GREEK LETTER MEN

MEMBERS OF FOUR CHAPTERS ON CAMPUS FRIDAY

MAY COME TO NEBRASKA

The Visiting Greek Letter Men Were Guests of Silver Lynx—The Local Fraternity Petitioning D. K. E.

The appearance of four members of as many different chapters of Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity on the campus last evening crystallized the rumors of that national body establishing a chapter at Nebraska which have floated about for several years past. Their appearance at Nebraska indicates the installation of another chapter within a short time as a possible result.

The representatives of Delta Kappa Epsilon were: Mr. Selfridge of Chicago University, Mr. Schobinger of Illinois State University, Mr. Barton of Minnesota State University, and Mr. Wilse of Wisconsin State University. Delta Kappa Epsilon has chapters in each of these schools, and the visitors were undergraduate members of their respective schools and chapters.

D. K. E. is one of the oldest and largest fraternities in the country. It is noted for its conservatism, and because it has usually confined itself to the large Eastern schools, has often been called exclusive. There are but few chapters in the West, Leland, Stanford and Texas universities being the only two schools west of Minnesota where this fraternity has located.

Dean Hastings of the law college is an alumnus of the fraternity and has been active in the work of securing a chapter at Nebraska. He stated while the representatives were in town that he thought the time had arrived when D. K. E. should come to Nebraska, and further expressed himself as being very much in favor of its expansion. There are about forty members of Delta Kappa Epsilon in Nebraska, and it is understood that they all strongly favor establishing a chapter at Nebraska. It is certain that the different fraternities now at Nebraska will welcome the newcomer if she decides on entering this school.

The fraternity men were guests of the Silver Lynx during their stay in the city. It is rumored that this organization has petitioned for a chapter of Delta Kappa Epsilon, and it is supposed that the trip to Lincoln was made largely with the idea of inspecting the local fraternity. While nothing definitely has been decided upon, it is hoped that Silver Lynx secures a national charter.

LEGISLATIVE CLASS CO-EDS REPRESENTED

Now Discussing Most Important Legislation—Bill Regarding Sale of Liquor to Students

At least some women of the University are confident that the legislature will open its doors in the near future to women legislators, as evinced by the number now enrolled in the legislative class. Of the seventy enrolled there are seven or eight women—more than have ever signed up for this course before. The class just now are discussing what they consider the most important legislation now pending and the debate is heated—to put it mildly. (You see I'm a would-be lady reporter, and so must be careful what I say.)

Of the bills before the House just now, perhaps the most vital to students is that one which forbids the sale of liquor to students at any time or in any place. (Again, being a mere woman, I can not do justice to the situation, so I know you will pardon me.)

INTER-FRAT GAMES NOW IN PROGRESS

Deltas Defeat A. T. O. by Score of 18 to 4—Phi Deltas Win From Phi Gams, 40 to 4

The Delta Tau's defeated the A. T. O.'s Thursday evening on the Armory floor by a score of 18 to 4. This is the first game of the fraternity tournament in which either chapter has participated. Irwin, one of the Delta Tau's most dependable men, will be out of all subsequent games, due to the fact that he will be out for track. McGurk will probably play in his position. The lineup for the Delta Tau's was: Center, Moser; forwards, Irwin, Mulligan, LeBass and McGurk; guards, Sloan and Riddel. For the A. T. O.'s: Center, Vifquin; forwards, Zumwinkel and GHlllan; guards, Schumaker and Shaw, with Foster and Wenstrand as substitutes.

Saturday morning, in an easy game, the Phi Delt's were victorious over the Phi Gamm's by a score of 40 to 4. The lineup for the Phi Gamm's was: Center, Bell, Long; forwards, Lewis, Chatt, Spohn; guards, Bell, Andresen, Proctor and Lyons. The Phi Delt lineup was: Center, Reavis; guards, Goetz, Jennings, McCullough; forwards, Lindstrum and Delameter.

The feature of the game was the basket shooting of Reavis and Delameter, the former making six throws good for two points each, and the latter being successful in eight attempts.

DEBATING TRYOUTS

VARIOUS CLASS TEAMS TRY OUT ON WAR QUESTION

FIGHT AMONG SOPHOMORES

Doctor Maxey Coached Champions Last Year—This Year He Has Been Secured by the Sophomores

In U. 106, tomorrow evening at 7:30, the tryouts for the various class teams will be held. The question to be debated is, "Resolved, That the government of the United States should prevent the sale of munitions of war by the citizens of this country to European belligerents."

Evidently the seniors and juniors consider it beneath their dignity to participate in a contest of this nature, for no one from either of these classes has registered for the event. Nor have enough freshmen registered to make up a full team if every contestant were chosen. The big fight appears to be in the Sophomore class, where five good men have entered. Those who have registered are: Sophomores, A. R. Swenson, Robert Waring, Ira Beynon, Charles Schofield, A. H. Jensen; Freshmen, W. C. Cull, George Grimes.

