MODISH AND PRETTY

NEUTRAL TONES ARE DECIDEDLY ATTRACTIVE.

Also There is Enough Variety to Enable Any Woman to Make a Selection That Will Please Permanently.

If you prefer a dark coloring for your new silk dress, are tired of blue and do not want black, there are such lovely neutral tones to choose from, such as gun-metal grays, very dark olive greens and the almost black shade of brown known as tete de negre, and seal brown. This is a very modish color, and when touched up with a bit of enlivening color of white to relieve the neck and sleeve ends some very rich effects can be achieved.

The illustrated design is a splendid one for a development in seal brown, with an interesting vest-girdle, and sleeves of cream-colored taffeta striped with lapis-lazuli blue.

There is a high-necked gulmpe of white Georgette crepe, shirred at the neck and wrists to give a generous fullness. Frills of self-material add a soft finish at the top of the collar and sleeve ends. Over the gulmpe is worn the attractive jumper blouse of brown taffeta, widely open in front, slashed over the shoulders and bloused over the top of the striped girdle. The under elbow-length sleeves of striped silk must be attached to the gulmpe. A close row of silver buttons trims the center of the draped girdle, to whose lower edge the tunic and drop skirt are applied with a cord finish and narrow heading of plaited silk. China silk will do for the drop skirt, to which the two lower flounces are sewed. They are circular flounces and finished with narrow plaited ruffles of the goods.

The tunic is a little below knee length, and similarly bordered with a narrow plaiting. Unlike the two flounces, it is not circular, but is evenly gathered around the hips.

The same design may be used for a thin wash fabric, such as voile, organze or crepe de chine.

MOST USEFUL LETTER BOARD

Simple Contrivance of Especial Service Where There Are Many Members of the Household.

Our sketch shows a useful article to prepare for hanging upon the wall at some convenient spot in the hall of a boarding house, or where there are many members in a family.

It is quite easy to make. For its construction, in the first place a piece of thin board measuring 18 inches in length and 8 inches in width will be required. This board is covered with pale green casement cloth, the material being turned over at the edges and fastened on at the back with tacks.

Diagram A shows the shape in which the casement cloth should be cut out, the space inclosed by the dotted lines corresponding in size with the surface of the board. Diagram B shows the back with the four flaps folded over and tacked down. Across the front of the board bands of broad white elastic are fastened on with small brass-headed nails, the nails being inserted at each end of each band and also at the points where the bands cross each other.

The rack is finished off at the edges with a dark green cord, and for suspending it from nails in the wall two ordinary picture rings are screwed in to the upper edge.

ROSE COLOR FIRST IN FAVOR

Most Attractive Shade is Given Preference Over All Others, at the Present Moment.

Rose linen is a favorite and rose mull and sweaters in rose and pink and white embroidery, rose net embroidered in silver, rose girdles and rose garlands are everywhere. And as for millinery, the rosy hats are "all over the place."

Most fascinating to wear with lingerie gowns are rose taffeta jackets. They are made in a number of beguiling ways. Some are short Eton and others come well below the waist.

On the rose-trimmed hats the roses are used in large single ones or wreaths about the crown. A whole crown of them is sometimes used. From the handsome full-blown variety to the weeniest buds are employed. Even the wild rose is often pressed flat against the crown in delightful effect.

The rosiest of hems of taffeta is used on frocks of chiffon, net or embroidery. Sometimes, too, the only rose the gown may show will be in the hem itself.

The rose applique trimming used now is not like the old-fashioned applique. It is far more graceful and has almost the effect of painting.

Perhaps the reason that older women may venture into pink these days is because there are so many more with gray hair and pink cheeks.

Rose is the first choice in dance frocks, and rose color means anything from deep American beauty to the palest pink.

Lay Cornerstone at Kearney
Kearney.—The cornerstone of the new auditorium of the Kearney Normal school was laid in this city, the ceremony being witnessed by over a thousand citizens of Kearney and several hundred visitors. The ceremony was in charge of the Masonic order; the Hon. Samuel S. Whiting, grand master of Masons of Nebraska, the presiding official. "Uncle" Bob French, grand custodian, acted in the capacity of master of ceremony. A large number of speakers took part.

itself in loyal service of the girls on the cabinet and committees.

Through the busy days of registration, girls representing the Girls' club and the Y. W. C. A., seek to help Freshman girls in getting registered, finding rooms or employment if needed. Every day of the year the association rooms in the Temple are open to all the University girls for rest or study or as a convenient place to meet their friends. During the year a number of social occasions are planned, some of them in co-operation with the Y. M. C. A.

This year the Tuesday vesper services have been unusually interesting and well attended. In these informal meetings, University problems are discussed, outside speakers present various phases of Christian service and bring the inspiration of larger visions.

During the summer, association girls through their eight-week clubs bring some of this abundant life to the girls scattered over the state. The large responsibility for the support of Miss Cappock in China, which association girls have assumed, is an indication of their desire to serve as women of the twentieth century. No less valuable is the faithful service throughout the year which is building strong and true foundations for university womanhood.

Test Case on Misbranded Goods

The state won the first round in its attempt to prohibit the use of the word "cure" on labels on patent medicines. In a test case against the Meier Drug Company of Lincoln for offering such labelled goods for sale Justice Stevens adjudged the defendant guilty of violating the state law relating to the misbranding of drugs and imposed a fine of $50. The case will be appealed and will eventually reach the supreme court. Food Commissioner Harman instituted the prosecution.

Axtell.—Mrs. Swan Nelson, known all over Kearney county as "Grandma" Nelson, celebrated her one hundredth birthday anniversary at her home three miles east of this city Sunday, October 10. There were over 100 relatives and friends present. Mrs. Nelson is the head of five generations.
