BUSINESS MANAGER'S STATEMENT.
 According to the postal laws passed August 24, 1912, every newspaper is required to send a sworn statement of the management, circulation, etc., to the postmaster, and to publish the same in the next issues of the paper after the statement is filed. Owing to a misunderstanding, the notice was not published at that time, and so it is given now.
STATEMENT OF OWNERSHIP, MANAGEMENT, CIRCULATION, etc., of The Daily Nebraskan: Published five times a week during the college year, at Station A, Lincoln, Neb., required by the act of August 24, 1912. Editor, F. C. McConnell, 1544 Q street, Lincoln, Neb.; managing editor, M. V. Reed, 1251 South Twenty-seventh street, Lincoln, Neb.; business manager, C. C. Buchanan, box 1212, Station A, Lincoln, Neb.; publisher, the Committee on Student Publications, Administration Hall, University of Nebraska; printer, The Kuhl Printing Company, 214 South Twelfth street, Lincoln, Neb.; owners, the University of Nebraska.
 Average number of copies of each issue of this publication sold or distributed through the mails, or otherwise, to paid subscribers, during the six months preceding the date of this statement, 1,000 copies.
 C. C. BUCHANAN,
 Business Manager.
 Sworn to and subscribed before me this 15th day of October, 1912.
 MAX WESTOVER,
 (Seal) Notary Public.
 My commission expires August 3, 1915.

MAUDE FULTON

The Orpheum Theater has as a headline act two of the cleverest and most entertaining dancers in vaudeville, and there are no better known or better liked disciples of terpsichore than William Rock and Maude Fulton. Through untiring effort they have succeeded in mounting the top rung on the ladder of achievement and today their names are predominant in the dancing world. This season marks the final appearance together of Mr. Rock and Miss Fulton. At the conclusion of their present contracts Mr. Rock will devote his attention to the presentation of musical vehicles and Miss Fulton will bid for public approval alone. The team of Rock and Fulton need no introduction to vaudeville patrons, or in fact to any theatergoers of any description. They have achieved prominence through such well-known musical comedies as "The Orchid," "The Candy Shop," in the latter serving in a stellar capacity. Their dancing is a rhapsody of motion and their eccentric work is always sure to introduce a novelty.
