THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 18, 1915

"Let well enough alone," applies to the case involving the Illinois University students who petitioned for a prolonged Thanksgiving vacation. They were informed by the officials that if the five-day vacation was not satisfactory the period would be shortened to a single day. "Nuf sed."

For the sake of old Nebraska and her coast to coast fame—be at the rally today. The team will not be able to fight this final struggle alone—it needs student support. Will you be on hand?

Yes, we will have a real football issue Friday. It will be an issue well worth looking forward to.

The social side of the students' training is surely not neglected, according to the University calendar for this week end.

Even though the following be true, it is difficult for many of us to see things in just that light. "We think that conspicuous events, striking experiences, exalted moments have most to do with our character and capacity. We are wrong. Common days, monotonous hours, wearisome paths, plain old tools, and every-day clothes tell the real story. Good habits are not made on birthdays, nor Christian character at the New Year. The workshop of character is every-day life. The uneventful and commonplace hour is when the battle is won or lost."

Schedule your alumni friends for the Mixer now.

CHANCES LOOK GOOD FOR COAST GAME

DOPE POINTS TO EASY HUSKER VICTORY SATURDAY

IOWANS IN A POOR CONDITION

Chances of the Post-Season Game Depend Upon Report of Kansas Agricultural College and Washington U. of St. Louis

The Huskers are preparing for their last round in the great 1915 contest and if luck holds even and the Stiehm Roller plays up to form, everything points to a victorious finish for the Nebraska boys Saturday.

Reports from Iowa claim that Ames left that aggregation in a rather dilapidated condition Saturday, while K. U. did very little damage to Coach Stiehm's proteges outside of tramping on their corns and skinning up their elbows some.

A question of more importance to the Huskers than the Iowa game is whether they will be allowed the pleasure of celebrating the first day of 1915 by clashing with Washington University at Pasadena, Cal. In regard to the Missouri conference rule forbidding the playing of post-season games, Drake and Ames have asserted their willingness to waive the rule in this instance, while reports to Chancellor Avery from Missouri U. and Kansas U. have reported unfavorably in regard to the Huskers taking the trip. Reports from Kansas Agricultural college and from Washington U.

of St. Louis have not been received as yet, and the fate of the Huskers depends upon the contents of these two messages.

Should the Huskers be allowed to take the trip they can expect one of the toughest battles a Nebraska machine has fought in a lifetime.

Washington U. lays claim to the championship of the Pacific coast, and judging from the merciless drubbing which the Oregon Aggies gave to the Michigan Aggies, when they scored 20 points to the Michigan Ag's 0, the Cornhuskers will have to work overtime in order to uphold the honor of eastern football against the far west.

The practice yesterday afternoon was almost given over to scrimmage and Coach Stiehm will work his men hard up to the day of the battle with Iowa.
