ALL UNIVERSITY CHRISTMAS PARTY

WILL BE GIVEN DECEMBER 11 AT THE TEMPLE

TO BE NON-DANCING EVENT

The Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. Join in Making Arrangements—Form of Amusement to Be Styled a "Holiday Fete"

"Holiday Fete" is the name given to the All University Christmas party, now finally planned by the social committee of the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. The major entertainment of the evening is suggested by the above appellation, but more elucidative information will be forthcoming on posters and through other mediums. Both the first and second floors of the Temple building have been procured for the several amusements, and things look now as if the program was diversified and novel enough to attract every element in the entire student body.

Ever since the Mixer was inaugurated at the University of Nebraska, it has been strikingly evident either, that about one-third of those attending that event don't care to dance, or that if they do, their acquaintance among the dancing constituency has been very limited or their own ability to dance practically nil. At any rate, there unquestionably exists a large number attending the University who wouldn't "rather dance than eat," but who would enter into other kinds of amusement "with a vengeance." And at the same time, there are those who simply love to dance, who, if the proper amount of "something different" were offered them, would pick it up in a minute and be pleased with the change.

The cabinets of the Christian Associations decided in a joint business session that an all inclusive non-dancing function was easily within the realm of possibility. At least, strong committees were appointed and as a result "Holiday Fete" is rapidly materializing.

Initiated Into Palladian

Many Freshmen, Sophomores and upper classmen were initiated into the Palladian Literary society, Saturday night. By preference of the members a great part of the ceremony was of a serious nature, but much amusement was occasioned by a generous amount of mock initiation.

The meeting should ordinarily have been held Friday night, but was postponed on account of the Cornhusker banquet and Girls' party.

To Publish Encyclopedia

Appleton & Co. are about to begin the publication of a municipal encyclopedia, covering all modern municipal questions, with Mr. Clinton Rodgers Woodruff, secretary of the National Municipal league, as editor-in-chief. Director A. E. Sheldon, of the Legislative Reference Bureau, has been chosen one of the editorial board.

Mildred Montgomery, '18, who has been ill for the past week with tonsillitis, is improving and expects to return to school the last of the week.

Alpha Kappa Psi Members

A. E. Tenhaeff, P. T. Babson, A. L. Rushton and Alan Brundage were initiated into the Alpha Kappa Psi Commercial fraternity on Thursday evening of last week. The initiation was held at the Kappa Sigma house, 1141 H. street.

The Zeta chapter of the Alpha Kappa Psi was established at Nebraska two years ago. The purpose of this fraternity is to foster scientific research in the fields of commerce, accounts and finance, to educate the public to appreciate and demand higher business ideals and to promote in other universities, courses leading to degrees in commercial sciences.

Phi Kappa Psi announces the pledging of James Maloney of Lexington.

MUCH FUN AT GIRLS' PARTY

Five Hundred Co-Eds Celebrate—Football Game Feature of the Evening's Entertainment

Five hundred co-eds celebrated the close of the third all-victorious football season Friday evening, with a costume party in the Armory. More girls in attendance, fancier costumes, ranging from the Gold Dust twins to fairies and nymphs, and from "newsies" to George Washington, clever stunts, including a football game between Harvard and Nebraska, the presence of campus notable, such as Coach Stiehm and Dean Engberg, and above all an abundance of real Nebraska spirit made the girls' Cornhusker party this year the most successful ever given.

The Girls' club board, with Loretta Lord as chairman, and members of the Black Masque were in charge of all arrangements. Miss Ina Gittings, wearing a big "star", was official chaperone, taking the place of Dean Mary Graham. Miss Mary Clark presided during the program.

The football game between Harvard and Nebraska, staged by the two hockey teams, was the big feature of the evening. With "Eckersall," of Chicago, as referee, Coach Stiehm pacing the sidelines, Jack Best and the corps of doctors anxiously watching all the moves, and the deafening cheers of the spectators, the game was staged in a realistic fashion.

