Save a dollar for the Cornhusker Banquet.

Brevity, remember, is that quality which makes sermons, orations, and after-dinner speeches bearable.

One thing is sure. If all important questions were determined by throwing dice, at least fifty per cent of them would be settled correctly.

GOOD NEWS.

The hearty response of the University public to the appeal of Belgium is cheering. It cannot but indicate generous hearts, real sympathy, and an actual realization that we are not only citizens of Nebraska, of the United States, but citizens of the world.

A gloomy winter is in store for little Belgium. With her wheat fields burned and cottages in ruins, Christmas day will be a mockery. The men are bitter, the women heart-sick, the children no longer play and laugh. Hunger, cold and wretchedness reign supreme.

How can you help? Glad you asked. Well, buy a ticket to the Belgian Sufferers' Fund Program. That means that you will get a chance to see motion pictures of the Ames-Nebraska, Iowa-Nebraska, and Lincoln-Topeka games. In addition to this, the Glee Club, Cadet Band, and Dramatic Club will appear. Every cent received will be turned over to the Belgian Relief Fund.

University dancing class starts Saturday, Nov. 21. Lincoln Dancing Academy.

DR. LOWRY MAKES ANNUAL ART ADDRESS

Lectures at Convocation Yesterday—Explains Technical Structure of a Painting.

At yesterday's convocation Dr. Lowry gave his annual art exhibit talk before a small but appreciative audience. His talk was confined to the discussion of what the modern artists have added towards perfecting the art of painting. To assist in illustrating his points he had six pieces from the annual exhibit which is being held in the art gallery of the fine arts school. One painting was chosen from each of the leading countries: United States, England, Germany, Belgium, Austria, France.

Dr. Lowry said that a century ago the artists never thought of painting an outdoor scene the way they actually saw it; and all their landscapes were idealized rather than actual pictures of what they saw in nature. Nor did the artists of that time know how to blend their colors so as to reproduce the natural tints; but all the paintings were in the conventional grey or brown.

The work of the present day artists has been to so perfect the blending of colors, and the system of putting them on the canvas that the picture reproduces the exact colors; and to show the subject exactly as it is seen in nature.

Dr. Lowry then went on to explain the technical structure of a painting. During the last few years artists have developed the art of putting the colors on the canvas without first blending them on the palette, thus each point on the canvas is a bit of true color so that when close to the canvas one can not tell what it is, but at a distance the eye blends the colors, and it is then that one gets the natural effect.
