Postmortems and Prophecies By H. I. KYLE.

The Colorado School of Mines won the Rocky Mountain Conference by beating the University of Colorado, Saturday, the score being 6 to 2.

Minnesota meets Chicago, Saturday, and should defeat her, considering the crippled condition of the Maroon team. A victory for the Gophers will give them second place in the Big Nine race, with Chicago and Wisconsin tied for third.

Harvard beat Princeton 20 to 0. Yale trimmed the Tigers 19 to 14. All the dope points toward another Crimson victory when the two big teams clash Saturday, especially since Charles Brickley has announced that he will enter the game, if a drop kick is needed to win it.

The Carlisle Indians have had a disastrous season this year. So far they have lost to Syracuse, Pittsburg, University of Pennsylvania, and Notre Dame, and have been tied by little Holy Cross. Their game with Notre Dame, Saturday, resulted in a score of 48 to 6 in favor of the Catholics.

If Nebraska is considering a post-season game at all, why not tackle Harvard for our opponent. A victory over Harvard will give us as much prestige in the west as a victory over any western team, and will give us a great deal more in the east. It won't hurt to tackle the eastern champions for a game. They can't do worse than refuse to meet us.

Hurray for all the Irish blood that's in him;

Its divil an inch a team can gain agin him.

REGENTS' MEETING.

ferred action until their next meeting which will be held December 7.

The Regents approved steps taken by the managers of the May Festival to secure the services of the Damrosch Orchestra of New York for their appearance in Lincoln. It will be recalled that a similar action was taken a year ago and no deficit occurred. It is believed that this year there will be a surplus for the benefit of the musical work of the University.

Inasmuch as extensive building improvements are about to be inaugurated, the Regents authorized a trip to be made by the new Regents to visit universities in neighboring states in order to study the subject of grounds, buildings and university architecture.

Regent Whitmore was appointed a member of the executive committee in place of Regent Allen, resigned. Regent-elect Miller was requested to act informally as a committee of one in devising a plan for securing most advantageously to the University and to the guarantors the land covered by the citizens' bond. Mr. Miller's report will probably be presented at the meeting on December 7.

The tentative plans for the dairy building were not ready to be submitted. The Regents approved an informal report of progress, and tentatively fixed the sum to be expended as $90,000 for building with $25,000 extra for permanent fixtures such as boilers, plumbing, lighting, cold storage room and bulletin machinery.

The President of the Regents was authorized to execute a contract with the Clay-Robinson Company for live stock to be loaned to the University for feeding experiments. By way of explanation it may be said that for a number of years it has been customary to secure from some commission house a loan of live stock for experimental feeding. When the live stock is sold the commission house is reimbursed for the original cost of the stock and current interest for the time of the experiment, the University securing whatever profits that may result from the feeding test. The Regents avoid the cost price of the cattle for short time experiments, thus leaving their revenues free for other purposes.

Tentative plans for the astronomical observatory were received and were referred to the University's architects for further elaboration. It will be recalled that Professor Swezey has had constructed in the University shops the fixtures for a large telescope. The lens has also been ground by a citizen of Nebraska. The problem that now confronts the Board is the proper housing of this instrument which is believed by experts to be highly creditable to the citizens of the state who have constructed it and to Professor Swezey as designer. It is probable that the observatory will be placed at the Farm, not on account of any connection with agriculture but because it is customary to place astronomical observatories at some distance from the light, vibrations and smoke of cities. The best known observatories in the country are all at considerable distance from the main teaching plants of which they are a part. No definite action, however, on location was taken.

WHARTON'S ADDRESS WILL BE THURSDAY

Mistake in Date Caused Postponement—Will be Given at Convocation Tomorrow Morning.

Through mistake the announcement of Dr. Wharton's address which was to have been given at yesterday's convocation was announced for Thursday by the bulletin boards on the campus. On account of this but very few were gathered there when Dr. Wharton arrived.

Dr. Wharton thanked these shivering few for their courage braving the cold and since only about half a dozen were present the address was postponed till Thursday.

SHORT COURSE AT CURTIS STARTS SOON

Special Course Will Start Last of November and Closes March 6—Work Will be Practical.

A special winter term for farm boys, beginning November 30 and closing March 6, is being offered by the Nebraska School of Agriculture at Curtis. It is planned to offer full semestral courses in all the subjects given and thus make possible for the farm boy, who can be away from the farm only between harvesting and seeding, an opportunity to do regular academic work that he may use toward graduation. The aim in the winter term is to make the work both practical and sufficiently theoretical to meet the needs of the credit given.
