Mr. Fautz of Bloomfield, who formerly lived here, was renewing old acquaintances in the city yesterday.

Rev. S. F. Sharpless is having his home very much improved by the application of a fresh coat of paint.

The farmers are busy in their cornfields and consequently very little grain is being marketed in the city lately.

F. W. Nelson, deputy sovereign commander of the Woodman of the World, is in the city in the interests of that order.

Miss Dessa Lobnow leaves on the early train for Wayne where she has accepted a position in the telephone office.

The city was represented at the weekly entertainment given at the hospital for insane last night by a jolly crowd.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Becker left today for their home in Albion after a pleasant visit with their daughter, Mrs. Morris Mayer.

Miss Laura Bridge is expected here Tuesday from Fremont to visit with relatives while her parents take a trip to Salt Lake City.

The Norfolk section of the Madison county teachers' reading circle will meet in the high school building at 1:30 p. m. tomorrow.

Geo. D. Butterfield came in from Schuyler last night and stopped over on his way home. Mrs. Butterfield is also visiting here.

Mrs. Mary Luebke, who has completed a new house on her farm southwest of the city, has moved and is nicely settled in her new home.

The work of building and improvement in Norfolk goes merrily forward and the city is assuming a brighter appearance than has been noticed for years.

August Melcher, who went to Wisconsin the first of the week to attend the wedding of his nephew, was called home by the sudden illness of his wife.

In spite of their rush the farmers will probably take a day off tomorrow and come to Norfolk to do their trading, at the same time taking in political speeches.

Dr. H. T. Holden this morning performed an operation on Mrs. T. J. Howarth of Carroll at his sanitarium for the removal of a cancerous growth on the lady's temple.

Carl Zeische, who will soon engage in business here, is moving his family down from Pierce and will occupy the Rome Miller house, first door east of L. Sessions' residence.

Frank Harris of Hastings, deputy for the Loyal Mystic Legion, who has been soliciting members here, left for Wayne today where he will renew his labors in the interest of that order.

Wm. Blatt has arranged to receive returns of the Jeffries-Sharkey fight at his Turf Exchange tonight. It is expected that the returns will commence coming in about 8:30 or 9.

The mercury made another record-breaking drop last night, registering but six degrees above zero. It is probable that crops not yet harvested have been considerably damaged by this weather.

The work of laying the foundation for the Catholic church is progressing very satisfactorily, the north wall having been completed to a level with the ground, and the other walls are rapidly assuming proportions.

Miss Nell Shenberg of Sioux City has returned to her home after an 18-months' trip in Europe. Miss Shenberg has often visited in Norfolk and has many friends here who will be pleased to learn of her safe return.

Frank Twiss has arrived from Wayne, where he has been chief clerk of the Boyd hotel, to accept the position of night clerk at the Pacific. Chas. Vail, who has given such excellent satisfaction in that capacity, has been promoted to the position of day clerk.

Colonel Campbell of the Second regiment has removed to Denver to make his home and will therefore be compelled to resign the office. Lieutenant Colonel Tracy of this city is first in line of promotion to the position but it is not known that he desires the office.

You will notice by an item in another column that Oscar Richey is making arrangements for a Thanksgiving masquerade ball. Mr. Richey has a reputation for arranging enjoyable amusement functions and this should be borne in mind when planning for your Thanksgiving pleasures.

The case against Herman Piller and Anton Bucholz, for attempting to destroy the walls of the new opera house, was up for hearing before Judge Hayes this afternoon. Upon the defendants agreeing not to molest his property in future, Mr. Warrant declined to prosecute, and thus the matter was amicably settled.

The News is reliably informed that the market price for corn in Norfolk exceeds that paid in central Iowa for the same product. This condition is believed to be largely due to the extensive feeding industries in and about the city. Norfolk is rapidly assuming an important place as a market for all kinds of farm produce.

Rev. J. J. Parker returned yesterday from his visit to his old home in England. He returns very much improved in health and his friends hope that the bracing air of Nebraska will soon return to him all his old time strength and vigor. The pleasures of his journey and visit were seriously marred by his continued ill health, and he is very much pleased to be home once more. He will occupy his pulpit in the First Congregational church on Sunday morning.

