THE LAST CHANCE

SPLENDID PROGRAM OFFERED BY BAND AND GLEE CLUB.

APPEAL TO NEBRASKA SPIRIT

Failure of Last Night's Belgian Relief
Entertainment Brings Appeal to Support Tonight's Program
Given in Chapel.

There are times when it is expedient to conceal the bald truth, but the present case needs to be faced squarely. Last night's entertainment for the purpose of raising funds to relieve the suffering of the women and children of Belgium was attended by a mere handful.

Whatever the cause or causes contributing to this failure, Nebraska spirit is shown in a very poor light. The excellence of the program presented certainly relieves the committee in charge of all blame as to the entertainment itself, and justifies the expectation that tonight's crowd will more truly represent Nebraska's real attitude.

The numbers rendered by the band and Glee Club were of a quality to justify the student body's pride in these organizations, and the enthusiastic reception of the piano solo showed the audience's appreciation of this number. As to the pictures themselves, it is safe to say that two-thirds of the school have never had the opportunity of viewing the scenes that are shown. The work of the squad on tackle dummy, falling on the ball, and other phases of the work incident to the building up of a championship team, to say nothing of the views of the two hardest fought games of the season, are alone worth twice the admission price.

Is Nebraska going to allow last night's miserable showing to be the final word? Twenty-five cents invested in a ticket votes NO. Pass up the other movies for one week and get behind this effort. Those whose time and talent have been willingly given toward furnishing the entertainment—the band, the glee club, and others who are backing this—deserve a better response. Get that Christmas spirit limbered up a little in advance of December 25th and turn out in a body to the show tonight. In the Chapel, at 8:00 p. m. Admission twenty-five cents. Tickets may be obtained at the Nebraskan office, Alumni office, or at the door.

GIRLS SWIM JUST LIKE SO MANY FISH

Thirty-Five Mermaids Under the Instruction of Mrs. Engberg—Report Great Time.

About thirty-five girls indulged in a good swim at the Y. M. C. A. yesterday morning. If enthusiastic shrieks and laughter mean a good time, the girls certainly enjoyed the mermaid pastime. Great improvement over last week was reported, the "Australian Crawl" and side stroke being in evidence. Mrs. Engberg, who is an expert swimmer, was present and showed the girls some of the difficult points of the sport. All the girls were enthusiastic about the good healthy exercise they had enjoyed.

AG STUDENTS PLAN A VERY BIG PARTY

Boys to Come Dressed in Overalls—
Girls to Wear Typical Farm
Regalia.

On Saturday night, December 12, will be one of the biggest parties ever held by the Agricultural School. Every boy will wear overalls and every girl will wear an apron; in short everyone will be there in the dress of the typical farmer and woe to the one who comes fussed up. There will be lively games for all, and the affair will be topped off with a good feed. Let's end Ag week with a celebration that will go down in the history of the school. Everyone bring some one along and be prepared for a great time. We want the other students to know that the Ag school is alive. Everybody Push!

BIG "AG" WEEK TO START NEXT MONDAY

Agriculture Club Planning on Many Interesting Features—Committee in Charge of the Work.

Probably the most lively week to be held on the campus for several years will be the annual "Ag" week, lasting from December 7 to 12. The committee, composed of J. B. Price, chairman, S. Whitenand, Ed Partridge, H. R. Harley, Robert Holland and P. Possen, have been at work for some time arranging the events of the week, and the complete program will be found in tomorrow's Nebraskan. As has been the custom in the past, there will be an "Ag" edition of the Nebraskan on Thursday of Agriculture Week. Saturday night of this week the annual initiation of the Agriculture Club will be held and old members promise a lively and strenuous initiation of new members.

YOUNG LEGISLATORS MEET THIS EVENING

About Fifty University Students to Acquaint Themselves With Legislative Methods.

Practical legislation, or political economy 33 was first given during the session of 1909. It was suggested by Dr. Roscoe Pound, now of Harvard, as a desirable course in connection with the Law College, to better equip young men who go out to take an active part in public affairs either in the legislature or in other positions. The course has been popular from the start. Two years ago about seventy were registered but since then the requirements have been raised and the present prospects are for a class of about fifty. The substance of the course is two-fold: First to train students in scientific methods of legislation which includes bill drafting, and a study of comparative legislation, which gives familiarity with the details of the methods by which a bill becomes a law and criticism of the procedure in the different states.

The second part consists in practice work as assistants to the legislature and covers research work in practically every subject which is considered by the legislature during the session. Lectures are generally given before the class by the chief clerk and others connected with the legislature. The first meeting of the class will be in room 306, University Hall at 7:30 o'clock on Thursday evening, December 3.

CO-EDS TO BANQUET

GIRLS AS WELL AS THE BOYS TO HAVE ENJOYABLE TIME

ONLY TEN-CENT ADMISSION

To Appear in Costume—Not a Formal
Affair—Many Amusing Stunts
Now in Process of Preparation.

The girls of the University will celebrate in honor of the closing of the successful football season with their annual Cornhusker party in the Armory at 8 o'clock Friday night. Ten cents admission will be charged. Although it is not news, it is a fact that all the girls in school will be there, and in costume.

