Huskers Had Little Grief

Kansas failed to show her strength during the first half and the Cornhuskers had a real easy time in parading up the field. The Jayhawkers did brace nicely under their own goal line and foiled the Cornhusker plungers several times. In spite of the fact that the Jayhawkers were laying for Chamberlain, the big left end was irresistible. Little Johnny Cook, who replaced Caley, proved one of the stars of the battle. Kansas failed to show anyone of exceptional merit, except perhaps Lindsay. The bands and a mammoth Jayhawk put on some entertaining stunts between halves.