The grain dealers of north Nebraska held a conference yesterday afternoon in the parlors of the Pacific hotel. The meeting was well attended by representative dealers from nearly every town tributary to Norfolk and the proceedings were of much interest to those present. These meetings are held once or twice a year for the purpose of comparing notes and canvassing the situation in regard to the handling of the crops, and transacting such other business as demands the attention of the association.

The Star Clothing store and Daventry Bros. shoe store have inaugurated an attractive and novel method of advertising. Life size figures, molded from substantial material, bearing a sign are placed on the street corners. The figures represent men and women, the men being used to advertise the Star and the women direct attention to Daventry Bros. From a distance these figures appear very lifelike and their first appearance occasioned some laughable delusions on the part of those who viewed them.

Carl Wichman died last night at the home of his son, H. Wichman of Hadar, at the ripe old age of 81 years. Mr. Wichman was an old settler of this section, coming here with the first colony of Germans in 1867. He homesteaded the land on which the Junction now stands and farmed it for years. He leaves six children—three sons and three daughters—to mourn his loss. Mrs. Wichman, it will be remembered, died about three months ago, since which time the old gentleman has gradually failed in health. The funeral will be held from the Hadar Lutheran church Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock and there will thereafter be no services at St. Pauls Lutheran church, this city, Sunday afternoon.

Tomorrow will be a great day for politics in Norfolk. Not only have the candidates of all political parties been finding themselves to spend the last few days of the campaign in Norfolk, but the people will have an opportunity to hear the prominent speakers from both sides of the fence. Mr. Bryan will be at the Creighton depot in the morning at 11 o'clock and deliver one of his famous platform addresses, which will undoubtedly be listened to by a good crowd composed of men of all parties. In the afternoon the republican side of the question will be presented by Senator Hayward, Hon. C. J. Greene of Omaha and Sergeant G. W. Snider, candidate for superintendent of public instruction. Mr. Hayward has a reputation as an orator second to none in the state while those who have heard Mr. Greene talk state he is well qualified to entertain all who will hear him. Mr. Snider is fully competent to handle almost anything he undertakes and his talk will undoubtedly prove most entertaining.

Miss Lucy Williams has accepted a position with the Omaha Illustrated Bee and will make a tour of the state to visit the leading schools in the interests of that publication. She will prepare a series of articles concerning the school she visits to be illustrated with half tone cuts of school buildings, teachers, pupils and classes. The conception will be to give the patrons a true idea of the ordinary work of the schools, and they will undoubtedly prove of value to parents, teachers and pupils. She visited the schools here in her new capacity yesterday and today and will leave tomorrow for the southern part of the state where she will continue the work, starting in probably at Nebraska City. The first article of the series will be published in the Illustrated Bee, which is issued each Sunday with the regular edition, just before the state teachers' association meets in Lincoln the latter part of December. Miss Williams is a young woman of rare talent and those who know her ability predict for her an unequalled success in her new work. Her first article will be eagerly watched for.

SATURDAY SIFTINGS.

Miss Clara Kaul is a city visitor from Madison.

J. H. Kingman left this morning for Fremont.

Chas. A. Smith of Tilden was a city visitor today.

"Bob" Ellis of Sioux City is in Norfolk on business.

C. M. Henderson departed today for a week's trip west.

Mrs. Burt Mapes has returned from her visit to Omaha.

Miss Hartley is in the city from Madison visiting friends.

A. J. Durland returned last night from his western trip.

A. Winter returned yesterday from his trip to Kansas City.

Mrs. Pollock is visiting friends at Winside for a few days.

Mrs. J. S. Hancock of Stanton was in the Sugar City yesterday.

Miss Martha Wilde is in the city, the guest of Miss Anna Zaclow.

Miss Wallace, one of the teachers in the Pierce schools, is in the city.

T. M. Jacobson of Waverly, Iowa, shipped a carload of horses into Norfolk yesterday and will endeavor to dispose of them here.

Rev. Fletcher M. Sisson was a passenger for Madison this morning, and will conduct quarterly meeting meeting there tomorrow.

J. M. Dixon, a traveling man, won the center piece that was raffled off at Leonard's drug store last night. The lucky number was 67.

The Union Pacific is still employing men to work on their grade at Dana, Wyoming. They took 19 men west from this place today.

James Nichols, chairman of the republican county central committee is in the city, watching the closing struggle of the campaign in the county's metropolises.

Miles Berry, representing Millard's Minstrels has been in the city endeavoring to secure a date for his show. It is understood, however, that his efforts were unsuccessful.