Last year the Freshman team won the final contest on Phi Beta Kappa day. They defeated the Sophomore team in their initial performance and met the strong Junior team in the finals and were easily victorious. All the members of last year's team are in school again this year and it is understood that they will bid strongly for a position on this year's squad. Doctor Maxey, who so ably coached the champions last year, has been secured to repeat the job for the Sophomores. His terms are "victory or no pay," and with his unlimited amount of humor and "would-be jokes," should easily win his salary. No other coaches have been secured, but doubtless all of the teams will have some faculty man to guide their efforts after the teams have been picked.

The question is one of much importance at this time and the discussion of it should attract everyone at all interested in the outcome of the world's conflict now being waged in Europe. It involves the attitude of the United States not only in this conflict, but also in all future times of trouble of like nature.

STUDENT SECRETARY IS GUEST IN CITY

Secretary of Woman's Missionary Boards Spoke to University Girls' Class

Miss Isabel Laughlin, student secretary of Woman's Missionary Boards of the Presbyterian Church, spent this week end in the city as the guest of Dr. and Mrs. Dean R. Leland. She spoke to Mrs. Leland's class of University girls at the church Sunday morning on "Opportunities for Religious Work for Women." She also talked at the Young People's meeting of the Second Presbyterian Church on Sunday evening.

UNION SOCIETY MET

Regular Business Meeting Held Friday Evening—Program Included Short Play

The Union Society held its weekly meeting last Friday evening. An exceptionally good program was rendered, including a play of five characters. After the program the time was spent in playing various games. At a late hour a short business meeting was held, after which all departed.

PROF. SCHRAM TELLS OF SOUTH AMERICA

Indians of Guatemala Are Unique—Old Indian Village Shows Absydian Relics

One of the many interesting things which Professor Schram noticed on his trip through South America was the Indians at Guatemala. The Indians there are very industrious and so differ radically from the Indians of our country. Carrying packs weighing from fifty to a hundred pounds and with two hundred pound packs on their horses, they furnish the city of Guatemala with provisions.

While in Guatemala the professor found the climate very pleasant, but on his trip across the desert near the east coast and on his way through the east coast jungle the heat was very oppressive.

While the professor was on an excursion from Guatemala he ran across an old Indian village where he found many specimens of absydian Indian knives, which are very rare and are not made by the Indians any more.

PRE-MEDIC SOCIETY HOLDS MEETING

Plans for Elaborate Banquet—Medic Calendar Shows Medics Are Live Bunch

The Pre-Medic Society held a meeting in N. 210, Friday evening. Plans for the banquet, which is to be held at the Lindell on February 12, were discussed. A committee of twelve men was appointed to sell the tickets for the affair.

The toast list for the banquet includes the most prominent physicians in both Omaha and Lincoln. About half of the faculty from Omaha will be present and also some of the men from the medical fraternities there.

The medic calendars have been distributed to the members of the society. The calendar includes two smokers, one dance, one banquet, a trip to Omaha, medic convocation and twelve lectures. In all it is a program that can not be beaten by any society on the campus.

Howard Not an Applicant

Omaha, Nebr., Feb. 5.—Warren Howard will not make an application for the position of coach at the Omaha High School to be vacated by Tommy Mills next year. Howard was boosted for the job by students at the high school, but has announced he is not in the field. Howard completed his course at Nebraska and returned to Omaha to live.

HUSKERS AVENGED

DEFEAT WESLEYAN COYOTES BY 13 TO 9 SCORE

VICTORY IS A BIG SURPRISE

Wesleyan Was Doped to Win—Both Teams Show Unnecessary Roughness—Nebraska's Victory Decisive

The Cornhusker basketball team avenged itself for last year's defeat by achieving a 13-9 victory over the Wesleyan Coyotes at University Place, Friday night. The victory was as unexpected as it was decisive. The loss of Captain Hawkins and Myers, the subsequent shifting of the men, and the trying out of new men for the positions made the Husker team which faced the Coyotes an unknown quantity. Dope favored Wesleyan, resulting in a little over-confidence on the part of the Methodists, which probably had something to do with their defeat. The game was characterized by unnecessary roughness. Both sides entered the fray eager to start trouble, with the result that the play was interspersed with prize-fighting and wrestling acts, which, although diverting, found little favor with the supporters of the two teams.

The basket shooting of Shields and Gardner, the wonderful guarding of Milliken, the splendid floor work of Rutherford, Hugg and Keifer, and a novel system of attack devised by Coach Stiehm for the benefit of the Methodists, were prime factors in the achievement of Nebraska's victory. This attack, although it was not potent as a scoring power, was of inestimable value in wrecking the placidity of the Parsons. The Nebraska players would take the ball near the Wesleyan goal, group themselves in a circle, and pass the ball around the ring. When the Wesleyan team closed in to break up the play, it suddenly developed into a criss-crossing fan which swept toward the Wesleyan goal. The whole team played basketball which far outshone anything displayed this season. Rutherford was at his best, playing the floor in remarkable style, seeming to be everywhere. Gardner, at forward, played a strong, consistent game, scoring two of Nebraska's goals, both from a good distance. Shields, until he was precipitated over the back of Johnson in the act of staging one of his low dives, was the biggest factor in Nebraska's scoring, making more points during the time he was in than any other man on either team made during the course of the entire game. Milliken and Hugg played the floor brilliantly, being particularly adept at breaking up the much talked of Wesleyan attack. Keifer, who replaced Shields, played a remarkable game, disconcerting the
