

MISS HOLMQUIST TELLS OF Y.W.C.A.

PROVIDED CLUB HOUSE AT THE PANAMA EXPOSITION

Success of Interest to Other Association Branches Throughout the United States

(By Eva I. Miller.)

"Perhaps one of the most satisfying pieces of work which the Y. W. C. A. did at the Panama exposition was the work at the Club House in the amusement zone," smilingly said Miss Louise Sommer Holmquist, national executive of the Department of Method of the Y. W. C. A., yesterday at the tea given for her in Faculty hall by Dean Mary Graham. "One of the greatest problems of the exposition was the need of friendly co-operative help for the women employees, and in the Club House they found the comforts of rest rooms, kitchen and lunch rooms, and bathtubs with lots of hot water, for you know," continued Miss Holmquist, "the housing conditions for the women employees were not good."

The employment bureau cooperated with employers and as a result positions were found for from fifty to seventy-five women every month. When the exposition closed, positions were found for nearly all of the women out of work. Through the combined efforts of the Travelers' Aid, the Young Women's Christian Association and related agencies, the girls employed at the Panama-Pacific international exposition were comparatively safe.

As a result of the success of the Y. W. C. A. lunch room, the three secretaries in charge have opened a lunch room for women in New York city. It will not be run on the competitive plan, but merely as a benefit for the women. It will also be a

NEBRASKAN OFFERS PRIZES TO WORKERS

The Daily Nebraskan offers an embossed Cornhusker to the student who secures the most subscriptions to The Nebraskan this week. Subscription books may be obtained of T. A. Williams or M. L. Poteet in the basement of the Administration building. The prize of the Cornhusker will be given in addition to the regular cash commission paid on subscriptions.

The race between the fraternities and sororities is on. The standings today are published in another part of the paper. The fraternity or sorority which has the greatest percentage of its members subscribers at the end of the week will be given a Cornhusker by The Nebraskan.

ACTRESS TO GIVE $1,000 FOR PLAY

Miss Grace George, a prominent American actress, has recently offered a prize of $1,000 and a Broadway production for the best play submitted to her by a college student before June 1, 1916.

It is distinctly to be noted that undergraduate as well as graduate students will be admitted to this contest. Other conditions as announced by Miss George are that the play must be original, the subject must be American and modern; it must contain three acts, and be suitable for a full evening's entertainment. Approval of the faculty will be required in each case before students may become contestants.

Judges will include the dramatic critic of a New York daily newspaper, a well-known playwright and a recognized stage director.

Newton for Legislature

WHY NOT A SINGLE TAX?

Four years ago there was a movement to secure the adoption of the Single Tax for the University of Nebraska. It took place too late in the year to accomplish its purpose, and for some unknown reason the subject has never been brought up since. The time is now ripe for the adoption of this measure.

The Single Tax will consist of an assessment of five dollars a year—three the first semester and two the second. Of the fund thus collected twenty-five per cent will go to The Daily Nebraskan, fifteen to debate and the remainder to athletics.

The Single Tax will mean more interest in school affairs; it will mean a more equitable distribution of the burden of school activities; it will mean a Greater Nebraska.

Let's get together and secure its adoption.

ONE KNOCK, ONE DOLLAR

We will pay one dollar cash, either in silver or paper money, for the hardest knock on the Daily Nebraskan of the second semester, either written or told to us by a paid-up subscriber before Wednesday, February 16. The knock must be a criticism of the news material and make-up and the editorials presented in the issues of the Daily Nebraskan for the first two weeks of this semester. We want a knock that will be so hard that the recoil will boost the Daily Nebraskan and make it better.

Chas. E. Epperson, Editor-in-Chief.

George Grimes, Managing Editor.

Mistake in Date

The girls' basketball tournament is scheduled for February 19, instead of February 12, as stated in yesterday's edition of the Daily Nebraskan.

PAN-HEL BOARD REPEATS "NO CABS"

The Pan-Hellenic board has called to the attention of the university organizations the rule against taking hired conveyances to formal parties, with a warning as to the penalty for infringement of the rule—no party for four months. The opening of the formal season, and the tendency exhibited at some of the proms to take cabs, called forth the announcement of the rule. At parties where cabs have been used up to date, the weather could have been classified as inclement.

