With this issue the Nebraskan starts on the last lap of its annual trip. The new staff of editors occupy a unique position in that they are the first ever chosen by the subscribers. This system seems to have many supporters and likewise many knockers. But that question aside, the editors feel that since they were chosen by a majority of the voters they are entitled to the support of all. We feel confident that no one, simply because they do not like the system or the results of this particular trial, will withhold their loyal support of the Nebraskan in an effort to discredit the system by attempting to discredit the efficiency of the management. We solicit criticism, that is, friendly, constructive criticism which builds up instead of destroys. There is always a certain amount of unfair stock criticisms to the effect that there is nothing in the Nebraskan. Of those who so criticize we simply ask a fair trial.

All students feel the need of a student paper on the campus. All enjoy reading such a paper when they feel they have an interest in it. The Nebraskan is your paper. It is published for your benefit. We ask your help in making it the kind of paper you should like to read. We want your ideas of what the Nebraskan should be and what it should not be. The Nebraskan office is open to all. Drop in and get acquainted. Give us your ideas. Give us the news—any brief item of interest to the student body. The Nebraskan is the official organ of no particular person or group of persons. Help us to make it representative.

All Seniors Take Notice

Leave your home address with the Daily Nebraskan, and if you pay your subscription for this semester before March 1st, the paper will be mailed to you free of charge the first semester of next year. Fifth and sixth year students are classified as Juniors and Seniors, respectively.

near. Just what Nebraska's chances are to mete out revenge cannot be prophesied, but when the starting whistle blows next Friday night things will happen until taps are sounded and vengeance has been gained or lost. These embryo ministers have a wonderful team—a world-beater, according to Holy City scribes. They have cleaned up everything they have encountered thus far. Their two decisive victories over the South Dakota Methusalahs is ample proof of their prowess. Beyond doubt they are one of the strongest teams in the valley. Although Nebraska's chances to win are considerably lessened by the absence of Myers from the lineup, Nebraska is sure to play the most aggressive and spectacular basketball of the season next Friday night.

In the absence of varsity games, many basketball fans have been attending Lincoln High School games. Lincoln High has a remarkable team this year, made up of talent rarely found in high school circles. Their latest achievement is a 32-20 victory over Central High of St. Joseph, Mo., which was accomplished at the city Y. M. C. A. last Saturday night. The game was all that a true fan could desire—fast, rough, and productive of results. Both teams scored heavily during the first half, but were unable to pierce the basket to advantage during the last half. Smith, Albrecht and Morris played the most consistent game for Lincoln, while Voss and Schroeder were the St. Joseph lads most in evidence. The lineup and score follows:

Lincoln	St. Joseph
Schmidt..... l. f.	Schroeder
Smith..... l. g.	Voss
Albrecht..... c.	Spratt
Morris..... r. f.	Light
Schroeder..... r. g.	Sellers

Substitutes—Lincoln, Hager for Schmidt; St. Joseph, Clay for Light. Goals—Lincoln, Smith 4, Schmidt 4, Albrecht 2, Morris 3, Hager 1. Free throws—Morris 4; St. Joseph, Schroeder 3, Voss 1, Spratt 2, Light 2, Clay 1. Free throws—Voss 4. Total score—Lincoln 32, St. Joseph 20.

All Juniors

Will receive the Nebraskan free of charge the last semester of next year if their subscription is paid before March 1st for this semester, and before October 15th for the first semester of next year.

PSYCHOLOGY OF LIFE FOR THIS SEMESTER

The philosophy department has this semester added to its list of subjects a new course, listed in the program as Psychology of Life. A similar course is not given in schools generally, but it is one that will meet the needs of many students, in as many fields of life. The course will be taught by Prof. Wolfe and will be an attempt to popularize psychology and to show the application of its principles in every day life. It is not advised for those preparing themselves for teachers, but will be of especial use to those preparing for law, medicine, the ministry, business, salesmanship, or social service work. Students are admitted to the course who have had one semester of psychology. The first half of the semester the general principles underlying life will be studied. The second half of the semester each student will study material showing the application of these principles to the particular profession he is taking up.
