About one hundred volumes of the latest Bohemian reference works have been added to the department of Slavonic languages during the past week. The books were shipped to the United States from Bohemia in spite of the disordered condition of that country's industries. The books are intended primarily for use in the summer school work of the department.

The second annual banquet of the Bushnell Guild of the state university was held last night at the Lincoln hotel. Nearly all of the twenty-four members were present, together with many of the directors. Two of the men connected with the history of the gull, O. J. King and George A. Loveland, were the special guests of honor. W. S. Cook presided over the toast-list. Responses were made by H. H. Paustian, A. C. Krebs, E. F. Reed, E. A. Stevenson, V. C. George, G. A. Loveland and Will Owen Jones. The address by Mr. Paustian covered the history of the organization since it was founded in 1910, under the leadership of Rev. T. M. Shepherd, at that time pastor of the First Congregational church. It was shown that the Guild is now in vigorous condition and apparently has a bright future.

The twenty-first annual formal party of the Kappa Chapter of the Delta Delta Delta sorority was held at the Rosewilde Hall Friday evening. Seventy-five couples attended. THE PAN HEL MEET

Sigma Nu Wins Annual Contest—Mixer Held After Meet

The Sigma Nus captured first place in the annual Pan Hel meet held Friday night in the Armory. A good crowd attended and displayed a live interest in the contest. After the meet refreshments were served in the chapel and at about 19 o'clock dancing was held over the entire floor. Scott's orchestra furnished the music and on a comfortably filled floor a very enjoyable evening was spent.

SAFE IN AWGWAN OFFICE WAS ROBBED

Thief Picked Lock While Reporter Was in the Room—Over Fifteen Dollars Taken

The Awgwan office safe was opened during vacation and robbed of its contents amounting to over $15. The thief was seen at work but escaped. The management, however, have a complete description of the man, and the preparing to secure his arrest if the money is not promptly returned.

The robbery was discovered last week by one of the members of the business management, who noticed as he entered the room that the door of the small box was ajar. An investigation showed that an iron bar had been inserted in the crack between the door and the body of the safe and the door pried open.

A member of the editorial staff, when informed of the robbery, recalled seeing a man at work on the box during vacation. He had stepped into the room suddenly while the thief was picking at the lock. The latter was surprised but made no comment, and when he saw that his actions were not questioned he calmly returned to the picking. Thinking the man was connected with the business department, the Awgwan scribe offered no objection and a few minutes later left the office. Shortly after, the thief forced off the lid of the box and escaped with the money.

The financial agents of the Awgwan say that although the matter has not yet been placed in the hands of the police, it will be seen if the money is not returned at once. They add that they have sufficient clues to assure almost immediate arrest, and that if they are not repaid, they will push the affair to prosecution and conviction. The editors, in view of the number of such happenings about the campus, feel that drastic action is needed and are in favor of making this robbery an example by imprisoning the thief.
