

The Daily Nebraskan

VOL. XIV. NO. 75.

UNIVERSITY OF NEBRASKA, LINCOLN, MONDAY, JANUARY 18, 1915.

PRICE 5 CENTS.

LAST NOTICE TODAY

MANAGEMENT ABSOLUTELY INSISTS ON HAVING ITS OWN WAY

FINAL NOTICE SENT SATURDAY

Editor and Business Manager Are in the Affair For an Early Book—

They Ask For Co-operation of Students

The University was startled the latter part of last week by the advent into the Junior and Senior ranks of what at first appeared to be a form of black hand card ordering those who received them to have their pictures taken immediately if they wished to have them appear in the Cornhusker, and informing them that January 18th, TODAY, is positively the last date that they will be accepted. Investigation proved this work not to be that of a black hand society but of senior managing editor, K. M. Snyder, and of junior managing editor, J. Schwab, under the direction of Business Manager Po-teet, whose determined effort to have the Cornhusker out at an earlier date than heretofore apparently cannot be thwarted.

The advertising section is making rapid progress. Lahr and Krahulik, and Dwight Foster as a new addition, are working on the local advertising, while McMillan is working on the foreign. Several other men have signified their intentions to work, but Po-teet says he would like to see them in the office.

The editorial department is booming, material for publication is being received in quantities from all quarters. Some of the things coming to notice of late are that Marie Robertson has taken two or three assignments from the office; Lucile Leyda is preparing an exceptionally fine line of philosophic poetry, and McDonald is handing out a line that will be welcomed by the readers of the forthcoming Cornhusker; while Winifred Seeger, so says Editor Samuelson, has handed in more suitable material than any other person, up to date.

RAYMOND GOES INTO PARTNERSHIP WITH BROGAN

Mr. Raymond Was Prominent in School Affairs While at the University—Many Know Him

Notice was received at the Nebraskan office the other day that Anan Raymond who graduated from this institution in 1913, with Phi Beta Kappa honors has been made a partner of one of the most prominent Omaha lawyers, Mr. Brogan. Mr. Raymond has been with Mr. Brogan for several years as an assistant and proved so worthy in that capacity that a closer relationship with the prominent Omaha lawyer was in order.

Many of the Nebraska students remember Mr. Raymond as one of the prominent men of his class and of the school during his attendance here. Mr. Raymond acted as private secretary to the Chancellor while in school.

The office of Brogan & Raymond is in the Brandeis Theatre Building in Omaha.

Three Irish Plays

Financial statement of the Three Irish Plays given in the Temple Theatre January 7, 1915, is as follows: Total receipts, 203 tickets at 25 cents each, $50.75. Expenditures: Printing tickets and programs, $4.25; stage manager and expenses, $12.35; advertising, $4.75; costume, $1; business manager, $5. Total, $27.35. Ralph Northrup, business manager. Audited January 15, 1915. T. A. Williams, Agent Student Activities.

According to Bishop Anderson of Chicago, the "biggest scoundrels in the country are college-bred men." This doesn't prove that college-bred men are usually scoundrels, but goes to show that they become big in any kind of an undertaking they engage in.—Oshkosh Northwestern.

FEATURE FILM TO BE SHOWN AT AUDITORIUM

Scene is That of a Country Youth in Preparation For and in Attendance at the University

Dr. Condra very enthusiastically told about one of the best films he has to show before the Associated Agricultural Society this week. It is a picture of the preparation for and the graduation from the University of a young fellow from the country. The young man goes for the mail one morning and receives a catalog from the University; he is more or less enthusiastic in regard to taking work in the institution but his father takes a different view of the matter; it is only after the young man and his father have had an opportunity to speak to a graduate of the University that the father is induced to allow his son to attend.

The picture goes on to show the prospective student prepare for the trip to Lincoln; it shows him on the campus; it takes him through the process of registration, pictures him engaged at the task of preparing his school work and finally ends with his graduation.

Besides this one feature film many of general and particular interest will be shown during the week at 7 o'clock each evening at the city auditorium.

