

WON HIS SUIT.

Ira L. Hungerford is Given a Judgment Against the Times-Tribune for the Sum of $119.38.

From Friday's Daily. The case of Ira L. Hungerford against the Norfolk Times-Tribune was decided in County Judge Bates' court at Madison yesterday, after having dragged along for about three months.

The history of the case is more or less familiar to the people of Norfolk. Mr. Hungerford was discharged from the service of the company April 16 and he at that time started a suit for wages due him and at the same time retained the books of the company until the matter should be settled.

The trial yesterday concluded the affair unless an appeal is taken, which is not likely.

Hungerford's claim was for $319.43, which he recited was due him on wages.

This was offset by counter claims of the company, the total amount of which was $1,282.35. This included four items, the first of which was $571, which the company claimed had been misappropriated by Hungerford. The second was $150, charged against the plaintiff for malicious prosecution; the third was $198.25 for damages sustained by reason of the retention of the books and the fourth was an alleged claim against the Sprague stock which had come into Mr. Hungerford's possession, the amount of which was $373.

The trial was by jury and the books were submitted, and every detail gone over, there being found but one mistake where the accounts failed to balance by five cents. The argument was quite heated and it is said that the attorney for the defense unmercifully abused the plaintiff, both in examination on the stand and during the argument.

After being out about ten minutes the jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff allowing him the full amount of his claim, less five cents, which was awarded the company on its offset claims, by reason of the discrepancy in the balance before referred to.

The company had previously secured a judgment against Hungerford in Justice Fuller's court for $198 but this had been set aside.

Mr. Hungerford is naturally much pleased over the result and is especially glad to be free from the charge of embezzlement preferred against him. Since this accusation has been made he has been called all sorts of hard names and has been compelled to stand it, until now, that he has been cleared by a jury of his peers, he feels that he can look his acquaintances in the eye once more and reiterate that he is innocent, with the decision of the jury to back his statement.

The many counter charges exhibit the earnest desire of the company to make a case against Hungerford, as they were evidently made with the hope that at least one of them would stick and to have them all turned down and the plaintiff's one straight proposition win must be disheartening to the publishers.

A Difficult Delivery. Chas. H. Johnson took the noon train for Creighton Thursday and found a fine Chickering piano awaiting him at the depot there.

Shortly afterwards he discovered that it had to be delivered to his customer through the second story window of one of the brick business blocks.

At 4 o'clock he had men at work building a 50-foot trestle from the middle of the street to the window and at 8 o'clock the piano had been rolled up, delivered without a blemish of any kind and was being tested by several of Creighton's best musicians.

The sale was made against strong competition from agents for the Steinway, Emerson, Ivers & Pond, Knabe and others who were unable to sustain what they represented and scores another victory for Norfolk enterprise.

The annual M. E. camp meeting of this district is to be held at Lyons August 10th to 20th. It is believed that the success which attended the meetings when held here will continue with it in its new location.

A fierce county seat relocation fight is on in Knox county. A petition for removal has been filed, which has appended the signatures of 1,900 voters out of a possible 2,900. The opposition is out in squads getting signatures to a protest and what the outcome of the fight will be is hard to determine at the present time.

Julius Leyman was looked up again last evening for being drunk and disorderly. He was given a fine with costs of $8.10 and was told that the next time he appeared before the court on a similar charge he would be given a fine that would confine him in the county jail for a period of about 30 days.

W. H. Clark, head painter of this division of the F. E. & M. V., with his gang, is working a great and needed improvement on the railroad property in South Norfolk. The general offices, depot, railroad eating house and other buildings are being treated to a fresh and handsome coat of paint both inside and out, and when finished the improvement will be very marked.

Madison Chronicle: The latest thing in the social line is a wood-sawing sociable, at which the young ladies present exhibit their skill in handling the buck-saw, those sawing the most wood in a given time, receiving the prize. The young men pay an admission to see the contest and the attendance is always very large, as there seems to be a desire on the part of the young 'gents, whenever the experiment has been tried, to learn the ability of the young ladies to supply stove wood.

