Alpha Zeta Entertains

Alpha Zeta, the honorary agricultural fraternity, held open house at the State Farm Saturday evening for all students in the College of Agriculture. Prof. L. W. Chase and R. E. Holland each spoke briefly and Miss Mildred Clafin of University Place gave some readings. Refreshments were served in Home Economics hall. The purpose of the meeting was to acquaint agricultural students with the work of Alpha Zeta and to make for closer co-operation in the College of Agriculture.

Commerce Department

The University Commercial club will hold its first business meeting in U 102 today at 4 o'clock. Those on the membership committee are asked to be prepared to check in to Treasurer Saunders at that time.

Arm bands are now on sale at the College Book Store. Get one and help us shout at the football rally.

To Enforce Game Laws

Mrs. H. B. Oberholser, the chief field worker of the United States Biological Survey, was in Lincoln on Saturday to confer about biological work in the state, and especially matters connected with the abundance of game birds and the enforcement of the national game laws.

Girls' Football Luncheon

The girls' football luncheon will be held at 12:30 o'clock Saturday, October 23, the day of the Notre Dame game, in Music hall. Tickets are on sale for forty cents today at Dean Mary Graham's office in the Administration building and the Y. W. C. A. Out-of-town girls can secure reservations by writing or telephoning Miss Graham by Friday night.

Fill Teaching Vacancies

Several students from the Graduate School of Education have recently been called to fill temporary positions in the different parts of the state. This teaching interferes less with the work of the graduate student than the undergraduate and it is possible that the Graduate School will furnish an increasing number of substitute teachers.

State Funds Uninvested.

State Treasurer George E. Hall takes exceptions to a published statement that there is a large amount of state funds uninvested. He points out that $215,000 of general fund money on hand is classed as "uninvested money." His monthly report shows a total of $34,000 in four trust funds uninvested, but Treasurer Hall explains this by pointing out that his report shows $46,000 of bonds carried by him as cash. As soon as the trust funds equal this amount he will exchange it for the bonds.

Better Farming Special.

Crawford.—The live stock and better farming special train over the Burlington route for the benefit of the Nebraska farmer arrived in Crawford Saturday. J. B. Lamson, agricultural agent of the Burlington road, was in charge. Mr. Lamson spoke on silos while the train was in Crawford. Professor Frandsen of the university farm also made an address on the dairy cow. Stock was carried along for demonstration purposes. Many people were at the depot to listen to the speakers as well as to visit the cars of exhibits.

Unique Overland Trip.

Weeping Water.—Mr. and Mrs. Frank Colbert, who are visiting relatives here, have a record of overland travel that is unique and interesting. Their record is that of having recently traveled by team overland from Tacoma, Wash., to this place, a distance of 2,500 miles. It took them three and a half months to make it. They traveled in a spring wagon, and camped along the road. They were fortunate in escaping heavy rains and even cloudbursts that were experienced all around them as they traveled.