The Young Idea

The examination papers of school children are unending sources for amusing material. "The Correspondent," an English publication, offers a list of recent blunders:

"Ambiguity means telling the truth when you don't mean to."

"The principal vegetable and mineral products in America are tinned meats and barking strictors."

"The feminine of he-goat is she-went; of hero, shero."

"A corps is a dead gentleman; a corpse, a dead lady."

"To keep milk from turning sour you must leave it in the cow."

The percentage of men at the University of Chicago who are earning their way through, is one in every two.—Greek Exchange.

Lincoln, Neb., Jan. 15, 1915.

To Whom This May Concern:

This will certify that Mr. X has had the small pox as required by law.

(Signed) I AM A NUTT,

Health Officer.

A SUCCESSFUL PLAY

AUDIENCE WAS WELL PLEASED WITH THE PRODUCTION

ALL SEATS WERE OCCUPIED

All in Attendance Report a Successful Production—Music by Scott's Orchestra Was Also Appreciated

The German play, which was given last Friday night in the Temple Theatre, was reported a great success. The audience was large and enthusiastic and applauded roundly at the most dramatic situations.

The stage scenery was well worked out but the best part was the actors and actresses who seemed everyone made for his part. Herr Bernardi, the father, impersonated by Henry Schumaker, as well as Lenore Muehleis, as Mrs. Bernardi, created quite a sensation, especially when they showed such apparent anxiety to have their daughter married safely to Richard von Ottendorf. The part of Edith Bernardi was ably played by Miss Magdelene Craft, and the applause was loud when her fiancée in the person of Herbert Grummann, appeared with his Kaiser's moustache and commanding air. Hans Arndt, impersonated by Frederick Stricter, was recognized by the audience as the perfect type of an earnest, hard working man who is broadminded and has deep sympathy for his fellowmen. John Ibsen as the butler, gave a "very aristocratic air to the Bernardi household in his full dress suit and rigid conduct. Dr. Heideck and his wife,—Albert Wedeking and Frances Tuthill,—made a very charming couple and afforded the audience much amusement.

The workmen of the factory, and the consumptive daughter of the oldest one, represented by Franz Radke, John Ibsen, Walter Raake, William Urbach and Marguerite Kauffman, gave a reality to the factory scene that was quite effective.

Excellent music furnished by Scott's orchestra was enjoyed between acts and everyone seemed to feel that both the cast and the coach, Professor Grummann, should feel fully repaid for all their work.

REVIEW OF THE WORK DONE BY THE REGENTS

Resume of the Meeting Recently Held—Deal With the New Property For Campus Question

"At a meeting of the board of regents held Thursday, at which routine matters occupied considerable time, action was taken to hurry along the acquisition of all the lots in the block immediately east of Twelfth street and north of R, and to secure other lots in the blocks east of the University to be acquired where reasonable prices may be secured.

"The resolution passed authorized the committee to buy such lots as may be secured and to condemn those not purchased in this manner in the block bounded by R, S, Twelfth and Thirteenth streets, and to continue its efforts at purchase in the other blocks.

(Continued on page 2.)

Short College Course in Agriculture

The College of Agriculture of the University of Nebraska has arranged to offer a two-years' course in agriculture at the University Farm beginning next September. This course is offered to graduates of high schools who feel that they can spend only two additional years in school and who wish to return to the farm immediately after the completion of their college work. The subjects in this course include breeds, stock judging, feeding, live stock management, field crops, soils, principles of dairying, milk production, milk testing, butter making, wood work, forge work, farm machinery, farm motors, principles of horticulture, vegetable gardening, farm management, animal diseases, entomology, rhetoric, and drill.