The city has received a car load of rubble stone, which will be placed in the jail yard and afford an opportunity for all gentlemen of leisure, who may be taken up by the authorities, to give their muscles some unaccustomed exercise. All hobses will take due warning and give Norfolk a wide berth if they do not wish to assist in demolishing the stone pile. Recruits of this kind were in demand this morning to assist in unloading the stone.

This fall the term of Dr. A. Hodgetts, who has been presiding elder of the Norfolk district, M. E. church, for six years, expires and already there is some talk as to who will get the appointment. Friends of Rev. Thomas O. Webster, now pastor of the First M. E. church at Grand Island, are circulating petitions and urging his appointment to the position. There are undoubtedly other candidates and it is probable that the contest for the position will prove quite interesting.

A jolly party of young people were out last evening enjoying a hay-rack ride through the streets of the city. With their tin horns, sleigh bells and other noise making contrivances they could be readily located at almost any time during the drive. In the course of the evening the party drove up to Hadar and back. E. J. Bundick planned and directed the party. They intended to attend the weekly dance at the asylum, but learning of its postponement on account of the heat, decided to enjoy the evening anyway—and succeeded.

Mayor Simpson has also been consulting with Gus Marquardt regarding the organization of a band to assist Madison in welcoming her returning heroes and he has promised to lend his aid to the work. He also telephoned to Dr. Kieper, superintendent of the hospital for insane, who stated that two of his musicians, whose services would be almost indispensable to the band, would be permitted to go, and expressed the hope that himself and Mrs. Kieper would be able to participate. Every-one spoken with is heartily in favor of going to Madison and it is probable that Norfolk will be almost deserted on that day.

Two vags who claimed to be from Missouri and on their way to South Dakota to work in the harvest field were taken out of a car of merchandise at the Junction last night by the officers and this morning were started on their way with Officer Kane as escort for a part of the distance. They had not been gone a half hour when it was learned that the car of rubble stone was waiting to be unloaded and Police Judge Hayes was seized with a pang of regret that he was unable to give them a job in harvesting the stone and hauling it to the jail yard. The railroad company did not choose to prosecute the fellows or they might have been sent over the road to the pen.

O'Connor is delegate from the First church of this city and Mrs. M. A. McMillan alternate. Rev. J. J. Parker will assist in the ordination ceremony.

A strike is threatened in the factory of the Creamery Package company at Fremont. The hoopers have asked for an advance from 90 cents to $1.00 per hundred for tubs and if the managers do not comply they threaten to quit work. The factory is now rushed with work and the hoopers have chosen a time to strike when the men are all needed.

N. Hills, as agent for the owner, is having the Geo. H. Bishop building, which was recently damaged by fire, repaired. John J. Herman has taken the contract for $350. The woodwork will be replaced, the building painted outside and in and the interior plastered and fixed up as good as new. A new roof will also be put on, which will require 9,000 shingles.

Wayne Herald: The little seven-year old daughter of Gustave Kruse was bitten by a rattle snake on Monday. She was about one and one-half miles from the house at the time but ran home as fast as she could. Medicines were at once applied and it is thought she will recover. The leg was swollen badly and as she suffered considerably from fever her parents brought her to Wayne yesterday morning and placed her in the care of Dr. Williams.

The Times-Tribune should have informed the people concerning its case yesterday morning and not waited for The News to make a "number of damaging misstatements" before it published a legitimate item of news. This paper has no desire to make misstatements and holds its "rival's" modesty as partially responsible if they were made. If the decision of the court had been different it is probable that the defendant would have been very prompt with its information.

A party of nine young folks started out about midnight last night on a trip to Creighton where they will visit at the ranch of Chas. Jauch and will return Tuesday evening. They expect to reach Plainview and camp during the heat of today and continue their trip in the cool of the evening and tonight. Those composing the party were: Misses Ida Wagner, Ella, Emma, and Fannie Moldenhauer, Emma and Elsa Schulz and Messrs. Ernest and August Schulz and William Wagner.

Officers at Fremont have captured a crazy young man whose mania is of a strange form and he might be said to be "humorously" crazy. He is of a sunny disposition, but refuses to answer questions intelligently. When he was confined in the jail things went pretty slow for him and he began to entertain himself. He turned on faucets and soon had the water flying. He broke window lights and played tag with himself around the corridor a good share of the night, while the officers were on their beats. When he was caught in the act of destruction he was not abashed but was quite cheery about it.

