Mark Twain is going to live in New Jersey. This is no joke.

There are some men who can't stand prosperity and others who can't get a chance to stand it.

In proportion to population the little republic of Switzerland has the largest army of any country in the world.

Good wages mean plenty of money in the hands of the common people, and that means good times for everyone.

American presses are now in use in Edinburgh. The only complaint made against them is that they run too fast.

The Kentucky ballot box and the Kentucky cartridge box are running a pretty stiff race. Thus far the cartridge box is ahead.

There is such a thing as fair play in politics. There is a patriotism that is higher than partisanship. The present is an excellent time for the display of both.

Some of the democratic papers are beginning to admit that there is an "apparent prosperity." As real prosperity is always apparent that is all that can be asked.

The democratic party in 1864, just a few months before brilliant union victories gained, declared the war a failure. History will repeat itself. The war was not a failure but the democratic party was then and is now.

Dr. Bryan prescribed just what Dr. McKinley didn't in 1896. The people summoned Dr. McKinley and as a result the nation has recovered and is now in the best of health. Now Dr. Bryan wants the successful man's job. How does that strike you for gall?

Governor Pingree has again stirred the popular heart by saying that "I favor the utter annihilation of trusts." That sounds very heroic but it offers no solution whatever of a very vexed question. Anyone can propose revolution but the American people are looking for a wise practical remedy. Such outbursts as that of Pingree's are cheap, not helpful.

The republican party has its imperfections. It is not in its make up or methods always admirable at all points. Like all other human organizations it is fallible. But its principles are correct and it has shown marvelous ability in the practical science of government. It has made a success of it and brought prosperity to the people. That is why they have confidence in it.

More than sixty million dollars' worth of cotton goods are annually imported into China, and there is only needed better trade relations to create a demand for millions more. Is it any wonder that Senator Morgan of Alabama announces himself in favor of expansion? Isn't it singular that there is a man living within the cotton raising states who should be opposed to trade extension in the orient? Some men don't know enough to know where their bread is buttered.

A Michigan farmer has solved the question of dry seasons to his perfect satisfaction. His hobby is onions and potatoes. He plants an occasional row of onions and potatoes side by side through the field, and the onions make the potatoes' eyes water so copiously that it provides plenty of moisture for the entire crop, and gives him a splendid lot of potatoes and onions as well. If this story is true it certainly is a great contribution to the science of farming, and a great pointer free of cost to those who are questioning how to make farming pay. He might adopt another plan which would be far better, and that is to come to Nebraska and farm where such a thing as a dry season is hardly known.

The fact that Dreyfus was pardoned by the French cabinet council on Tuesday goes far toward restoring confidence in the belief that there is still justice in the republic under the deep. In giving his official sanction to the pardon President Loubet has undoubtedly made many enemies of military leaders, but there is no question but that his action has the hearty approval of the citizens of France and the great mass of people of the civilized world. That the announcement of the pardon was received by the French quietly and without demonstration goes to prove that it is very satisfactory to them. The friends of Dreyfus now hope for his complete vindication from the terrible charge of which he was convicted twice by court martial and hope to see the officers responsible for his disgrace punished. While the pardon is not entirely satisfactory to those who have all along believed and proclaimed him innocent, it is immeasurably better than the punishment decreed and opens the door for his vindication and the restoration of his rights. The people of the United States as a whole are rejoiced to hear the decision of the ministry and will unite in congratulating the French people that a better idea of justice prevails in that country than the action of the court martial indicated.

Cereal Plant Grows.

CEDAR RAPIDS, Ia., Sept. 21.—The American Cereal company, which already has in this city the largest institution of the kind in the world, recently announced its intention to more than double the capacity of the plant and yesterday the announcement was made that it proposes to erect a 13-story elevator, with a greater capacity than their three present elevators.

Teneyck Wins by a Length.

HALIFAX, Sept. 21.—The single scull race between James A. Teneyck of Worcester, Mass., and John Brennan of Halifax, for $200 a side, was rowed yesterday on Bedford basin, a heavy wind storm prevailing, and Teneyck won by a length. Time, 23:17. The slow time was caused by the water being very rough.

Wreck on the Baltimore and Ohio.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., Sept. 21.—Train No. 3 on the Baltimore and Ohio was wrecked yesterday near Petroleum, W. Va. Engineer William Meyers was killed. Three postal clerks and three trainmen were injured. The engine, mail car and baggage car left the track. The passengers were not hurt.

A man can borrow trouble without putting up any security.—New Orleans Picayune.

ODD FELLOWS ON PARADE.

Over Four Thousand Pass in Review Before Grand Sire Pinkerton.

DETROIT, Sept. 21.—For more than an hour yesterday afternoon 4,500 Odd Fellows and their sisters of the Rebekah order were passing in review before Grand Sire Pinkerton. It was the finest and largest procession seen in Detroit since the great G. A. R. parade in 1890. Fully a score of bands furnished the music. Street car and other traffic was suspended along the line of march and the police kept the crowds of spectators well back on the sidewalks.

Brigadier General Martin, commander of the Michigan department of the Patriarchs Militant, led 1,000 members of the military branch of Odd Fellowship all in full uniform, carrying swords. Subordinate encampments followed the gaily attired and military looking patriarchs. The representatives to the sovereign grand lodge occupied separate carriages designated by shields hung thereon, bearing the name of the states that the occupants represented. All the states and Canadian provinces were thus in line. When Grand Sire Pinkerton and his assistants had finished the review they entered carriages and, escorted by the Junia Hussars of Columbus, O., brought up the rear of the grand procession. The gorgeous uniform and dashing evolutions of the hussars was the final feature of the spectacle. It is estimated that 10,000 persons connected with the various divisions of Odd Fellowship are now in the city.

Big Stores Will Test the Law.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 21.—An order restraining Hugh J. Brady from enforcing the department store law, enacted at the recent session of the Missouri state legislature, and under which he was appointed license collector for St. Louis, was issued by Judge Zachritz yesterday. The petitioners include every large dry goods firm in the city. Mr. Brady was cited to appear before Judge Zachritz Oct. 4 to show cause why the injunction should not be made temporary until the case may be heard on its merits.

German Catholics Make a Protest.

ST. PAUL, Sept. 21.—The German Catholic Central Union convention today adopted resolutions regarding the alleged desecration of Catholic churches in the Philippine islands. They note the report to the daily papers and illustrations in weekly papers showing how churches have been occupied by United States troops for barracks, the altars despoiled of sacred utensils, vestments and other articles, and urge the administration to take such action as will prevent a repetition of such outrages.

Suits were brought in Indiana courts Wednesday against all Indiana window glass companies, enjoining them from transferring their plants to the newly organized $17,000,000 trust. The suits are brought by President Burns of the window glass workers' union in behalf of that organization.

Catarrah Cannot be Cured with local applications, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease. Catarrah is a blood or constitutional disease, and in order to cure it you must take internal remedies. Hall's Catarrah Cure is taken internally, and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrah Cure is not a quack medicine. It was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years and is a regular prescription. It is composed of the best tonics known, combined with the best blood purifiers, acting directly on the mucous surfaces. The perfect combination of the two ingredients is what produces such wonderful results in curing catarrah. Send for testimonials, free.
