Dr. and Mrs. Condra and Mrs. Jessie H. Jackson.

Miss Harriet Wilson of Omaha spent Saturday and Sunday with Lincoln friends. Miss Wilson was former librarian at the circulation desk in the University library. She is now in the medical library of the University at Omaha.

Muriel Simpson and John E. Lanz, Jr., University students, were married last Thursday at Trinity M. E. church. Mr. and Mrs. Lanz will continue their studies at the University. Mr. Lanz is president of the Junior class. Mr. Lanz came to the University from Plymouth, Nebr., and Mrs. Lanz came from Des Moines, Iowa.

Merril Reed, S. R. Pier, Glenn Everts, Herbert S. Reese, John Riddell, R. B. Rutherford, H. F. Gereke, C. A. Hauptman, R. M. Young, Harry Colbert, Constantine Oden and J. B. Cook made up the gospel team from the University which went to Beatrice to spend Saturday and Sunday. On Saturday basketball games and other athletic events were conducted by the Y. M. C. A. Sunday afternoon the University men had charge of a mass meeting, and in the evening they filled the pulpits of the various churches.

MOVEMENT FOR WORLD PEACE STARTED HERE

Mr. Sheetz of the Carnegie Foundation Was Here Past Week—Trying to Interest University Leaders

Mr. Sheetz of the Carnegie Foundation was in Lincoln the past week. He left yesterday morning. He is lining up the leading students in the big universities of the country with the object of getting them interested in the peace movement in a sane and intelligent way. Mr. Sheetz is himself a graduate of Michigan University, and after his graduation he studied abroad for three years in Germany and for one year in Paris.

The purpose of this movement, as explained by Mr. Sheetz, is to get the college leaders all over the country interested in it and working for it in a rational way. There will be no barnstorming to get crowds of students to the meetings nor any hysterical outbursts of oratory to get the students excited, but it will be simply a sane business proposition from beginning to end. The world is to be organized much the same as any international corporation would be organized.

"I do not believe," said Mr. Sheetz, "that international peace is to come in one year, or two, or ten, or maybe fifty or even a hundred years, but in time, by a conscientious plan of education, the principles of international right can be established. Education is to be the basis of the work. We are to disseminate peace doctrine just as the armament manufacturers have disseminated war doctrine." He then went on and explained how the great armament manufacturers have gone from one country to another spreading about propaganda about defensive preparations. The result has been that the world has come to the crucial stage we now find it in. The foundation intends to study all the aspects of peace and war from a scientific and businesslike standpoint and to show how absurd and ridiculous war doctrines are.

ment, will be out here to lecture to those students who are interested in the work and to aid them in every possible way in their study of the question. He is expected in the early part of the spring.