The social given by the Y. P. S. C. E. of the Congregational church at the home of A. J. Johnson on Koenigstein avenue last evening was not largely attended, but those who were present report a very enjoyable time. In the weighing contest packages of various sizes and shapes and composed of different materials had been prepared, the contestants to guess the weight of each. Miss Nellie Seymour won the prize offered for the best guess, her calculation being that each one weighed a pound, which was correct. Packages of nails and other heavy matter beside that of feathers and other light weight stuff, proved most confusing and the guesses had quite a range.

Columbus Telegram: John Wiggins was indulging in one of his practical jokes this week. A patent right man was using John's office showing what an enormous amount of heat could be produced from coal oil when properly handled. When the mercury would register about 96 degrees John would call in some of his friends who were passing and have the agent explain everything. After his friend had mopped sweat for about fifteen minutes and inspected the beauties of a red hot cook stove, he would make a bolt for the door and you couldn't drag him in there again with a hog hook, and the only satisfaction they would have would be to wait for the next victim.

Ira L. Hungerford, through his agent, Constable H. L. Spaulding, today took possession of the Times-Tribune plant for the purpose of collecting Mr. Hungerford's judgment and the costs accrued in the case. The company has ten days in which to file an appeal bond, the amount required being in the neighborhood of $800, and Mr. Evans, president of the company is endeavoring to secure a signer to such an instrument. When spoken to about the matter Mr. Hungerford expressed the wish that he might succeed, as that would secure him for his judgment and the costs and he would withdraw the execution. In case the bond is not filed within ten days, the plant will be sold. It is not the intention of those in charge to prevent a paper being issued and the publishers will be permitted to continue its publication even though the appeal is not filed in the given time.

Road Notice to Land Owners. To All Whom it May Concern: The commissioner appointed to view and locate a road commencing at the northeast corner of the southeast quarter of the southeast quarter of section 36 in township 22 north, range 1 west in Madison county, Nebraska, and the northwest corner of the southwest quarter of the southwest quarter of section 31 in township 22 north, range 1 east, in Stanton county, Nebraska, running thence south on county line about 80 rods to the township line between townships 21 and 22, thence west on said township line in said Madison county, one mile, to connect with a public highway leading to the city of Madison, already established and recorded, has reported in favor of the establishment thereof, and his report having been endorsed and concurred in by a like commissioner from Stanton county, all objections thereto or claims for damages must be filed in the county clerk's office on or before noon of the 12th day of September A. D. 1899, or said road will be established without reference thereto.

E. G. HELLMAN, County Clerk.

WHAT DOES IT MEAN?

It means it is the purest made. Soaps, strong with alkali, will eat And burn the clothes, and leave them frayed, But Ivory Soap is clean and sweet. It washes out the stain and dirt, And leaves the fabric all unhurt.

While those who have crops of small grain and hay to harvest do not probably desire it particularly, a large number of people in this neighborhood would sincerely thank Jupiter Pluvius if he would kindly distribute a few spoonfuls of water on the dust. This is not positively demanded, but left to the discretion of that mythical individual.

Mrs. C. D. Burgoyne of Hastings was standing on the platform of the way car of freight train No. 24, while it was switching at Tilden Saturday, when a jolt of the car threw her off the platform and she struck on her head, killing her instantly. Her little daughter, who was with her, was also thrown off her feet but was caught by a bystander before she fell.

A report concerning the creamery business in Iowa, which is one of that state's best wealth producers, says that it has 900 creameries, or an average of nearly 10 to each county. The patrons number 92,000 who sell milk from 932,814 cows. The state shipped 71,500,000 pounds of butter in 1898, for which it received $14,000,000. Surely the lactical fluid industry in Iowa is an important item and it is becoming so in Nebraska.

The mission feast of the German Lutheran church of Battle Creek, held yesterday, was a very successful affair and was attended by a large number of people from this place. The exercises were held in Tomhagen's grove, one-half mile south of the town, where all necessary arrangements had been made. Rev. Ulbricht preached in the morning and Rev. E. Denninger in the afternoon. A little rain in the afternoon, accompanied by thunder and lightning, dispersed the
