ABOUT THE NEBRASKAN

Every year the freshmen in rhetoric classes are asked to write a theme upon the subject, "Is the Daily Nebraskan a Representative Paper?" That makes, no doubt, a fairly interesting subject for freshmen to discuss, but it really has little effect upon the Nebraskan, for the editors do not get the benefit of the criticism. No doubt such a collection of ideas contain many valuable suggestions, for different individuals can see different faults and have varying ideas of what constitutes a representative paper. Now, we should like to have the opinions of different people who have the time and inclination to put their ideas on paper, as to how they think the Nebraskan can be improved. It is not even necessary to sign your name to any suggestions you may like to offer. Send them in and we will read them. But even more than this we desire the co-operation of the student body in getting the live news about the campus. Many things happen each day about school that would be of interest to the University public, but which we do not get because no one connected with the paper sees or hears about it. We should like for you to feel that the Nebraskan is your paper—that it is being published for your benefit. We have a telephone in the office. We urge you to make use of it and telephone us any item of interest. Fifteen people, in their limited time, cannot possibly learn of all the happenings of interest in a community of three thousand people. We urge you to co-operate in making the Nebraskan representative.

EPWORTH PARK CHOSEN
FOR IVY DAY PROGRAM

Date Set for May 12—Arrangements
Will Follow Those of Past
Years

At a meeting of the Ivy Day committee yesterday afternoon it was decided to have the celebration at Epworth Park again this year. The date has been definitely set for May 12. While no definite plans have yet been made, Chairman Simmons stated last night that lunches would be served on the grounds the same as during past years.

More Tragedy

This Ignatz was a shameless scamp
And that is no darn lie—
He took a pair of glasse off
To see the naked eye.
