the efficiency of the whole. For this task, she is especially fitted. She is a Vaasar woman and as a senior was president of the College Self-government association. For a number of years she was industrial secretary of the Y. W. C. A. for New York and New Jersey. During this time associations and clubs were organized in many of the largest factories, such as Colgate's and Larkin's. Her present position has taken her into rural places as well as the largest cities, and everywhere girls welcome her with the greatest enthusiasm.

Miss Holmquist will be guest of honor at a tea given by Dean Graham Tuesday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock in faculty hall, for university girls and faculty women. Since she is to be here but the one day, it is hoped that everyone may take advantage of this opportunity to meet her.

VOCATIONAL BOOKS FOR WOMEN STUDENTS

This week the library displays some books giving suggestions on occupations for trained women. The purpose of this group of books is to suggest to women students a number of lines of work open to them, and to outline briefly the nature of each, the rewards it offers, and the preparation which it demands. Special attention is called to vocations for the trained woman, by Perkins, and the bulletin published by the University of Minnesota, "Vocations Open to College Women." The following books are on the list. These books will kept on the shelf for one week, and then they may be borrowed by students:

- Abbott—"The Home Builder."
- Abbott—"Women in Industry."
- Association of Collegiate Alumnae—"Vocational Training."
- Barnes—"Bookselling, a New Profession for Women," in Publisher's Weekly.
- Barnes—"Woman in Modern Society."
- Beard—"Women's Work in Municipalities."
- Bennett—"American Women in Civic Work."
- Bostwick—"The American Public Library."
- Davis—"The Field of Social Service."
- Eaton & Stevens—"Commercial Work and Training for Girls."
- Hodson—"How to Become a Trained Nurse."
- Knatvold—"Women in Journalism."
- Laughlin—"Women of America."
- McCracken—"Women of America."
- MacLean—"Wage Earning Women."
- Minnesota University—"Vocations Open to College Women."
- Mozans—"Women in Science."
- Perkins—"Vocations for the Trained Woman."
- Richardson—"The Girl Who Earns Her Own Living."
- Tarbell—"The Business of Being a Woman."
- Van Kleeck—"Women in the Book-binding Trade."
- Waters—"Visiting Nursing."
- Weaver—"Vocations for Girls."
- Vocations, Volume 2—"Home making."

SOCIETY

The senior prom, at the Lincoln hotel Friday evening, was perhaps the largest and most elaborate party of the year. A course dinner was served. The grand march was led by Russell Israel and Katherine Holyoke, Marcus Poteet and Isadore Sheldon. The patronesses were, Dean Mary Graham, Mrs. J. B. Wright and Mrs. C. G. Crittenden.

Charles E. Stratton, '80, now at Denver, Colo., sends in the following: "A banquet was given Thursday evening at the Warren Memorial church to the Rev. Dr. D. D. Forsyth, '89, retiring district superintendent of the Denver district of the Methodist Episcopal church. Dr. Forsyth will become field secretary of the board of education of this church, a position of national scope. The Rev. Orio W. Fifer, '89, pastor of the Warren Memorial church, spoke of his appreciation of the services of Dr. Forsyth."

The nineteenth annual banquet of the local chapter of Delta Upsilon was held at the Lincoln hotel, Saturday evening, with eighty active and alumni members present. W. L. Bates was toastmaster. The responses given to toasts were: "At Random," J. W. Batin; "Opportunity," C. T. Spier; "Our Fraternity," A. C. Monger; "A Voice from the Wilderness," H. C. Hathaway.
