we are a stout, healthy kid of nineteen," and no one acquainted with the paper will deny the statement.

Several of the old soldiers and their friends are arranging to attend the reunion at Plainview next week. That is a good place to be and those who enjoy camp life, recreation and amusement cannot miss it by going to Plainview.

Poison, the horse which won the long distance cow boy race from Chadron to Chicago in 1893, is now offered for sale at $125, with no takers. The animal was owned by A. D. Clark of Iowa Falls, Iowa, who prized it highly during his life.

Harry Patterson and Stella Luikart met unexpectedly near Twelfth street last evening. They were on their bicycles and the meeting was not so pleasant as some meetings are. The shock of the meet threw them both off, but neither was very badly hurt.

O'Neill Frontier: A piece of plate glass, measuring one-quarter of an inch thick, was brought down from Ainsworth yesterday as evidence of what a hail storm did there the night of the 4th. Hail stones were as large as eggs and smashed that heavy glass in flinters.

Normie Zimmer, a Newman Grove lad, received a bad cut in the leg on the Fourth, caused by a flying piece of a jug in which two other boys exploded a giant firecracker. What a kid won't think of in the way of shooting off his fireworks on the Fourth, is hardly worth mentioning.

R. D. Scott of the Battle Creek Enterprise departed Thursday for a visit to his old home in Grayson County Virginia with the hope that the change, rest and recreation will benefit his health which has been very poorly for some time. "Bob's" Norfolk friends will wish that his hopes may be realized.

Plainview News: On Tuesday the auditor of the American express company arrived and made the formal transfer of the agency from the Short Line to the F. E. & M. V. depot, and S. T. Skeen was duly installed as agent. Plainview now has two express companies, the Northern and American.

The Chicago Record of recent date contains an announcement of the death of Mrs. Maggie Ingoldsby, nee Gleason, wife of John Ingoldsby, which occurred June 28th. Mrs. Ingoldsby was 36 years of age and leaves, besides a husband, two sons and four daughters. She was a well known resident of Norfolk several years ago.

Ira L. Hungerford came up from Stanton last night and, in company with Arthur Ahlman, drove to Madison today on business. It is understood that the attorney for the Times-Tribune succeeded in getting a judgment for quite a large sum of money against Hungerford without the latter's knowledge and he has gone down to see if the judgment could not be set aside.

Neligh Yeoman: Elder and Mrs. Gorst intend to start next Monday for Janesville, Wisconsin, where the family of Mrs. Gorst's parents are to have a reunion. They will be gone about twelve days.  N. J. Davis came up from Norfolk on Wednesday's freight. In the afternoon Mr. Corby drove him over to his farm which he had not seen for two years. He thinks he is slowly improving.

Stanton Register: Last Sunday the German Evangelical Lutheran congregation accepted in its regular meeting the endowment of the late Frederick Sprick consisting of $750. This is the first endowment that has been made to that church and we believe it is the first church in this county to receive a legacy. The late Mr. Sprick also willed $750 to the Orphan Home Society of Fremont.

M. O. Wager of Battle Creek, superintendent of the county poor farm, is in the city today. He reports that crops on the farm are looking well, with the prospect of a big harvest. There are now seven inmates of the poor house, one of whom is Petie Pierce, a former well known Norfolk character who used to furnish much amusement for the boys, both old and young. Mr. Wager says that Petie is quite feeble and is failing rapidly, being now almost blind.

Stanton Picket: Prosperity is hitting the Norfolk Beet Sugar Company pretty hard. The company has several hundred acres of beets growing but can't get help to tend them and the weeds are also growing. The company pays good wages and pays promptly and the only reason they cannot procure help is that help is not to be had. Everybody is employed. It is the same everywhere. The number of laborers is not equal to the demand. It didn't used to be thus.

Culbertson Era: A bland little urchin of this city, with a lurking gleam of wickedness in his eye, celebrated the glorious Fourth in a manner which won the plaudits of all his immediate neighbors, but one. That one had a parrot which incessantly screamed, "Polly wants a cracker." The kid heard its appeal, touched a match to a giant cracker and fed it to Polly, whose spirit on the other shore concludes that the supply of cracker, for once, exceeded the demand.

A letter dated May 20 from W. F. Reavis, who went to Alaska from Battle Creek, in this week's Republican contains this information: "We think we can make some good money this summer. We were trying it a little today. We sluiced about one hour and a half and cleaned up something over $5. We think we can make $15 or $20 per day this summer, and we can't work out more than one-eighth part of our ground by ourselves. Tell Bud and Conrad that if they were here with grub enough to last them this summer, we would give them $10 per day for every day they worked. We expect to hire five or six men and that is what we will have to pay them per day, or $1 an hour."

Connections were today made with the new well at the waterworks pumping station and fresh water from the bosom of mother earth is now circulating through the arteries of the Norfolk waterworks system. This more than doubles the water-supply capacity of the system and there is now no danger of a water famine in time of need. The water was at first somewhat rily, but is now as clear as crystal. The new well adds 133 1/2 per cent to the capacity or 33 1/2 per cent more than the two old wells combined. The stand pipe was filled this morning in the remarkably short time of two hours and a half, the pumps having all the water they could handle for the first time since the pumping station has been established.

It is said that men are about to be revenged on women in the matter of fashion. The latter have so industriously been monopolizing men's clothes and styles that the worm is about to turn, in fact has turned in the effete east. The garment they have adopted is the most sensible women ever wore, the shirt waist, and it is the part of good judgment for man to adopt the idea. A man appearing in his shirt sleeves and showing his suspender buckles could never be considered as "dressed" while the coat and vest may look all right but are—most of them—decidedly uncomfortable in hot weather. What better idea could there be than to wear a gauzy shirt waist to cover the suspenders, thus producing comfort, convenience and a dressy appearance. Let the shirt waist come and relieve some of the sorrows of suffering mankind.

Julius Hulff of the Anzeiger is getting a most interesting collection, and one that in the estimation of the writer beats stamp, coin, or bird egg collections all hollow. His is a collection of newspapers, from all parts of the world and published in every language under the sun. Some are very difficult to get, but his specimens are already very numerous. His latest acquisition was received this morning and is a copy of "The Bounding Billow" dated June, 1898. It is a newspaper published by the sailors of the Asiatic fleet and printed on board Dewey's flagship, the Olympia. The paper contains a splendid write-up of the battle of Manila Bay by its sailor editor, L. S. Young of the Raleigh. It is neatly printed on heavy linen paper captured from the Spaniards at Cavite, and contains a map of Manila Bay engraved, after many failures, with sail needles. Besides being a splendid addition to his collection, Mr. Hulff values it highly because of its historic connections.

THE NEWS is informed that there is still a chance for Norfolk to secure the district G. A. R. reunion for next year but it will require an effort and the raising of some money on the part of city residents to get it. Among the expenses to be met are the procuring of about 400 tents, besides hay, straw, wood and other necessities for the campers. The cost to the city would be between $400 and $500, which is not a large amount if every one does his share, while the benefits to be gained in additional trade and advertising would exceed that amount many times. When it is considered that several hundred old soldiers will be here constantly during the encampment and that thousands of other visitors would be in attendance on the principal days it would seem that this is worth striving for, particularly because Norfolk has not had anything for years that would draw a large number
