RALLY A SUCCESS

Girls at Nebraska take so little interest in athletics because there is no opportunity for development, was one of the strong points made by Dean Graham. She joined with the previous speaker in voicing her sentiments in favor of better chance for the girls to carry on their athletic activities. Development of all the girls should be the aim, said Dean Graham, rather than the development of a champion team along any one line.

Miss Genevieve Lowery and Miss Jessie Beghtol spoke a few words on the pleasures of taking part in athletics and in meeting the class of girls who were interested in this phase of University activities. Miss Beghtol very emphatically declared that the girls who develop their physical resources through University athletics are a fine class to meet and that in all the basketball practices this year—two hundred and sixty-four in number—she had never seen a stupid or ill-tempered girl, because, said the speaker, it is absolutely impossible for that kind of girl to participate in this sport.

The three musical numbers—a violin solo by Miss Editha Sixta, a vocal solo by Miss Helen Herold, and a whistling solo by Miss Dorothy Rhode—were all appreciated. Miss Sixta and Miss Rhode each responded to an encore, and many compliments were paid to the three young ladies rendering their respective solos.

The absence of bass and tenor voices was quite impressive in the final number of the program—a song, "Cornhusker"—but notwithstanding this slight drawback, the girls carried the song along in a spirited manner, and after the dismissal all agreed that the girls had put on one of the really good convocations of the year.

Michigan's hopes for a 1915 baseball championship have received a severe blow by having "Chuck" Weber, the veteran varsity catcher, ineligible. Michigan has no other veteran backstop.

CORNHUSKER STAFF

HEARD REJOICING

Calm of University Hall Was Disturbed by Sounds From Above—Most All the Material In

No more kicks from the Cornhuskers is the happy conclusion which the University detective has come to. Yesterday at half past two the students on the second and third stories of U. Hall were aroused from their usual brilliant recitations by an uproar of heavy singing which sifted down through the calm air. It was the Cornhuskers singing "Cheer, Cheer, the Gangs All Here," so from this clue the detective arrived at the conclusion that all the Sorority and Fraternity pictures had been handed in. The janitor, who was sweeping the third floor, went up to investigate, but all which goes up comes down, and the janitor proved no exception to the case—except that he came down somewhat faster than usual. If this was not the cause of the singing, I, as a humble scribe, do hereby apologize, and in the next issue of the Daily Nebraskan will print the true facts.

NEBRASKA TRACK MEN AT KANSAS CITY

Will Be Held in Convention Hall Tomorrow Night—Six Men Will Make Trip to Indoor Meet

Nebraska will be well represented at the Kansas City Athletic Club indoor track meet, which is to be held tomorrow night in Convention Hall.

To a majority of the students of Nebraska the indoor track meet at Kansas City is of little importance, but nevertheless it is one of the largest meets of its kind held in the west. Athletes from all parts of the country compete. In former years such men as John Paul Jones, Ted Meredith, Mel Sheppard and others of equal fame have competed. This year a large number of entries have been made, and several records stand a chance of being broken.

Nebraska has entered a mile relay team, three sprinters, and a pole vaulter. Owing to the lack of an indoor track, the contestants are not in the best of condition, but even with this handicap, they bid fair to give any team in the valley a "run for their money."

The relay team is to be composed of Bates, Deering, Irwin, and Zumwinkler, all quarter-milers of some ability. In the sprints, Reese, Irwin, and Zumwinkler are entered. "Tot" Reavis is entered in the pole vault, and is expected to duplicate his performance of last year when he took first, being entered unattached. He will have to compete against two of Nebraska's last year stars, namely, Lindstrum and ex-Captain Reavis, who are competing for the Kansas City Athletic Club. We do not wish "Stony" and "Doodle" any hard luck, but we hope "Tot" takes their measure.
