

NOTES ON ELECTION

PREFERENTIAL BALLOTING SYSTEM WILL BE USED

PLANNED TO FILL ALL PLACES

Dean Stout Works Out System for Simplifying of Coming Elections of the Daily Nebraskan Staff

The system of preferential balloting which will be used in determining the choice of candidates for positions on the editorial staff of the Daily Nebraskan is designed to insure, so far as practicable, that each position will be filled by a candidate who is at least acceptable to a majority of the voters. The names of the candidates will appear on the ballot at the left of three voting columns. In the first column the voter indicates his first choice of candidates, in the second column his second choice, and in the third and last column his third choice or choices. Each voter will be entitled to one first choice, one second choice, and as many third choices as he desires to register.

No candidate may be voted for in more than one column of a single ballot.

If the count shows that any candidate has received first choice votes equal in number to a majority of the total number of ballots cast, that candidate will be certified to the student publication board for appointment.

If, in the case of any position, no candidate has received a number of first choice votes sufficient to determine the choice as above indicated, the number of second choice votes for each candidate will be added to the number of his first choice votes, and if the resulting sum in the case of any ballots cast, the candidate for whom the sum of first and second choice votes is the greatest will be certified to the student publication board for appointment.

If, in the case of any position, the sum of the first and second choice votes is in no case equal to a majority of the total number of ballots cast, the first, second and third choice votes for each candidate will be added and the candidate in the case of whom this sum is the greatest will be certified to the student publication board for appointment.

JUNIOR TICKETS FOR DANCE GO RAPIDLY

Party Will Be Given at Rosewilde on January 22—Extensive Plans Being Made for the Dance

Chairman George Irwin of the Junior Hop committee announced yesterday that he was pleasantly surprised to see the tickets for the dance selling so rapidly. He said also that those who were planning definitely on attending this function should make arrangements to get their tickets at once or forever afterward hold their peace, if they are unable later to secure them. Extensive plans have been formulated to make this, next to the Junior Prom, the one big event of the season. The Rosewilde has been selected as the place, and January 22 as the time, for the event.

Animal husbandry students of an eastern university who spent their vacation in districts where the foot and mouth disease is prevalent are being fumigated today over at the veterinary department. This is being done merely as a precaution against the bringing in of the disease to the college stock. The method of fumigation is the same as that used by a veterinary man in their work against the disease, and is perfectly harmless. A sheet that covers each man with the exception of his head is used and formaldehyde gas is generated beneath it, effectually destroying all dangerous germs that the man may accidentally be carrying around with him.

Y. W. C. A. VESPER SERVICE YESTERDAY

Girls Gave Interesting Talks—Golden Windows One Subject—Encourage Friendship

The Y. W. C. A. vesper service Tuesday night was unique in the fact that girls from different colleges gave interesting talks on the subject "The College Girl's Road." The first talk was by Helen Parsons on "The Golden Windows." The second was by Ethel Rathkey on "The House by the Side of the Road." She saw in this the idea of service and pointed out the special responsibility of the college girl.

Miss Gale spoke on "Comrades." She spoke of the different relations we have to people and said that we must learn to walk with Jesus if we are going to make our earthly friendships mean what they should. She showed the foolishness of the snob and cynic.

Drake University musical students and faculty will engage in an annual pushball contest to settle their difficulties.

GERMAN PLAY GIVEN FRIDAY EVENING

Entitled "Das Verlorene Paradies" and is a Modern German Play—Typical of German Life

The German Dramatic Club will give their annual play Friday, January 15, in the Temple Theatre. A large cast has been chosen and is working unusually hard to make this play a success.

It is a modern German play, entitled "Das Verlorene Paradies," and depicts German family life and its connection to the business world. The father, Mr. Bernardi, is a well-to-do factory owner. His wife's whole interest is in the home, while their daughter Edith, who is well educated and has traveled a great deal, has lost all the illusions of life, so that she is not interested in anything. Richard von Ottendorf, the son of a distinguished German writer, makes a business contract with Mr. Bernardi in which he is to receive Edith's hand in marriage.

In a scene with the laborers of the factory, who threaten a strike, Ottendorf shows himself to be so narrow that Edith is disgusted and refuses to marry him. This rather disappoints her parents, but, as usual, they yield to her will and Ottendorf is forced to give up the whole of the contract.

A CHAPEL LECTURE

DR. CALDWELL AT YESTERDAY'S CONVOCATION

BUT FEW STUDENTS ATTEND

"American Wars and Their Influence on American and World Development" Subject of Topic

A small audience attended convocation yesterday to hear the address given by Professor Caldwell of the American history department on the "American Wars and Their Influence on American and World Development." Professor Caldwell spoke in detail of each of the five American wars and the effect each has had upon the development of this country, and upon the world in general. The Revolutionary War opened a way, he said, for the evolution of a new people, who have contributed largely to the world. The Civil War settled the disputes between the North and the South and united them in a way that would have been hard to accomplish otherwise. He said that a peaceful means of securing the abolition of slavery could not have been secured at that time. He further remarked that he hoped, and believed, that a time would come when national questions would be settled by an upbuilding rather than a tearing down of the country.