Cox, Jones and Cox, a South Omaha firm, are holding a public sale of stock at the House & Nichol ranch this afternoon. A member of the firm is here supervising the sale.

A new brick walk has been laid along the west side of Fourth street in front of the residences of Degner, Zutz, Marquardt and Connor. That portion of a popular thoroughfare has been materially improved by the enterprise of these gentlemen.

Some miscreant cut the ground wire of the telephone line between here and Stanton at a point east of Norfolk. The result was that the line was placed out of service and the Madison line had to be used in order to reach Fremont or points east.

W. S. Summers, United States district attorney, who spoke here this afternoon, is an old school friend of E. A. Bullock, and the two gentlemen have enjoyed a pleasant visit together, comparing notes and relating reminiscences of their younger days.

The scarcity of farmers' teams in town this morning when Bryan spoke, was substantial evidence that they were too busy to neglect their work even to hear the greatest fusion orator of the day. By far the greater portion of his auditors were townspeople.

J. A. Smith of Huron, S. D., is making arrangements to open up a cigar factory at South Norfolk. Mr. Smith comes here highly recommended as a maker of first class goods and has had extensive experience. It is to be hoped he will find a profitable field for his work.

Carpenters began the work of laying the timbers on which will rest the floor and stage of the new opera house and the work is being pushed forward with a rapidity that is surprising. Those who have doubted that Norfolk could have an opera house that will be an honor to the city, are rapidly being converted to the belief that the important building will soon be an indisputable reality.

Rev. Fletcher M. Sisson, the new M. E. presiding elder of this district, together with his family, were accorded a very fine reception in the Methodist church parlors last evening which was attended by a large number of members of the church and congregation. The evening was employed in introductions, getting acquainted and in social conversation, while light refreshments were served to all who desired them.

Chr. Schavland, clerk of the district court, has now completed his series of portraits of the district judges who have presided in the Ninth district. This has been done at his own expense and he is certainly entitled to credit for securing for his office such a valuable historical collection. The series is composed of Lorenzo Cronson, the first judge of the district; Samuel Maxwell, 2nd; Thos. L. Griffey, 3d; E. K. Valentine, 4th; J. B. Barnes, 5th; J. C. Crawford, 6th; Isaac Powers, 7th; W. F. Norris, 8th; Wm. V. Allen, 9th; N. D. Jackson, 10th; and John S. Robinson, 11th. He also has a portrait of A. C. Tyrrel, the first clerk of the district court after the office was made distinct from that of county clerk. Mr. Tyrrel held the office for eight years, or until Mr. Schavland was elected to the position two years ago.

IVORY SOAP PASTE.

In fifteen minutes, with only a cake of Ivory Soap and water, you can make a better cleansing paste than you can buy.

Ivory Soap Paste will take spots from clothing; and will clean carpets, rugs, kid gloves, slippers, patent, enamel, russet leather and canvas shoes, leather belts, painted wood-work and furniture. The special value of Ivory Soap in this form arises from the fact that it can be used with a damp sponge or cloth to cleanse many articles that cannot be washed because they will not stand the free application of water.

DIRECTIONS FOR MAKING.—To one pint of boiling water add one and one-half ounces (one-quarter of the small size cake) of Ivory Soap cut into shavings; boil five minutes after the soap is thoroughly dissolved. Remove from the fire and cool in convenient dishes (not tin). It will keep well in an air-tight glass jar.

Have You Heard Of It?

You may have heard about SCOTT'S EMULSION and have a vague notion that it is cod-liver oil with its bad taste and smell and all its other repulsive features. It is cod-liver oil, the purest and the best in the world, but made so palatable that almost everybody can take it. Nearly all children like it and ask for more.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

looks like cream; it nourishes the wasted body of the baby, child or adult better than cream or any other food in existence. It bears about the same relation to other emulsions that cream does to milk. If you have had any experience with other so-called "just as good" preparations, you will find that this is a fact.

The hypophosphites that are combined with the cod-liver oil give additional value to it because they tone up the nervous system and impart strength to the whole body.

Patriotism is always commendable, but in every breast there should be not only the desire to be a good citizen, but to be strong, able bodied and well fitted for the battle of life. To do this, pure blood is absolutely necessary, and Hood's Sarsaparilla is the one specific which cleanses the blood thoroughly. It acts equally well for both sexes and all ages.
