PROOF BEING READ

ADVANCE SALE OF CORNHUSKERS REACH EXPECTATIONS

SALE CONTINUES TWO DAYS

Engraving Has Been Completed—Only Ninety-Five Copies Left to Dispose Of—No More Books to Be Ordered

The 1915 Cornhusker is at last a reality and proof on this most wonderful book will be read during the next few weeks. The engraving is completed and the work by Baker Bros., of Omaha, is the best that has ever been turned out for a University publication. Everything points to a very excellent Cornhusker and the advance sale of books has come up to expectations. The sale will be continued until Wednesday in order to give everyone a chance to order a book. Under the contract this year only enough copies will be ordered to fill advance orders, so those people who are depending on precedent and hope to buy their Cornhusker at the last minute are very probably doomed to disappointment. The management have started out to smash all precedent and so far have succeeded, both in the manner in which they have conducted the business end and the lavish way they have spent money to improve the book. The proper way in which to show appreciation for this added work and expense is for every student to buy his Cornhusker at once. Howard Updegraff, in charge of the feature section, says that after the first appearance of this section the demand for more books will be instantaneous. "Delicious scandal" is here in abundance and no student can afford to lose this last opportunity to order a Cornhusker and save the management the embarrassment of turning a large number of late orders away.

Only ninety-five more copies are to be sold. The word has been given that the sale closes Wednesday at 5 p. m.

Since there are no complimentary copies to be given this year, no extra copies will be printed. It has been found that no money can be made by selling extra copies. Consequently the sale closes as soon as the next ninety-five are sold. It will be impossible to get a book after the spring recess.

Books will be on sale until Wednesday, March 25th, at T. A. Williams' office and the Cornhusker office, fourth floor of University Hall.

SPIRITUAL MEETING CAUSED EXCITEMENT

Student From College View Broke up the Meeting by Calling the Leader an Imposter

A number of University students were afforded considerable amusement last Sunday night when Lloyd Shanklin interrupted the spiritual meeting on South Eleventh street.

Every Sunday evening from twenty to a hundred students gather at this place to hear the doctrines of Christianity as proclaimed by Rev. F. A. Thomas, D. S. S. His sermons have covered a variety of subjects during the year and are sufficiently interesting from one cause or another to draw a large crowd. Last Sunday evening while he was busily calling up the spirits of those who "had passed out" Mr. Lloyd Shanklin, living at College View, stepped in front of the audience and stated that the meeting had gone far enough and that he was there to denounce Mr. Thomas as an imposter. Mr. Thomas apparently took exception to his remarks for he stepped from his platform and endeavored to lead the ardent speaker from the hall. The students at this point took a hand in the fray and succeeded in keeping the meeting in an uproar until the officers arrived and carried Mr. Shanklin to the police station and to safety. He was dismissed yesterday morning.

INVESTIGATION MADE OF STUDENT EXPENSE

Individual Reports Received From Ninety-two Per Cent of the Students—Averages Made

During the year 1913-1914 an investigation was made at the University of Minnesota to determine the cost of living for students. Individual reports were received from 92 per cent of the collegiate students in residence. The tabulated results show that the average room rent paid by men was $1.64 a week, by women, $1.77. The average for all students not living at home was $1.68. The average board paid by men was $3.89 a week, by women, $4.04. The average for all students (not living at home) was $3.93. Eleven men and seven women reported that board cost them less than $2.00 a week. The average of total annual expenses, including tuition fees, was, for men, $536.18; for women, $474.48. The higher tuition fees of the professional schools raise the average for men. In the College of Science, Literature and the Arts, the average total expense for men is $469.52, for women $487.90. Seventeen men and women reported a total annual expense of less than $250. Sixty-two men and fourteen women reported an annual expense of $850 or more.

STATE HISTORICAL ROOM IS A HAVEN

World of Pleasure Open to the Student Who Gains Entrance—Fine Place to Loiter

After you are safely by the unfriendly people in the ante-room of the State Historical Society, peace is yours. Such a world of pleasure is opened to you! If you aren't in any hurry to search through the news items of your home paper, you may loiter over the glass show cases, and write your name in the dust on these same glass tops. The civilized and uncivilized past is gathered together and carefully stowed away in the basement of the Library. You may weave your day dream from a unique Indian relic or a trim little bodice of the sixteenth century. Musty, dusty volumes are shelved about the room. Don't try these, however, the sentences contain at least a hundred words and such sentences are the private property of English Literature 12.

The assistants are very gentle; they don't care if you munch peanuts or gossip with a friend while you feverishly study the social column of the Podunk Weekly. You may study down there, too. This is a fine retreat for those whom the librarians above have dismissed. The State Historical Society is really one of the havens of the campus.

SPRING FOOTBALL

PRACTICE IS TO BEGIN AFTER VACATION

ATHLETES HAVE THE FEVER

Spring Training Now Adopted in Larger Colleges—Twenty-five Are Expected Out For Practice—Material Looked Over

Dirt-smeared pants and padded sweaters, not to mention the various other accessories such as leg-guards, shoes, and head-guards, are being hauled out of the attic and the store-room for spring football has come and all the husky athletes have the fever.

Coach Stiehm plans to start the practice immediately after the spring vacation and the prospect for a large number of warriors from which to pick another Missouri Valley champion team is very encouraging.

Spring training has been adopted in nearly all the larger colleges where much interest is taken in this sport. The champions of the plan say that it has proved a much better way to train the first year men than the usual fall schedules relied upon. But not only are the first-year men benefitted by the early work-outs; the older war horses have the chance to rub off some of the accumulated avoirdupois of the winter, and to get into trim to meet the active youngsters. The spring schedule will include the regular practices of running, tackling, punting, throwing, line formation and any other tactics used in the game. The work is all under able tutelage and the men are given the same care and training that is shown the first team when these "title defenders" are polishing up for the big game in the fall. Altogether, it is expected that beneficial results will be obtained from this system. About twenty-five are expected out, and with this number is the possibility of more yet when the fever takes deeper hold, and then is the sight of grimy, flushed cheeks, and the sound of panting breaths and the thud of the pig skin making music we all like to hear.

Outclassed

"My dear," said the proud father, "I cannot understand your objection to young Prudely as a suitor for your hand. I am sure he is a model young man."

"There is no question about his being a model," replied the bewitching beauty, "but, father, he is a 1912 model."—Buffalo Commercial.

OBSERVATORY WAS OPEN TO PUBLIC

Many Students Took Advantage of the Opportunity to View Saturn and Hear Lecture

The State University Observatory was open to the public from 8 to 10 p. m. last night for a view of Saturn. Since cloudy weather has several times prevented a view of Saturn on the regular public evening, this opportunity was given at this time, and the lecture on Saturn, given on a previous occasion, was repeated at 9 p. m. A large number of students visited the Observatory.