The rule stated by the board, Article VII of the Pan-Hellenic rules, is as follows:

"Hired conveyances, as taxicabs, carriages, and the like, may not be employed except in case of inclement weather, at formal fraternity parties. Organizations which infringe this rule may give no parties for four school months."

"O. V. P. STOUT, Chairman.
"T. A. WILLIAMS, Secretary."

BOARD ELECTS POTEET MANAGER

The student publication board Tuesday appointed Marcus L. Poteet of Pawnee City, freshman law student, and business manager of the 1915 Cornhusker, business manager of The Daily Nebraskan, succeeding U. S. Harkson, resigned. The board did not appoint an assistant business manager.

Poteet has had a great deal of experience in the advertising game and is well known to local business men. His appointment should prove a good one for The Nebraskan.

JUBILEE RALLY HELD AT TEMPLE

Miss Louise Holmquist Speaks to Girls of Five Schools

The second meeting of the Jubilee Month of the Young Women's Christian Association held yesterday was a decided success. The vesper service, which was a rally of girls from Wesleyan, Cotner, Lincoln high school, Temple high school and the state university, was held in the Temple theatre. Miss Louise Holmquist, of the Department of Method of the national Y. W. C. A., spoke.

She brought out especially her idea of the challenge that was offered to this generation. It was that every Christian girl should spread the news of Christianity to everyone on the face of the earth and that every girl should say, "I will go where you want me to go."

The lower floor of the theatre was filled, and many girls finally sought the balcony. Ninety persons stayed for supper. Afterwards Miss Holmquist told of the different methods by which the Y. W. C. A. could best meet the problems of the different classes of girls and how we could best further the work of the association as a whole.

Tea for Miss Holmquist

Faculty hall, decorated in all its glory with palms and ferns, was the scene of a tea yesterday, given in honor of Miss Louise Holmquist by Dean Mary Graham. Miss Elizabeth Bonnell sang several selections. Tea and wafers were served by Miss Margaret McPhee.

HIGH WHITE SHOES HARD ON CALVES

(By Vivienne Holland.)

From all appearances, the prediction that there will be a scarcity of white leather before spring and a high death rate in young calves, should not fall very far short of the truth. In contrast to the three or four pairs of high white shoes seen earlier in the season, the number has increased surprisingly within the last three weeks. Just take a glance along the floor when you go to that next dance and see if this isn't true.

Have you ever stopped to think how many different kinds and colors of shoes have been worn this year?

CHANCELLOR HOPES FOR OREGON GAME

PRES. KERR SAYS PORTLAND AGGIE HOME CAMPUS

Dr. Avery Writes Missouri Valley Conference Heads Proposing New Definition

President Kerr of the Oregon Agricultural college has sent a telegram to Chancellor Avery, advising him that while the main part of the school is located at Corvallis, Ore., all of the home football games are played at Portland, and that some of the college branches are also maintained at that city. The western school, therefore, considers Portland a part of its campus, and President Kerr believes that the Missouri valley ruling against football games at any other place than the campus of one of the contracting schools, will not prevent the Nebraska-Oregon Aggie game scheduled for next fall.

Chancellor Avery has written to the heads of the other Missouri valley conference schools, expressing the hope that they will take no action that will prohibit the intersectional game. He has explained the attitude of the Oregon school and does not anticipate any difficulty over the scheduling of the game.

The chancellor has also advised the Missouri valley schools that at the coming meeting in St. Louis March 3, he will propose the adoption of a rule defining college grounds as grounds located within the corporate limits or immediate environments of the city in which the principal offices of the institution acting as host are located.

In his letter Chancellor Avery calls attention to the fact that almost every institution in the country now has some part of its work, extension or otherwise, located in some large city. Many institutions, as Nebraska, have professional schools away from the seat of the main institution. For these reasons it seems highly desirable to the chancellor, who is the head of the conference, that an accurate definition be formulated as to what is meant by the college grounds.

Should the proposed definition, or one similar, be adopted, it would set at rest all agitation for the scheduling of a Cornhusker game at Omaha, or of the Kansas-Missouri annual battle at Kansas City.
