in his opinion, many of the students, who would rather spend the Thanksgiving vacation at home, would oppose the plan.

The lanky coach was busily engaged in teaching a squad of twenty-five men the finer technique of basket-shooting last night at the gym. He is quite enthusiastic over the prospects for a successful basketball season. He has five veterans from last year's team, including Ed Hugg (who blushing admits that he is a darn good basketball player), Gardner, a brother of the famous "Jimmy," of football fame, is a promising candidate for the first team, also.

FARM WOMEN BUILD UP SOCIAL CENTERS

Reports of Agricultural Extension Service at Farm State That Women Build up Rural Centers.

The development of rural social centers, much advocated by those interested in rural betterment, is not lacking in Nebraska if reports reaching the Agricultural Extension Service at the University Farm are any indication.

The cordial spirit typical of pioneer days is being preserved and directed to more efficient social service than ever before. One of the remarkable examples of this, for instance, may be found near Simeon, about twenty-five miles from Valentine, and in the heart of the Sand Hill region. Here, five hours distant by stage to the nearest railroad station, is situated one of the most flourishing neighborhood clubs of women to be found in the state. Women, who from common experience know what it means to take forty loaves of bread a day at round-up time, ride horseback from ten to fifteen or more miles distant to their neighbors to help the comforts or do some other useful work. Tucked in the saddlebag, very likely, is an original paper on some topic of current local or general interest, for literary programs form a part of the club's activities. The little folks, too small to stay at home, join in the occasion and add to its merriment. By more or less common consent the fathers are said to arrange their duties on the ranch so that they may look after stead, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Seacrest and Professor Coburn.

Kappa Kappa Gamma gave a dancing party at Rosewilde Hall last Saturday evening. About seventy-five couples were present. Miss Howell and Mr. Davis were chaperones. Out-of-town guests were Lucille Dennis, Jean Undeland, Helen Thomas and Elizabeth Scott of Omaha.

Phi Gamma Delta fraternity gave an informal house dance last night at the chapter house, which was attended by twenty-five couples. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sanders were present at chaperones. Messrs. George Racely of Pender and David D. Simms of Superior were here for the party.

Mrs. E. R. Pierce announces the engagement of her daughter, Maud, to William H. Logan of this city. The marriage will take place the latter part of January at the home of the bride, 745 South Fifteenth street. Miss Pierce formerly attended the University of Nebraska. She is a member of the Alpha Omicron Pi sorority.

The Delta Delta Delta sorority gave an informal dance last night at Fraternity Hall, which was a pleasant affair and attended by thirty couples. The out-of-town members who were here for the week-end and attended the party were Miss Doris Johnson and Miss Lucile Thomas of Omaha and Miss Gwendolin Gilman of Auburn. Professor and Mrs. Schragg chaperoned the party.

The Y. W. C. A. girls are giving their Christmas party next Saturday, the 12th. In addition to the feature of a Christmas tree, there will be games for the young and sewing and crocheting for the old. This party is in honor of the faculty and appropriate gifts are being prepared for each member. The girls expecting to attend are asked to call at the Temple for a name of a member of the faculty. A good time is promised to all the girls who care to attend.

In fact the neighborhood club was suggested by a man who saw the lack of social opportunities for the mothers of the vicinity. The men had their "dehornings" and round-ups, but the women had nothing. Since the neighborhood meetings have been instituted, however, they have proved so popular that even some of the men insist on coming. As a result, the membership virtually includes anybody who wishes to be neighborly.

Through the influence of this unity of spirit, the people of the community have secured a college trained young woman from Massachusetts to be their rural school teacher. Aside from this, the whole moral and social tone of the vicinity is being elevated.

A club existing under perhaps more favorable conditions but equally as wide-awake may be found near Franklin. The parents realized that the ideals of their children might be helped if the mothers formed a closer social relationship. Social conditions have been and are still being improved, and at the present time the members of the club are studying the outlines for such clubs furnished by the Agricultural Extension Service of the College of Agriculture. There are over twenty members in this club.

About five miles from Wilsonville is another neighborhood circle. About twenty-five of the farmers' wives gather for all-day meetings and have started to study the history and geography of Nebraska as well as the care and feeding of children. Like the Simeon club, the members assist in
