

University of Kansas Gets $25,300 From Football
 Football at the University of Kansas brought a total of $26,305.51 into the athletic treasury during the 1914 season by W. O. Hamilton, manager of athletics at that university. Of this $16,701 was taken in at the Missouri game. Expenditures netted $18,014.63, giving a profit of $8,290.88 for the season. This amount does not include $4,416.00 which was paid for student enterprise tickets.
 The report shows that although Kansas took a 35-0 defeat on their trip to Nebraska the athletic association received $5,017.29 as a relief for their wounded pride. Next to the Missouri game, the Oklahoma game was the best paying home game. The Kansas Aggies pulled the third largest crowd of the season.
 The largest item of expenditure was the settlements given to the different teams. This alone took $10,373.27 so that the actual cost of turning out the 1914 eleven did not amount to more than $8,000 including coaching salaries, railroad fare and everything.

E Pluribus Unum
 When Taylor rises to remark,
 On this you may depend,
 He's going to talk till after dark;
 To stop he don't pretend.

His mind is active night and day,
 He's neither deaf nor dumb;
 His soul with what he has to say
 Is overflowing some.

At home he guides the stirring plow,
 Or brands the blating steer;
 He ought to be in congress now
 Instead of being here.

When mighty Cincinnatus strode
 From field to forum, straight,
 No fellow in the senate showed
 Such license to be great.

I'm speaking for Nebraska's son,
 And I have said long since,
 "Bill Taylor down at Washington
 Would make the bald jades wince."

I hope some day to see him go,
 A mighty mark to make;
 And if he falls, then shall I know
 That justice is a fake.

Meeting of the Board of Regents
 At a recent meeting of the board of regents, at which routine matters occupied considerable time, action was taken to hurry along the acquisition of all the lots in the block immediately east of Twelfth street and north of R, and to secure other lots in the blocks east of the University to be acquired where reasonable prices may be secured.

The resolution passed authorized the committee to buy such lots as may be secured and to condemn those not purchased in this manner in the block bounded by R, S, Twelfth and Thirteenth streets, and to continue its efforts at purchase in the other blocks. It is understood that twelve lots in the territory to be included in the enlarged campus of the State University have already been bought and paid for and that negotiations that may result in early transfers are in progress for other lots. The action taken by the board indicates that the one block where condemnation proceedings are authorized will be required first for building purposes.

Representatives of the citizens' committee, interested in the purchase of the ground needed for campus extension, attended the meeting and conferred with the Regents in the matter of property deals.

A course of studies for the students of the College of Agriculture, by which all students may secure their school work at the State Farm without coming to the campus, was adopted. The agricultural practice group was enlarged to a four-year from two years.

A report was received by the Lincoln Traction Company offering eight to ten minutes' service from the city to the campus. New changes in rails and the like will be necessary, and the board took the proposition under consideration.

Regent W. G. Whitmore was elected president of the board.

Regent Brown and Chancellor Avery were appointed a committee to visit the Agricultural School at Curtis and report on the improvements to be made.

The following standing committees were named:

Executive: Whitmore, Lyford and Haller.

Finance: Hall, Haller and Miller.
 Industrial Education: Brown, Hall and Whitmore.

The budget for the summer session presented by Chancellor Avery was approved.

How Do You Economize?

There are so many expensive items of real value that come into the college student's life that it is a real problem to determine the things that one should not afford. According to President King, the four words in the English language most difficult to speak are, "I cannot afford it." All honor to the man who honestly economizes not only for himself, but better yet, in the interests of the people at home. However, it sometimes seems as though the lecture was eliminated in favor of the moving picture show, the play in favor of the Pantry and the concert in favor of the Tea Rooms. Quite often we do not look far enough ahead to enable us to put down a temporary desire in the interests of a permanent need. Bad financing is certainly not unknown among college people. It might be well to remember that a bank account is not necessarily as thick as a check-book and that the little endless, needless spendings are a poor substitute for the great public entertainments that should be a landmark in the college course.—The Oberlin Review.

SPRING FOOTBALL AT MISSOURI UNIVERSITY

Large Number of Candidates Expected to Respond to Call at Southern University

The first call for spring football candidates was issued today. All 'varsity men, candidates for last year's team, and freshmen, are requested to be at Rothwell Gymnasium at 4 o'clock Thursday. The practice will be under the direction of H. F. Schulte. Former Captains "Chuck" Wilson and "Liz" Clay and Captain-elect Jake Speelman will have charge of the work. "The spring training will be punting, forward passing, running down punts and falling on the ball," says Coach Schulte. "It is our purpose to get every man as near perfect in the preliminary work as possible. Spring practice is used in every large school and is a great help toward building up a winning team the next fall."—University Missourian.

Some curious bills originate in the various legislative bodies here and there over the country. Down in Kansas, a member from somewhere or other decided that he would make some needed changes in society by regulating the wearing apparel of the ladies, and introduced the following bill:

"Any woman under the age of forty-five years found guilty of using or having used face powder, perfume, false hair, hair dyes, dyes of bleaching materials for the hair for the purpose of deceiving, advertising or creating a false impression shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and punished according to the provisions of this act. Any woman, as above mentioned, found guilty of having her ears pierced for the purpose of wearing earrings, or to be found wearing earrings on the street, at parties or in any public place within Kansas shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and punished according to the provisions of this act.

Any person violating the provisions of this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction, be punished by a fine not exceeding $25 for each offense."

Strange to say the bill was defeated.

Football for Columbia

Undergraduates at Columbia University feel so sure that their plea for restoration of football is to be granted by the faculty that they are discussing the advisability of permitting students in the professional schools of the university to participate in the game. A poll of the campus recently showed that opinion favored a plan whereby all students of the university should be eligible, just as they are now for other teams and in other universities. The minority point to the evils which arose in 1905, when students from the graduate and professional schools were allowed to play. It is urged by the minority that the student board should stipulate in its plan that only students in the college should be eligible to play, since it is known that the increased registration there has caused the faculty to open its mind on the tabooed subject.

Make Politics Clean

The following article was clipped from the Vermont Cynic and seems appropriate here:

"The editor of this column is a fraternity man, but realizes well that he is no better than one outside for that reason. As long as he has been in school he has known nothing of a 'fraternity vote' which the town papers speak of. There may be an alliance against a fraternity man being elected to office—we are not in a position to know whether or not there is. But if such a thing is in existence it is just as bad as the suggested 'fraternity alliance.' It is your duty to vote for the man whom you think is best fitted for the place. Opinions vary as to who this may be, but let everyone avoid such runcms as a 'fraternity-barbarian war.'—The Montana Kalmn"

Kill Bill to Disfranchise Students at Wisconsin

The Helm bill, to disfranchise students in educational institutions, was defeated by the lower house of the Wisconsin legislature last Thursday. The real purpose of this bill was to take the vote away from the undergraduates of the University of Wisconsin.

It provided, in its original form, that no student should be allowed to vote at an educational center, unless he was self-supporting. After a careful inquiry, the lawyers in the assembly pronounced the bill unconstitutional, and a substitute was presented in an attempt to get the same results in a constitutional way. The bill as changed also lost.

This election means that the students of colleges or universities will be allowed a ballot, whether they are regular residents of the county or not.
