What Eckersall Says About Huskers

Walter Eckersall, football expert of the Chicago Tribune, who refereed the Nebraska-Notre Dame game Saturday, didn't have much to say before the game, but spoke very favorably of the Huskers after the battle.

"I have seen the leading elevens of the west—Chicago, Illinois, Wisconsin and Minnesota—in action, this season, and I am convinced that Nebraska could hold her own with any of these teams," said the former Maroon star.

And later, through the columns of the Tribune, he prophesies that football fans will "wait a long time before they see another battle like the Nebraska-Notre Dame game at Lincoln Saturday."
