EXTRACTS FROM DAILY KANSAN

Good seats for the Kansas-Nebraska game are growing scarce. Tickets went on sale Monday morning, but already reservations for about half the seats had been made. Letters and money have been pouring into the office of W. O. Hamilton, manager of athletics, from all parts of the country, for reserved seats at the great game. Probably more seats than ever before at this stage of ticket selling, have been ordered.

Nebraska has seven hundred seats reserved in the center section of the bleachers of the south side and practically all of the best seats remaining on that side have now been applied for. Altogether about 5,000 seats have been sold.

The seats slowest to go are those reserved for the Kansas rooters. "The men must realize that it is up to them to get their tickets immediately," said Coach Hamilton this morning. "We will hold the seats until Wednesday morning, but we cannot afford to keep them any longer and, consequently, all Kansas supporters should make their reservations at once."

There are still some one thousand box seats for sale and the old grand stand will be used, there being about eight hundred seats there. Besides these, only about three thousand seats remain. Under such circumstances everything seems to point to one of the best attended football games ever seen on McCook Field.

History You Should Know—First Game With Nebraska

The University of Kansas football team played its first game with Nebraska in November, 1892, at Lincoln, winning by the score of 12 to 0.

According to the sport writers of that day it was a good game because both teams were "in a good humor and there was no slugging." Following is a brief account of the first encounter taken from the University publication, known as the Students' Journal, dated November 17, 1892:

"The K. S. U. team played their second game of the Inter-State League series with the Nebraska State University eleven at Lincoln, Nebraska, last Saturday, and as usual, came off victorious—but it was undoubtedly the hardest tussle our team has had this year.

"It was a most disagreeable day for a game. A high wind, in fact almost a gale, whistled across the broad prairies of Nebraska, bearing with it clouds of dust which nearly blinded both the players and spectators. The grounds were in a bad condition.

"The Nebraska team being on the home ground was the favorite, and naturally the scarlet and cream colors and the college yells of Nebraska were more conspicuous than the Crimson and Rock Chalk! Jay Hawk! K. U. cry of the Kansas eleven.

"Over on the east side of the field a delegation from Doane College had taken their stand and the way they yelled for Kansas indicated that they had an old grudge against the Nebraskans.

"The game was very exciting—there was no slugging and both teams were in a good humor from start to finish."

Elaborate plans are on foot for the week's campaign for Kansas spirit. Impromptu rallies are voluntarily in order and two monster rallies Friday in the gym are expected to fill the traditional Jayhawk with a determination to avenge the ancient defeats inflicted by the sturdy Cornhusker from the north.

Coach Beau Olcott will make his first appearance before the student body at the evening rally in the gym Friday night. In as much as the Kansas mentor has been "steering clear" of the football enthusiasts, so far this season, many are of the opinion that the big coach will give out some "heart to heart" news about his ideas concerning the situation at K. U. when he faces the rooters Friday night.

Two hours in the morning, from 10:30 to 12:30 will be devoted to the rally. Cheerleader Joe Gaitskill is planning to seat the members of the team on the platform. "Mac" and his loyal band will be there in full force to furnish the music and the speech-making will be started by Uncle Jimmy Green's "bunch." Chancellor Frank Strong, Coach W. O. Hamilton and Captain Tony James are scheduled to talk to the students. After the celebration in the gym the crowd will gather on the east side of Fraser Hall where corn stalks will be provided for the snake dance and bon fire.

The evening rally will start as soon after 7 o'clock as possible on account of the Senior-Alumni smoker down town afterwards. The band will be assisted with the musical end of the program by the Men's Glee Club. It is not yet known for certain that the Nebraska Glee Club will be here to compete that night with the Crimson and Blue songsters for musical honors.

The evening rally in the gymnasium will be over by 8:30 after which a parade will traverse the down town district.

The Glorious Game

And now the gridiron fans convene
 To watch the gory fray,
 And shriek and whoop with savage glee
 At every murderous play.

I saw a behemoth fullback charge
 Adown a tortuous path
 Full sixty yards, a goodly deed,
 Until he met, alack,
 A mastadon who grasped his ear
 And threw him on his back.

Six comrades of the mastadon,
 Their corked soles flashing fire,
 Rightly swiftly speeded to the spot
 And in excess of ire,
 Fell straightway on the luckless*light
 And stamped him in the mire.

They dug him out, the band tuned up
 To celebrate the crime.
 The crowd arose and screamed with joy;

The umpire shouted "time"
 Until another fullback came
 Oh, 'twas a scene sublime.
 The game went on, the crowd was pleased
 And thus concludes my lay.
 The corpse? Oh, he was penalized
 Ten yards for offside play.