Miss Graham tells us that there will be no formal program, since there is to be no formality about the party. There will, however, be a large number of stunts who will assert themselves at different times in the evening. Just whom these will be can be told better after the event is over—perhaps there will be some notable in evidence. Last year efficient proxies of Coach Stiehm and his victorious team appeared and a very exciting football rally was held by the enthusiastic co-eds, with real speeches and real yells. Perhaps they will be seen again—the committee does not promise, but leaves us to conjecture.

The party is not a dancing party, although that may be one feature of the evening's entertainment. Light refreshments will be served and a good time is promised to everyone.

HALLIGAN'S HOME SCHOOL HAS BOOKLET

Name of the Publication is "Round
Up"—Printed by North Platte
High School.

The first issue of the "Round Up," a student publication of the North Platte high school, has come to this office through the exchange. It is a rather small sized issue containing ninety pages of spicy material that reminds one of old high school environment. The greater part of the edition is an exposition of North Platte football history and success in the past season. The North Platte school is a leader in athletics, and some of its former players have won fame beyond their high school careers. One of these is Vic Halligan, the famous captain of the great Nebraska eleven.

KOSMETS TO OPEN NEW GARDEN ROOM

Banquet to be Held on December 11—
Takes Place at New Garden
Room of Lincoln.

The initiation banquet of the Kosmet Klub will take place December 11, in the new Garden Room at the Lincoln Hotel. This is the first University function to be staged in the new room and the Kosmets have been waiting for some time for the opening of this beautiful new banquet hall, having made arrangements at the beginning of the year for the opening night. Quite a number of the alumni members of the Klub will be back at this time and the members say that this will be without doubt one of the "spiffiest" affairs held around these parts for many moons.

Now is the time to get your Cornhusker Banquet ticket.

FINAL SALE OF HUSKER BANQUET TICKETS TODAY

Almost Three Hundred and Fifty
Tickets Sold up to the Appearance of This Issue.

The arrangements for the Cornhusker banquet are rapidly being completed. The toastmaster and toast list have been secured; the menu has been decided upon, and a big crowd is all that is needed to make this year's banquet the best ever. The toast list speaks and will speak for itself. C. C. Quiggle will be toastmaster. There will be talks by Coach Stiehm, Chancellor Avery, Dean Ringler '02, Vic Halligan, and Warren Howard. Aside from this the management promises a better menu than has ever been served at any Cornhusker banquet.

For the past several years there has been considerable roughhouse and some drunkenness at the annual Cornhusker banquets, but this year's management shall do all in their power to eliminate that sort of thing and nothing will be tolerated that might cause any reflection on the University.

Already, about three hundred and fifty tickets have been sold. Today the Innocents will have charge of a Tag Day to boost the sale of seats.

FRESHMEN VICTORS

DEFEAT THE SOPHOMORES YES-TERDAY BY SCORE 20-6.

SENIORS NEXT WEDNESDAY

Game Not Characterized by Fast
Work or Lack of Fumbles—
Coach Stiehm Discovers
Many New Plays.

The Freshmen defeated the Sophomores in football yesterday afternoon on Nebraska Field by the score of 20-6, thereby eliminating one more team from the race for interclass football honors. The final game for the championship will be played next Wednesday afternoon when the Freshmen will meet the Seniors, who previously eliminated the Juniors, 14-0.

Both sides played brilliant football at times, and at times both were ragged. The Freshmen held the edge however, throughout the contest, especially during the first two quarters. Both backfields were fast, but lack of team work was manifest in the play of both the lines.

The chilly air made fumbling frequent, but added lots of "pep" to the already bloodthirsty rivals. Referee Howard was successful in keeping the two teams from a general mix-up, and experienced much difficulty in placing the ball after a down. Both sides entertained different opinions as to just where the ball was down. As a consequence the ball held no fixed position until the offensive center straddled it. Coach Stiehm watched a good portion of the game from a position on the north side of the field. Obviously his purpose was to learn the latest kinks of football, but it is rumored that he was looking for material.

The Freshmen outrushed the Sophomores at the beginning of the game and scored two touchdowns in the first half. Oesten made the first on tackle around, after the ball had been advanced to within ten yards of the goal. Colton made the second going through center on a fake for twelve yards. The Freshmen kicked one goal.

In the second half the Sophomores staged what appeared to be a comeback, and toward the end of the third quarter, advanced the ball by straight football and a long forward pass to within five yards of the Freshmen goal, from where O'Brien went over.

KOMENSKY MEMBERS DOING THEIR PART

Will Sell Small Statues For Funds—
Many Contributions From Out of Town Sympathizers.

The Komensky Club are now selling small statues for the relief of the thousands of Bohemian families which face the bitter winter of that country without any means of support. The committee in charge of the affair have not yet fairly started but nevertheless orders to the amount of forty dollars have been raised from out of town sympathizers. The Bohemian relief committee is composed of Miss Bessie Stryc and Cyril Hrbeck. The statues will be small busts of Komensky and will make nice desk ornaments.
