NOTED WOMEN IN LITERARY WORK

later from the piano department of the University School of Music. She is assistant editor of the New England Magazine, has done considerable musical criticism for the daily papers. She is also the author of a number of poems. She has recently been engaged in a poetical translation of great French songs for a Boston music publisher.

Edith and Grace Abbott, both former students at the University of Nebraska, are social workers and investigators and have published many articles on this subject. Both are residents of the well known settlement Hull house in Chicago. Edith Abbott was graduated from the University in 1901, and later studied in Chicago, Washington and London. She was for a short time an instructor in economics at Wellesley college. At the present time, besides being a resident of Hull house, she is associate director of civics and philanthropy and special lecturer in the department of sociology at the University of Chicago. She has published many articles in the Journal of Political Economy, the American Journal of Sociology and the American Economic Review, and a few articles in popular or literary magazines. She is joint author with Miss Breckenridge of two books, "The Delinquent Child and the Home," and "Social Aspects of Compulsory Education Legislation." She is the author of one book, "Women in Industry."

Her sister, Graca Abbott, was a graduate student in the University of Nebraska and later studied in Chicago. She is particularly interested in the subject of immigration and has written many articles and pamphlets on this subject, chiefly contributed to the Survey, the American Journal of Sociology and publication of the National Municipal League. She was a delegate to a recent peace congress at The Hague.

Margaret Lynn, who studied at Nebraska preparatory to taking her master's degree, is the author of a volume of essays, "A Stepdaughter of the Prairies," and a number of stories published in the Atlantic Monthly. She is at present associate professor of English at the University of Kansas.

Leta Stetter Hollingsworth, '06, wife of Prof. H. L. Hollingsworth of Columbia University, has contributed valuable articles to the American Journal of Sociology.

Sara Birchall, ex-'07, has published two books of verse, one called "Book of the Singing Winds" and the other "Songs of St. Bartholomew." She is now engaged in magazine work in Chicago.

PUBLIC DEMANDS "GHOSTS"

University Players Will Open Season With Production That Pleased Audience Last Year.

A prominent university professor recently said, "I did not see 'Ghosts' last spring because I feared that the play would suffer in the hands of amateurs. The reports that came to me were a very pleasant surprise and I will never go back on home talent again." A strong demand has been made for the production of the play again. The University players open the University dramatic season with this play.

The State Journal in reviewing the play last spring said, "This proved to be a powerful presentation of the terrible Ibsen play. The five players were well cast and thoroughly schooled. They played with dignity and understanding. Mr. Clark's 'Oswald Alving' stood out as a piece of work worthy of the professional stage. He has temperament and a scholarly sureness of touch not often encountered in a school of drama. Miss Jones was easy and convincing in the long and difficult role of 'Mrs. Alving.' Mr. Campbell's 'Pastor Manders' was a solid piece of work and Miss Dobbs and Mr. Jones were equally satisfactory as the unfortunate 'Engstrands.' The play was made all the more effective by the simplicity of its production."

The same simplicity will be observed in presenting "Ghosts" Wednesday evening.

Miss Camille Leyda will take Miss Dobbs' place. Otherwise the cast will be identical with that of last year. Rehearsals have been in progress for some time and the public is assured of a more polished performance than last year.

Reserved seats for "Ghosts" are on sale at the College Book Store, price 25 cents. Get your reservations today.

The Graduate Teachers' Club

A number of persons holding the graduate teachers' diploma of the University of Nebraska met in Dean G. W. A. Luckey's office of the Graduate School of Education, Thursday evening, October 28, and organized a Graduate Teachers' club, to be devoted to mutual improvement, research and scientific study of education. Active membership in the club is open to all persons holding the graduate teachers' diploma. Associate membership is open to all students of the Graduate School of Education. Honorary membership is open to all professors in the Graduate School of Education. The next meeting of the club is November 12th, at the home of Professor Luckey, 1439 R street.

The following officers were selected: Clara B. Cornell, Ph. D., president; Miss Bertha M. Luckey, M. A., vice president; Miss Rose Yont, Ph. D., secretary-treasurer.

Install Boiler Plant

Prof. Hollister of the electrical engineering department is supervising the installation of a 450 h. p. boiler plant in a downtown business house. The plant was constructed according to designs made by Mr. Hollister. A standard watt hour meter for testing purposes and a graphic recording polyphase watt hour meter have been added to the equipment of the electrical engineering department.

Girls' Section at Games

The girls' section for the football games this year has been decorated by the three honorary societies—Xi Delta, Mystic Fish, and Silver Serpents. At the Notre Dame game, a large "N" in red and white was worked out by the Silver Serpents, who gave each girl a red or white acpe. The original committee will decorate for the Home-Coming game November 20.

An Army of Black Men.

Paris.—An army of half a million black men will be ready for the 1917 summer campaign if the plan of Deputy Pierre Masse is supported in the chamber by his fellow-members. At the beginning of the war 60,000 natives of Africa came to France to fight for their new flag. These Tunisians, Algerians, Moroccans, Senegals and so forth—"Turcos" most people call them now, stretching the term a little—have fought well and proved their ability to stand the colder climate.

Amsterdam.—According to the Tyd, thirty-four additional death sentences against persons who were charged with espionage and treason have been pronounced by courtmartial at Liege. The newspaper adds that Pope Benedict, the king of Spain and President Wilson have been appealed to by telegraph to intervene in behalf of the condemned persons.

Big Credit for Russians.

Petrograd.—An imperial ukase just issued authorizes the Russian minister of finance to transact on foreign markets credit operations amounting to 5,500,000,000 rubles ($2,750,000,000), and also to issue abroad the necessary treasury bonds in pounds, francs and dollars.
