 The Co-Op. has been doing the usual rushing business this year. When our reporter called the room was jammed, and ten clerks were rushed to wait upon the customers. The books and supplies in several lines have been exhausted and new orders telegraphed. The Co-Op. has continued to grow in the student's favor as the right place to buy University books and supplies.

Phi Delta Theta have had their chapter house at 1522 S st. remodeled, painted and papered. It now has a very attractive appearance, both inside and out. The following men have been pledged: Loomis, White, Thomson, Mulliken, McCutchen, Glanville, Langerin.

Word has just been received from Anapolis that Reed Fawell has successfully passed the entrance examination of Anapolis naval academy. The examinations have been several degrees harder than usual this year. At the May examination three out of forty were admitted and at the first one in September twenty-five failed to receive the required grade. Not only this, but also the fact that Mr. Fawell had only six weeks for preparation, while some who failed had studied for two years, is an additional cause for congratulation. Mr. Fawell was a pledged member to Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

DEBATING CLUBS.

The Palladian Boys' Debating club will hold a business meeting Saturday evening at which time officers will be elected and new members accepted. Mr. Lightner, who was elected president last year, will probably not be here and one will have to be elected to fill his place. His expected absence will also leave a vacancy in the secretary's chair in the University debating association which will have to be filled. The meeting of the Palladian boys will be of a social character as they will have a "feed" and spend the evening in pleasure.
