WORK ON THE GRIDIRON.

Squad Getting In Shape for the Wisconsin. Several Good Punters Developing. Ames Confident.

While the Varsity practice last night did not come up to the night before it was still more like the old form of work. Although the work was not fast it was steady in both offensive and defensive.

The scrubs put up a game that was more than a credit to them. Several times they broke through the Varsity line for gains ranging from two to eight yards.

All eyes were opened by the ability which Allen of the scrubs has in covering ground. On a fumble by the Varsity he seized the ball and started down the field with Crandall and Drain in hot pursuit. Aided by Kellogg he worked past these men and then the real race began. He seemed to increase his speed at every stride and planted the ball safely between the goal posts fifty-five yards from where he started. McDonald failed an easy goal, but the scrubs had scored nevertheless.

Clinton and Mulliken made most of the short gains through the Varsity line. The scrubs held the Varsity for downs when they only had a yard and a half to go to secure another touchdown. At the end of about thirty minutes play the score was six to five in favor of the Varsity.

Coach Booth is trying Eager at left end. While his regular position is at half back he will undoubtedly make a good end as he is fearless and a sure man on tackles.

Cuff has been taken from his position as half back on the scrubs and given a place on the Varsity. Cuff is a new man this year but is a star at half back. He has weight and speed and is a sure ground gainer.

A portion of the time was devoted to tackling Captain Westover's dummy. This gives the men the form of tackling and they are coached to make a low, hard strike.

The practice in punting still goes on nightly and some good kickers are developing. The most prominent of these are Bell, Bender, Stinger and Pillsbury. On account of a bad knee Bell is compelled to use his left leg but is developing that in great shape and undoubtedly will soon be able to sail the pig skin as far as he could with his mighty right.

Ames will send her team over from Iowa next Saturday for a try at the Varsity. The latest report from the Hawkeye state is that they are full of confidence as to their ability to make Nebraska look small. Whether they will or not remains to be seen.

NOTICE TO FRESHMEN.

Owing to the inability of the chairman to ascertain who are freshmen, it will be necessary for all freshmen to register, at a place provided for the same in the lower hall of University Hall during the following hours:

Friday from 10:00 am. until 5:00 pm.

Monday from 10:00 am. until 2:30 pm.

This is necessary and only those who have registered will be allowed to vote.

By order of the chairman.

Y. M. C. A. MEETINGS.

The University Y. M. C. A. has arranged for a series of meetings to begin next Sunday Oct. 27. The entire association is desired to attend for the meetings will be of prime importance to members. Speakers and subjects on which they will speak are:

Oct. 27, Dr. A. Ross Hill. "What does membership in the Y. M. C. A. mean."

Nov. 3, Dr. O. H. Rowlands. "Foundation of Association Work."

Nov. 10, John S. Moore. "Some Chief Things."

PHIL KING HAS RESIGNED.

Phil King, the football and baseball coach at Wisconsin university, has resigned. King came to Wisconsin in 1896 to coach the football team. A year ago last summer he entered into a contract to coach the athletic teams at $3,500 per year.

Since he began coaching the Cardinals he has completed the law course of Columbia law school and will now practice at Washington, D. C. He was admitted to practice in the supreme court last week. King has made a fine record at Madison, but thinks a change in coaches will be of advantage to the university.—Daily Cardinal.

COMMENCEMENT ORATORS.

Grover Cleveland Will be Invited to Deliver Commencement Oration. Senator Beveridge also on List.

The seniors met yesterday forenoon to decide upon the recommendations for class commencement orator. This action is taken early that the class may book a good, popular speaker before they are all taken by other universities. The names of Senators Allison, Beveridge, Hoar, ex-President Grover Cleveland, Secretary of the Treasury Gage, Congressmen Morgan and Littlefield and Chief Justice Fuller were presented. The sentiment of the class was strong to invite Grover Cleveland, the only living ex-president, as their first and Senator Beveridge as second choice. Correspondence will be opened with these men at once by the Chancellor, and it is hoped the place will be filled soon.