FRESHMAN'S IDEA OF UNIVERSITY ELECTION

Reporter Keeps an Innocent Freshman in a Sphere of Wonder as to the Actual Truth

Election Primer for Innocent Freshmen who are as yet not initiated in Politics:

- Q. Why do students run for office?
A. Of course.
Q. Who will be elected?
A. Certainly.
Q. Will the politicians control the election?
A. You can never tell.
Q. Why?
A. Precisely.
S. Do you think so?
A. Nobody thinks around here.
Q. Who may run?
A. Both.
Q. Is it a great honor to be elected?
A. Maybe.

Rural Organization Conference

An agricultural extension conference in relation to rural community life will be held Friday, January 22, of Organized Agriculture Week at the University Farm. In the morning, reports will be heard from the nine different activities of the Agricultural Extension Service. These will include reports of the past year's work of farmers' institutes, agricultural extension schools, farm demonstration work, Boys' and Girls, Clubs, home economics work, women's club work, Extension News Service, county fair exhibits, correspondence courses, and a discussion, "Shall we Have a Nebraska Agricultural Extension Association," led by H. L. Keefe, president of the Thurston County Farmers' Association.

A program by speakers of special experience arranged for the afternoon session is as follows:

Types of Clubs for Rural Communities, J. O. Shroyer, Humboldt, assistant editor of a Nebraska farm paper, and closely identified with the organization of farmers' clubs.

Women's Clubs for Rural Communities, Mrs. Lulu Kortz Hudson, Simeon, a leader of one of the most unique rural clubs in Nebraska.

Institutes in Rural Communities, J. W. Good, Chadron, president of the Dawes County Farmers' Association and instrumental in holding fifteen farmers' institutes this winter in his county.

Extension Work in Rural Schools, A. V. Teed, superintendent of schools of Dixon county and recently appointed as an assistant in the office of the state superintendent of public instruction.

HUSKERS TAKE TWO

OPEN THE CONFERENCE SEASON WITH VICTORIES

AMES FIVE WAS OUTCLASSED

Score in the First Game Was 32 to 15, and in the Second, 25 to 12—

Cramer of the Aggies Was Star

By H. I. Kyle.

Captain Sweeney of Ames led his cyclone five into a veritable hornet's nest last Friday and Saturday when he strayed into the Cornhusker camp. Captain Sweeney will be remembered by those who saw the games as the distinguished looking forward who tried to guard Ed Hugg. He played under the triple handicap of a bad knee on one leg, a bad ankle on the other leg, and a mighty good opponent on two legs.

The Friday game was called at eight-thirty, and for the first ten minutes promised to be a tight old struggle, but as the scrap waxed hot the home boys showed their class, forging to the front and bettering their lead as the game went on. At the end of the first period the score was 12 to 17, with Ames claiming the poor dozen.

The second half found the Iowa Farmers fagged and somewhat discouraged. They fought gamely to the end, but were able to count but one basket and one free throw during the entire period, the goal coming a few seconds before the final whistle. The final score was 32 to 15.

Line-up for the first game:

Nebraska	Ames
Theiser, Shields, I. f. ... Arp, McDonald	Rutherford,
Campbell, ... r. f. ... Sweeney (C.)	Shields, Myers, ... c. Noble, Porterfield
Hawkins (C.),	Millikin, ... r. g. ... Cramer
Hugg, ... l. g. ... Boynton	Goals—Theiser 2, Rutherford 3,
Shields 1, Hawkins 1, Hugg 6, Sweeney 1, Porterfield 1, Cramer 4.

(Continued on page 2)

PRE-MEDICS HOLD A SUCCESSFUL MEETING

Making Plans For Their Various Functions to be Held During the Balance of the Year

The Pre-Medic Society held a meeting in N. 205 Friday evening and the future plans for the society were discussed. The society will begin to get busy commencing January 22, with a smoker at the Delta Chi house. All Freshmen are urged by the society to come out to the smoker as they will learn something about the society that they have not heard before. The plans are now being finished for the Pre-Medic week, the Banquet, the Medic stunt for the All-Unl night and all the other undertakings of the Society. The Freshmen are especially urged to be present at all the meetings as they are the men who will make up the nucleus of the society next year. "Every Pre-Medic out at all meetings," says the officers.