The judicial bill which recently passed congress, it is claimed, will certainly be vetoed by the President. Others claim that he will sign not only the judicial-expenses bill, but also the army and legislative bills, and bring this congress to a close. We are anxious to know on important subjects what is probable to be done as well as what has really transpired.

The fancy men of England have prided themselves on rowing, walking and fast horses, but young America in each of these matters has not only got away with them, but has also relieved them of a good deal of their "filthy lucre." American horses have won some of their best races. Cornell University has beaten their University crews. Hanlon has out-rowed their best boatman and Weston has eclipsed their best pedestrian.

We are indebted to the State Journal for the information that Gov. Nance has issued his proclamation organizing the county of Nance, and commissioned O. E. Stearns, George McChesney and J. W. Whitney special County Commissioners, and D. Eager as special County Clerk; these appointments have been made for the purpose of effecting a temporary organization of that county. The governor has designated the northeast quarter of section 14, town 16, range 6 west, as the temporary county seat. This county was erected by the Legislature last winter out of the Pawnee Reservation and contains thousands of acres of excellent lands.

MANUFACTURES MEANS MIGHT. The General Welfare and the Profit of Investment Conspire Together.

Whenever good opportunity has offered during the last nine years, the JOURNAL has advocated the use of the immense water power of the Loup river for manufacturing purposes. Considerable talk has been indulged in by citizens generally, but no concerted effort has, to our knowledge, ever been made. Now seems to be a very fit time for such effort, and we suggest that an organization of business men be made for the express purpose of ascertaining to a certainty just what can be done, how the power can be made available, and at what cost. There are a dozen or more different kinds of industries requiring power, that could be named as profitable investments, when once the power is assured, but in order to ascertain this fact it will be necessary to secure the services of a first-class engineer, thoroughly versed in the whole subject of water courses and water powers. It does seem to the JOURNAL that this ought not to be a difficult matter to do, considering its great importance to us as a city.

Newman's Grove.

We have had a good deal of dry weather interspersed with floods. May 24th we had the highest rise in Shell creek in six years. The bridge at this place was carried away and lodged in Menicce's timber, half a mile below. It was recovered with but little damage, except expenses of hauling and rebuilding. Another freshet occurred May 30th, with but little damage. Then came a hot, dry spell which did our crops no good. The general opinion is that crops promise fair; this deponent thinks otherwise. At present there is plenty of moisture.

The B. & M. emigrant house is completed and is a valuable addition to the place. Messrs. Anderson and Larkee have taken another partner, and we are informed, will complete their building immediately and fill up with goods. Mr. Larkee dispenses the mail, now, and we believe he is soon to be postmaster.

New citizens are coming in lively. A good many are going into Nance county, some farther north and west, and a fair proportion stop in this vicinity.

There has been great excitement here on the railroad question. All were anxious that the A. & N. should succeed in Platte county. The fight over the U. P. bonds in this county was sharp, but the bonds were defeated by the voters; there is a rumor, however, that some returns will be thrown out for informality, and others for illegal proceedings at election. The result we cannot predict. If we have a lawsuit with the E. V., and the vote is decided in favor of the U. P. we shall get railroad enough for one year.

Since our last communication, Mr. Robt. Holden has lost a daughter, about nine years old. Mrs. Wm. Menicce has just recovered from a dangerous illness. There is a disagreement among the medical faculty as to the disease which has been so serious hereabouts. All agree that it was all substantially the same, but the disagreement as to what it is. Some call it Cerebro Spinal Meningitis, another Malignant fever, and others say, Scarlatina Maligna, with Typhoid pneumonia. Would some of the faculty of Columbus favor the readers of the JOURNAL with an explanation? Are they the same and only different names used to confuse the uninitiated, or are they all different diseases? The general health seems a little improved.

A cemetery association has just been organized here with Dr. Snyder as President and George Larkee secretary. There is also a base ball club in full blast. At present they meet and play on Sunday. It is hoped they will think better of it and change to some other day.

We are just beginning to think and talk of celebrating the Fourth.

The Omaha Herald is unduly agitated over the proposed Lincoln & Northwestern railroad, and says that it is a black eye to the business interests of that city, because it is not to be built by the right parties. This is hardly logical. It makes but little difference who builds a railroad providing it remains a competing line. It would be practically impossible for the Lincoln & Northwestern railroad to begin or end in Omaha, and as some other towns besides Omaha must of necessity have railroads, it is rather childish to whine when one is built.—Lincoln Journal.

The St. Jo. Bridge. The St. Jo. Herald of the 18th, after giving a list of the new directory (mostly U. P. officials) remarks: "This places the bridge and the St. Joseph and Western railroad under the immediate control of the Union Pacific management, and there is every reason to believe that at an early day Jay Gould's great scheme, to have a direct through line between the two oceans, will be consummated, and the first regular trains from New York to San Francisco will pass through St. Joseph over its iron bridge."

Columbus to Lincoln. [State Journal.] The following congratulatory dispatch was received by Gen'l Funke yesterday from Hon. Leander Gerard: "COLUMBUS, Neb., June 18, 1879. To Otto Funke, Lincoln, Neb.: Columbus congratulates Lincoln.—Come and see us on our first train. LEANDER GERARD."

We saw a large eel that was caught below the mill dam yesterday. How is that? So Anderson exhibits his acrobats and wild animals at Columbus the 25th. Anderson of this place had his circus about two weeks ago, but

By the JOURNAL, I see that Platte county came out with flying colors in her battle against oppression and grinding monopoly, and has secured a first-class railroad with all the advantages of competition, but that is not all.