Through some misunderstanding, an unorganized crowd of freshmen came into the old chapel where the seniors were already assembling, and proceeded to take possession. They were proceeded to the choice of a managing editor. The election resulted in the choice of Dan Gutleben, '02. The editor was then instructed to act in conjunction with the executive board as a nominating committee, proposing the names of associate editors and business managers for the consideration of the society at the next regular meeting to be held in two weeks.

FRESHMAN CLASS IN TROUBLE.

The freshman class is in trouble. After two ineffectual attempts to organize they are still without a president and constitution. Temporary Chairman Mulliken has decided to have all freshmen register, and then only allow those enrolled to vote in the meetings. This is done because so many upper classmen persist in taking part in the proceedings by making foolish motions, voting and carrying them through.

Today the meeting was adjourned by a motion moved and seconded by some junior laws. They also voted for its passage.

The meeting was adjourned before any business was transacted. The edict has gone forth that all freshmen must register in University hall Friday, October 25, 10 a. m., 5 p. m., or Monday, October 28, 10 a. m., 2:30 p. m., before they will be allowed to vote.

ENGINEERS LEAVE.

Wednesday night the B. & M. sent a new surveying party to the front. The party consists of about fourteen men, five of whom are from the University. William Grant, '97, is chief of the party, A. L. Hoagland, '00, ranks second as transitman, Gus Babson is draftsman, and Sam Gelston and McDonald are chainmen. A crowd of engineering students assembled at the station to bid their fellows a howling farewell.

ELOCUTION RECITAL.

There will be a class recital in Elocution III next Wednesday. Various members of the class will read selections for which they have had special training. These recitals are for the benefit of the class only and are not public.

The young lady students at Hanover college, Ind., indulged in a sheet and pillow case parade at midnight, October 21. They started from one of the boarding houses and by the time they had advanced very far were joined by others. The young men of the town had considerable fun at their expense and remnants of the parade may be found in many of the boys' rooms. Some claim to have flashlight pictures of certain ones. On a whole the affair turned out disastrously.

Mrs. F. S. Harris (nee Jessie Mason) of Omaha made a short call upon the university. Though not a graduate, she is one of the many who have spent years in the university and whose interest in its welfare never lags. This is manifest in the fact that her daughter is now a member of the student body. She remarked the great difference in the conditions compared with the time she was a student.

Football Rally

Chapel this morning at 10 o'clock. Rooters will complete organization. Rooters chorus will lead the singing.

ADDITION TO THE METEOROLOGY LIBRARY.

The department of astronomy and meteorology has just obtained by exchange an extensive addition to its file of daily weather maps, published by the United States weather bureau. They have now practically complete files back to 1886 and partial files for some years before that.

These maps are now being bound in monthly atlases and will furnish for the student and the public an exact statement of the weather conditions at any station in the United States on any day of all these years. The collection of about two hundred volumes substantially bound will be very useful for source work in climatology and is now being used for this purpose by advanced students in meteorology.

Ames University, Ia., is having a new building erected which will cost one hundred and ninety thousand dollars. It will be four stories and basement and will be for general use of the engineering and scientific departments. An elevator will also be included in the internal arrangements.

invited to vacate by the executive office, and retired to the law class room. The seniors then transacted their business in peace. The cool judgment of the seniors doubtless prevented a conflict.

ENGINEERING SOCIETY ANNUAL.

The Engineering society held its regular meeting Wednesday night, in the course of which the following officers were elected. S. D. Clinton, president; A. E. Main, vice president; F. L. Hunt, recording secretary; S. C. Campbell, corresponding secretary, and Fred Hess, treasurer. After the election of officers the "Annual" committee, appointed last spring, reported that a number of contributions for the proposed book had been promised, among the contributors being Joseph A. Sargent, ex. '98; A. E. Carter, ex. '00, and O. T. Reedy, '93, all in the government service at Havana, Cuba. Furthermore the prospects both financially and otherwise, were excellent so that the society could not afford to miss the opportunity of getting up a creditable publication.

The report was enthusiastically approved and in order that the work might be begun at once the society