The forward pass was worked to perfection. "Chamberlain" starred in one of his end runs and "Little Tim" Corey was there with "his educated toe" to make a drop kick. The final score was 66 to 0, all points being made at one time by everyone of the Nebraska eleven making a touchdown with a concealed football. The Harvard players were carried off the field prostrate. Other features of the program was a mock wedding, a picture show, an illustrated song, a circus parade and a "hoe-down."

The costumes were varied and included all nationalities and types. The Kappa chain gang caused much excitement, as did also two husky policemen and two "firecrackers" that darted about the crowd and threatened to "go off" at frequent intervals. There was no lack of the "masculine gender" and when the time came for dancing everyone had a partner. Nothing in the way of decoration was attempted, but the var-colored costumes of the girls made the big gymnasium alive with bright colors.

Dancing was the amusement during the intermissions in the program. Refreshments of ice cream cones and wafers were served the latter part of the evening.

HUSKER BANQUET SHOWS TRUE SPIRIT

CHARACTERIZED BY A LARGE AMOUNT OF ENTHUSIASM

SHIELDS RECEIVES TELEGRAM

Cabaret Arrived Late—Collection Taken for a Gift for Jack Best—South Omaha Brings Bunch of Strong Boosters

The Cornhusker banquet was a great success, as the greatest football season Nebraska ever had, deserves. The banquet was characterized by truly Nebraska "pep" and conviviality without any "rough stuff." This banquet will certainly be long remembered by those who took part in honoring the greatest team that our school has ever produced.

The big ball room of the Lincoln hotel was the scene of the occasion. It was filled to overflowing, and this crowd had truly the Nebraska "pep." Yells were intermingled with songs, and at no time during the evening was the crowd of over 300 Nebraskans at a standstill. The University Quartet ably rendered several selections, which were received with due appreciation. The orchestra's very excellent work was manifestly appreciated. A stone image would have been brought to life by the way the orchestra played popular pieces.

Before beginning with the speakers, it ought to be said that the "feed was immense." The roast beef from the South Omaha bunch could not be beat. It is no more than right to say that these South Omaha boosters are among the best friends that the University has.

Anan Raymond, of Omaha, acted as toastmaster and handled the position in a masterful way. His stories, and telegrams, especially the one to Paul Shields from the Pi Beta Phi sorority, besides his earnest remarks, were obviously appreciated.

The fondly anticipated cabaret was announced by the toastmaster to have missed the train at Omaha, but to be coming by auto. It was expected to arrive at any moment. The anticipation of the cabaret became rather a joke, for it did not come until 10 o'clock, and proved rather disappointing when it did arrive.

Prof. H. W. Caldwell was the first speaker of the evening. He expressed his sincere thanks to the football team for what they have done for Nebraska. He said that he had been connected with the University for thirty-seven years, for five years as a student and thirty-two as a professor, and that the University, its welfare and advancement were among the dearest hopes of his life. He said that he was proud of the football team and what they had done to place Nebraska on the map.

The next speaker was F. A. Stryker of South Omaha. Mr. Stryker said that South Omaha could always be relied upon to boost for Nebraska to the very limit. The gist of his speech was his admiration for the team and an expression of readiness of the South Omaha bunch to help Nebraska. B. G. Chamberlain, all-western end, made a few remarks about "end runs." Guy proved that he could tell

Christmas Vesper Service

Tuesday evening the Y. W. C. A. has planned a surprise for all who come to vesper service. A Christmas prologue is to be presented in the service, and Mrs. Lillian Dobbs Polly will sing carols. The meeting will be held in the Temple theatre. It is urgently requested that all University girls come and enjoy half an hour of Christmas spirit.

Fremont Druggist Here

Mr. Karl Freizinger, one of the leading druggists of Fremont and president of the Pharmaceutical association, met with Prof. Rufus Lyman Thursday morning to discuss the time of the next meeting of the association and also inspected the drug plant garden.

