MUSICAL PROGRAM

EXCELLENT MUSIC AT CONVO-CATION

AUDIENCE WAS ENTHUSIASTIC

Violin and Piano Selections Played—Glee Club Will Have Charge of the Convocation Program
Tomorrow

The Convocation program yesterday morning was given by four students, all members of the Glee Club. The success of the University Week Convocation prompted the committee to try the experiment of giving other programs by students. They believe in this way students will be encouraged in developing their talent and that programs by University people for University people will be better for all concerned than to have them all given by talent outside of the school. If the student body desire this sort of programs occasionally and support them the aim is to give different organizations in school the opportunity of presenting their own program. Yesterday's Convocation was well attended and the different numbers were enthusiastically received.

The following program was given:
Violin—"Legende".....Weniawski
T. J. Lehmer
Vocal—"Song of the Soul" from "The Climax".....Breil
Earl Jackson
Piano—Rigoletto Paraphrase.....
Verdi Liszt
Stanley Marsh
Vocal—"A Song of Thanksgiving".....
Alliesen
Roy Young

These numbers were all high class music and their rendition showed thorough and conscientious study on the part of the men giving them.

The Glee Club as an organization will have charge of the program tomorrow at Convocation and a treat is in store for those who attend.

TOURNAMENT WON BY PHI PSI FRATERNITY

Defeated the Alpha Thets in the Final Game of Inter-Fraternity Tournament—Score 11 to 8

In the hardest game of the inter-fraternity basketball series Phi Kappa Psi defeated Alpha Theta Chi last night for the championship of the league by the score of 11 to 8.

Jimmie Gardner, the huskle center of this year's varsity Freshman, starred for the Phi Psis, scoring two field goals and one free throw. Selzer scored two field goals and Cook one.

Jack Hartman, the slippery little whirlwind of the Freshman team, was the Alpha Theta's lone point maker, scoring three field goals and two free throws.

The game was rough and hard fought throughout but both teams were fast and showed more than ordinary team work. The line-up was as follows:

Phi Kappa Psi—Porter, Selzer, Gardner, Book and Bowman.
Alpha Theta Chi—Hartman, Israel, Henry, Roberts, Holcombe and Spier. Referee, Rutherford.

"GARDEN OF EDEN" AWGWAN NUMBER

The Equal of the Ancient Delights of the Garden Are Promised—Edition Out the Nineteenth

The next number of the Awgwan will appear the 19th of this month. The editor promises a rare treat to the readers in the form of a "Garden of Eden" number. The cartoons are a notable feature depicting the ancient "Garden of Delight." The cover is a New York product having been contributed by the Arrow Collar Firm.

ARMIES WILL CLASH THIS AFTERNOON

Farm Regiment Will Defend Village of Belmont Against Troops From Armory

Beginning at 3 o'clock this afternoon, or as soon thereafter as the regiments can be placed, the two battalions comprising the farm regiment will defend their kin in or around the village of Belmont against the valiant town troops. This constitutes the first and incidentally the most important of the series of sham battles which lie in store for the university cadets.

The three battalions of the first, or town regiment, have had maneuver drill for the last three nights, and have acquainted themselves thoroughly with the resistance of the Salt Creek bottoms and the feel of last year's cockle-burrs. Similar work has been carried on at the Farm.

Spectators are not only permitted—they are invited. The prospect of deploying their smoothly moving companies before a crowd of spectators presents so much of possibility that several of the captains have suggested plans for accommodating them. First of all in this comes Captain H. G. Hewitt, who suggests that a platform be erected in the center of the scene of conflict and seats arranged around it. From the platform the captain might explain each movement and point out its fallacies.

The town regiment is to be designated as the Reds, the farm regiment as the Blues. The Blues must theoretically entrench themselves somewhere in the vicinity of the village of Belmont, and defend their position against the attacking town regiment. The battle will be made the more realistic by the use of blank cartridges. Fifteen rounds of blanks will be issued to each man.

NEW TRACK CAPTAIN

NINETEEN FOURTEEN LETTER
MEN ELECT ZUMWINKLE

YESTERDAY'S "PEP" MEETING

Coach Reed, Captain Zumwinkle and Goetze Talked to Fifty Athletes
—Plans For Freshman
Track

Otto H. Zumwinkle, veteran twenty and four-forty man, was elected captain of the Husker track team by the 1914 letter men, it was announced by the athletic board last night. The retirement of former Captain Seven Myers at the close of last semester left the captaincy vacant, and with the beginning of the track season ballots were distributed among the letter men and their preference sought, resulting in Zumwinkle's election. Both the former and the new captain began their athletic careers together as star performers on the same prep school team—the York High School team of the palmy days when it was the big pebble in interscholastic track.

About fifty men gathered in Law 101 yesterday morning for the track pep meeting. Coach Reed opened the meeting with a spicy talk in which he incorporated the peculiar position of track at Nebraska, the particular situation this year, the chances of the assembled talent to make the team, and he closed his talk with a few words on track training, its importance and appliance. He stressed the necessity of conscientious training in track as in no other sport and called attention to the fact that the cinder path held just as rigid requirements for the veriest star as for the average athlete. Especially in the sprinters is conscientious training vital. Following Coach Reed, Captain Zumwinkle and Goetze talked for a few minutes urging that every candidate do his part in making this a successful season at Nebraska. Cards were distributed among the men, upon which they gave their name, year in school, previous experience, and their events.

