The student body should feel encouraged by the state of football affairs, and do all in their power to help along the good work. There is no better way in which this can be done than by the organization of a rooters club. A regular yell leader should be chosen and yells practiced systematically. This would do away with all half-hearted squeaky yelling which does not encourage the team and makes those who are trying to do something ashamed of the effort.

EXCHANGES

The University of Nebraska has adopted a new yell.—Daily Palo Alto.

The University of Nebraska plays twelve match football games this season.—Daily Palo Alto.

The Yale Interscholastic Football league has been reorganized and has a membership of five schools.—Yale News.

At I. S. C. they tried, convicted and cremated the "Football Hoo-doo" of that institution October 2. Now that this menacing spirit no longer exists, we will expect to see Ames do wonders in football this year.—Drake Delphic.

The idea of the students' loan fund was originated by the class of 1900. This class placed the sum of $360 in the hands of a committee of which Dr. Chas. Forster Smith is chairman, to be loaned to deserving students without interest until such students were able to repay. A considerable amount has been added to this fund by professors and other persons connected with the university, who prefer to withhold their names. The committee has not deemed it advisable to loan money in very large sums, or for any great length of time to the individual student, but prefers rather to have a larger number of students benefited in a smaller way. While the entire sum is not large, it does an immense amount of good because it is in continual circulation. Wisconsin Cardinal.

Such affairs as the Roble Fancy Dress party by the women of the university, and the "shirt-tail" parade by the men, supply the genuine fun and spice of student life without the tincture of rowdiness, against which we have heard our president speak so often. With an entire absence of the destruction of property and of trespass upon the rights of others, every one had fun. The next thing in order should be a stag "jolly up" at Encina to light the fire of enthusiasm for the football season.—Daily Palo Alto.

President Harper announced to the senior and junior college councillors in their meeting after the elections Tuesday, that this year the authorities of the University would not give their consent to the holding of the freshman presentation, or "Freshman Convocation," as this unique exercise is sometimes called. Dr. Harper asked the support of the councillors in rallying student sentiment to oppose all "survival of barbarism." The president expressed regret that the exercises had to be given up. But said that the university executive officers had deemed this necessary. The reason given is that the gathering for the presentation is liable to develop into a gathering for conflict between the sophomores and freshmen. "Such things may be tolerated in some institutions," said the president, "but here we must put a stop to them."—University of Chicago Weekly.

The class in general botany did not show much decrease in its attendance on Monday morning, in spite of the fact that many of the students were up the greater portion of the night before, returning from Minneapolis. One plucky girl, whose train arrived at four o'clock in the morning was present nevertheless, and seemed none the worse for her loss of sleep.

Jeremiah Rebman, '98, who returned a few weeks ago from a summer's work in the Big Horn mountains, has secured a position, with the Brooks-Seanlon company, at Seanlon, Minn., where he expects to learn the lumberman's side of the art of forestry. This is one of the necessary subjects required of those who enter the service of the government.

A number of half tones are being made by U. G. Cornell, University photographer, for the industrial school. They include pictures of the University buildings and scenes on the campus.

The final proof of the proceedings of the Orinthologist Union are now being read. The completed report will appear in about a week. It will consist of close to 100 pages.

E. F. Warner, who formerly took a high rank in the debating circles in the University, was in Lincoln on his way west from New York City. He was east in the interests of a mine which he owns.

Sidney Numemaker, J. Miller, J. F. Fisher and H. R. Follman were in Lincoln, Thursday and again Monday visiting their Alpha Tau brothers. They were enroute to and from Minneapolis.

The interviews in American history III. will be conducted by Mr. Sheldon. Professor Caldwell's book on "Source Extracts" will be used. The following topics will be covered: "Acquisition and government of the North West Territory." "The ordinance of '87."

F. A. Harricon, a newspaper man of this city, will start for the Isthmus of Panama next week on a newspaper trip. He has been given a commission by the Historical society to make reports relative to the Venezuelan question.

The Delians will give their "Riley" program Friday night. This program was postponed last Friday on account of the Minnesota game.
