Hey, You! Got those Cornhusker pictures taken yet?

The Rock Island has had its safety union for about three years. The men meet once a week, take dinner together and talk safety practice; recommendations for improvement are taken from shopmen, trainmen and officers alike. Not only safety on their rolling stock, but also in the shops is considered by this company, and everything from the simplest bit of machinery in the shop to the locomotive on the road is carefully studied with a view of finding the safest method of using it.

SHEDD LECTURES ON "SAFETY FIRST"

General Safety Superintendent of the Rock Island System Speaks to A. S. M. E. Society

Mr. L. F. Shedd, general safety superintendent of the Rock Island System, gave a lecture Tuesday evening under the auspices of the A. S. M. E. Society on the subject of "Safety First." He used both moving films and slides showing railroad equipment for the purpose of insuring safety. He showed moving pictures of dangerous conditions and practices—people getting on and off trains, workmen coupling and riding cars—showing in each case how it is seen to be done and how it should be done.

Members of the society expressed themselves as very much appreciating the fact that a busy man will give his time and come to the University to show actual conditions out in business life. Mr. Shedd is a very pleasing speaker and expressed himself as having had an enjoyable hour with his audience.