Definite plans were carried out for Freshman track. More stress will be laid upon this phase than has been the custom in the past. There will be at least two Freshmen meets—with Doane and Wesleyan, and it is probable that one or two more will be arranged. Handicap meets in which the Freshmen will participate are to be arranged, perhaps on every other Wednesday.

The half mile relay team, composed of Captain Zumwinkle, Bates, Scott, and Deering, and the mile team, comprising the same men with the exception of Deering, who is replaced by Clark in the latter event, are training hard for the Drake games Saturday. The annual relay games held at Des Moines every year under the auspices of Drake University are one of the biggest events in the West, and the Husker teams will compete not only with the strongest western teams but also with big teams from the East.

Museum Fund Increased
The Museum Fund of the University of Pennsylvania Museum has been increased $25,000 by the personal contribution of Pierre S. du Pont, of Wilmington, one of the Directors of the University. Including this sum over one-fifth of the $500,000 needed for the new extension plans has been secured.

PROFESSOR EAVES HOME FROM OSCEOLA

Delivered Address Which Was the Last Number of the University
Week Program

Professor Eaves returned yesterday from Osceola where she delivered an address on "Playgrounds." Her address was illustrated by films furnished by the Russell Sage Foundation.

This was the last number of University Week, it being delayed because of a mistake in the date of engagement.

LATIN CLUB PROGRAM CONSISTED OF PLAYS

Lincoln High School Teachers Attended the Meeting—Ancient Roman
Life Depicted

The Latin Club meeting, held last evening in the elocution room was well attended by members of the club as well as a number interested in the work. The teachers of Latin in the Lincoln High School were present.

The program in charge of Marguerite Kauffman assisted by Prof. Alice Hunter, consisted of three short Latin plays, showing the everyday life of the ancient Romans.

The first—"Passer Mortuus," was a dialogue presented by Marguerite Kauffman and Clear Golden. In the second, "Colloquium a Julia et Sulpicia," Helen Heaton and Olive Lehmer costumed as women of fashion in the time of Cicero, caused the audience to appreciate the "eternal feminine" by their love for beautiful clothes, jewels and their personal vanity. Jennie Dexter and Marguerite Kauffman assumed the roles of devoted maids also endowed with a great deal of vanity.

The third play was a Roman school in which Zoe Hayes capably represented the good natured teacher too deeply absorbed in philosophy to notice the conduct of the pupils. Olive Lehmer as the poet entertained the school by reciting poems and playing the customary lyre. Harriet Turner, Ruby Hills, Alice LeMasters, Effie Johnson, and Jennie Dexter took parts of pupils.

Columbia engineers are to be given an opportunity to inspect the power plant and elevator system of the Woolworth Building. Both these features are the most extensive of their kind and are of particular interest to embryo engineers. Separate parties of engineers will be conducted by the professors on Monday and Tuesday of this week.

KOSMET CLUB CHOSE SIX NEW MEMBERS

Beatrice Has Requested That the Kosmet Club Play be Given in That City

At the annual election of the Kosmet Club the following men were chosen for membership:

Jack Elliott, '16, University Place.
Robert H. Talbot, '16, Lincoln.
James E. Allison, '16, Hastings.
Kenneth Y. Craig, '17, Omaha.
Edwin M. Burr, '17, Aurora.
Clifford B. Scott, '16, Rushville.

At present it appears that the Kosmet Club Play may go to Beatrice. A communication from that place yesterday afternoon requested that the play be given there. No definite arrangements have been made.

SENIOR CLASS PLAY

SENIORS SELECT "THE SUNKEN
BELL" FOR ANNUAL PLAY

TRYOUTS NEXT WEDNESDAY

Will be Given During Commencement
Week—Ella Williams Chairman of Committee—Miss
Howell to Coach

The announcement in yesterday's Nebraskan concerning the Senior play contained an error as to the play selected. Instead of Sham the Seniors will present Gerhart Hauptman's famous play "The Sunken Bell." This is a fairy play in five acts and was written originally in German. It was translated into English by Henry Meltzer. The Sunken Bell is perhaps the most difficult play that has ever been attempted in the University. It was first produced in this country by Marlowe and Sothorn who had a very successful tour with it.

It has been the custom in the University for the Senior Class to present a play each year and it is usually looked forward to as the climax of University productions for the year. Two years ago the class presented Ibsen's "Pillars of Society." Last year the play chosen was "The Fortune Hunter." The play this year is of an entirely different nature than either of the two mentioned. It is the first presentation of the work in this city and play lovers have a rare treat in store.

A copy of the book is in the University library and also one in the city library and anyone wishing to try out may get one at either place. The tryouts will be held in the Temple Theatre, Wednesday evening, April 21st. Those who wish to try out should register with Ella Williams in U. 106 at 11 a. m., Tuesday.

Miss Florence Schell has dropped her University work to take a position as assistant principal of the Brock public schools.

OVER SEVEN HUNDRED DOLLARS COLLECTED

Y. M. C. A. Campaign Closes Today—
Fund Solicited Will be Used to Pay Off Debt

The campaign now being carried on by the University Young Men's Christian Association will close this noon. A committee have been working among the students soliciting funds since last Saturday noon. Over seven hundred dollars have been collected.

The money will be used to pay off the indebtedness of the Association which has been collecting for the past three years. A thousand dollars from the student body will clear everything. A campaign is being carried on among the business men of Omaha and Lincoln. A total of three thousand dollars must be raised.

One Per Cent Club
Something unique in campus clubs has been organized at the University of Michigan. It is the "One Per Cent Club," so called because each member pledges himself to will one per cent of his property to the University when he dies.