KANSAS HOPES FOR REVENGE

Mr. Mattoon Is Preparing for a Jayhawker Victory—Remarkable Interest Shown

Lawrence, Kan., Dec. 4.—The Jayhawk is in trouble again. Not content with pestering the Kansas football team prior to the closing games of the season, Lady Fortune's daughter, "Misfortune," is hard on the heels of the debating squad in their preparations for the contest with Nebraska, December 10. From Business Manager Harold Mattoon comes the story of a hospital list almost as long as the one wont to figure in Coach Olcott's football plans. Says Mr. Mattoon:

"Three men have been sick during the last week. One of them has a black eye sustained in class football practice. Edward C. Hake, Ennie C. Whitehead and E. F. Price are the three men on the sick list. They are suffering from the grippe, and have been hindered in their efforts to secure material for their arguments. Clarence Havingshurst annexed a black eye in football practice last Monday."

Hope for Revenge
When questioned concerning the outcome of the coming debate, Mr. Mattoon smiled knowingly and said: "Since our brawn and brain have failed against Nebraska in football, perhaps brain alone will win from them in debate."

The interest in Kansas is remarkable for a debate, probably because the student body, like Mr. Mattoon, are preparing to see a Jayhawker victory.

Collect Zoology Books

Prof. Robert Wolcott is collecting for his department a complete series, as possible, of high school text books in zoology. The purpose of this collection is to aid those who are in the Teachers' college.

The University of Maine has won the 1915 football championship of the Northwest, and looks like a sure winner of the cross-country championship of the east, by having wrested victory from Cornell in the cross-country meet by a score of 54 to 51.—Maine.

Rugby football is putting up a hard fight for life. The San Francisco high school recently voted in favor of retaining the Rugby game. It is hoped that this action will influence the military academies and other schools in the Bay country to change over from the American game to the Rugby.—California.

COMMERCIAL CLUB ADDRESSED BY WIEL

PRESIDENT OF NATIONAL BANK OF COMMERCE SPEAKS

DISCUSSES THE RETAIL FIELD

Location of Big Importance in a Manufacturing Industry—Stock Raising Is Profitable and Dependable

M. Wiel, president of the National Bank of Commerce, addressed the University Commercial club Thursday afternoon, when about fifty members were present.

Mr. Wiel's address was an advice to young men preparing for business. He advised those who intended to enter the retail field to exercise care in selecting their location; to connect themselves with the heads of the concerns from which they bought—not the clerks—to surround themselves with needed help—and no more—to lay out a definite advertising campaign and to decide the very important question of whether to do a cash or a credit business.

In the manufacturing industry he pointed out that the choice of a location was of even more importance than in the retail business; labor supply, proximity to fuel supply, and freight rates to prospective markets were to be considered.

A jobbing concern, the speaker said, is easier to handle than any other large business, and stock raising is more profitable and dependable.

In closing, Mr. Wiel dwelt briefly upon the habits of the young business man. He spoke against cigarettes, liquor, the double standard and urged church attendance.

The next meeting of the club will be at 6 o'clock Thursday evening in the dining room of the Windsor hotel. A dinner will be served by the Dutch Mill management.

SENATE CHANGES RULE

Girls May Now Attend Out of Town Parties—Permission, However Must Be Obtained

The University senate Saturday morning let down the gates on the long established rule that women students of the institution cannot take part in out of town entertainments during regular sessions of the University. The new rule provides that they may take part provided permission is given by the committee on organizations and social functions. It will give women students an opportunity to take part in University performances given over the state. The new rule follows:

"Women students shall take part in out-of-town performances such as dramatic and glee club presentations only after permission is granted by the committee on student organizations and social functions."

The old rule read:

"Women students in the University shall not take part in out-of-town performances, such as dramatic and glee club presentations, elocution recitals, etc., during the regular sessions of the University and at other times only after permission is granted by the committee on student organizations and social functions."