DECEMBER ISSUE OF 'ALUMNUS' DELAYED

Will Be Out the Latter Part of Week With Bunch of Novel Features—January Issue Out Next Week

The December issue of the "Alumnus," although somewhat delayed on account of an excess amount of work at the hands of the publisher, will be out the latter part of the week with a bunch of novel features. The January issue will follow, with extraordinary news, next week.

So great has been the recent growth of the graduate college of the University of Pennsylvania that the present facilities for teaching professional courses are entirely inadequate and that plans are being made for the erection of a building to cost half a million dollars. Though no date has been fixed for the commencement of building operations, the probable site is being cleared for action, workmen having already started the demolition of several existing structures.

MISS LENORE BURKETT GIVES FORMAL PARTY

Complimentary to her Guest, Miss Athalia Sweet of Kansas City—Held at the Lincoln Hotel

Miss Lenore Burkett gave a formal dance at the Lincoln Hotel complimentary to her guest, Miss Athalia Sweet of Kansas City, Missouri. About eighty-five couples were the guests of Miss Burkett. Ward's orchestra furnished excellent music and a very good time was enjoyed until a late hour. Mr. and Mrs. Burkett, Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Foster, Miss Athalia Sweet, and Misses Josephine and Lenore Burkett were in the receiving line. Refreshments were served during the evening. Everyone present reported a very good time.

Several functions have been planned in honor of Miss Sweet. Miss Thorma Bratt gave a luncheon for Miss Sweet on last Saturday. Miss Sweet was Miss Burkett's roommate at Wellesley.

The University of Texas has been granted a charter to the national scientific fraternity, "The Society of the Sigma Xi."

FEW TICKETS STILL LACKING FOR PLAY

Seventy-Five Names Still Lacking to Make the Junior Play a Success This Year

Only about seventy-five names are lacking on the advance list for the Junior play. Those who have not yet signed up are urged to do so before Saturday night in order to get the benefit of the advance price of $1.50. After Saturday night there will be no opportunity to get tickets at this price and those who purchase them at the box office will have to pay $2.00. This is final and no exceptions will be made to this rule.

Chairman Harkson announces that "If I Were King?" will be given if copy can be obtained. Other good plays will be obtained in case this play can not be secured, so that those who wish to go will be assured of a high-class play. All Juniors are urged to come out and help their class.

Fifty men of the senior class of the University of Texas, the largest number that has attended a senior class meeting for many days, at a smoker held recently, squelched the cap and gown idea almost before it presented itself, and decided, rather, to wear Windsor ties and carry canes on Tuesdays and Fridays during the rest of the year, beginning January-19.

MORE STATISTICS

MANY LONG RUNS FROM KICK-OFF LAST SEASON

MENTION CAPTAIN HALLIGAN

Nebraska Leader Scored More Place-Kicks in a Single Game (The Iowa Game) Than Any Other Player in 1914

By Parke H. Davis.

The monarch of all individual running feats upon the gridiron is the full field run from kick-off to a touch-down. Prior to 1914 only twenty-six instances are to be found of runs of this character. The past season, however, produced not less than sixteen of these runs and two players (J. P. Gallagher of Christian Brothers College and A. Barnard of Washington State) attained the novel distinction of making such a run twice in one season. Four men divide the honor of having made the longest runs of this class. Their achievements are to be found in the following data:

- Ninety-five yards, R. L. Tolley, (Seawanee) vs. Cumberland.
- Ninety-five yards, H. N. Benfer, (Albright) vs. Susquehanna.
- Ninety-five yards, W. S. Tucker, (Pennsylvania) vs. Swarthmore.
- Ninety-five yards, J. P. Gallagher, (Christian Brothers) vs. Ohio Northern.

Similar to the run from kick-off is the long run-back of a punt to a touch-down. Two players share the distinction of having made the longest runs of this kind. One of them it will be noted has already been featured in running back a kick-off. These men and their runs are as follows:

- Eighty-five yards, R. L. Tolley, (Seawanee) vs. Florida.
- Eighty-five yards, Sacksteder, (Christian Brothers) vs. Ohio Northern.
- The longest run from a scrimmage formation in which the ball was regularly received must be distributed among three men, each from a different section of the country:
 - Ninety yards, C. E. Kirk, (Maine) vs. Norwich.
 - Ninety yards, G. E. Smith, (Michigan Agricultural College) vs. Akron.
 - Ninety yards, William Morris, (Denver) vs. Wyoming.
