TRACK PROSPECTS LOOK GLOOMY NOW

The gloom hanging over the varsity track squad is darker than Pica-dilly just before a social call by the Royal Family of Zeppelins. The reason—final exams! Nebraska's hither-to bright prospects for a winning track aggregation have been painted a deep, dull drab.

"Cub" Wiley, the find of the year on the cinder path, was the one to succumb. He is rated as "the fastest man in the Missouri Valley in the hundred," broad jumps within a few inches of the American intercollegiate records, and by way of variety, holds a high school record of six feet one inch in the high jump. Bill Maxwell, who showed promise in the hurdles, has left school and is now working in Omaha. Garrison, distance man, is reported to be out for the rest of the track season. Coach Reed is holding his breath until all the reports are in, for fear some more of the track men are in the lists of the missing. The varsity has a quartet of good weight men in Shaw, Riddell, Kositzky and Corey, but needs sprinters, hurdlers and more distance men to make a well rounded out team.

It is possible that these scholastic difficulties may be so adjusted as to make the men eligible. If so, Cornhusker track prospects will pick up about a thousand per cent, but now the future seems anything but promising.

Who was it that said "Every cloud has a silver lining?"

No Game at Omaha

Some wide-awake sport writer on an Omaha paper has uncovered an ingenious way for getting around the Missouri Valley rule against playing football games in such cities as Omaha and Kansas City. He says, "If the Cornhuskers can go to Portland because a part of the Oregon Agricultural college is located there, why couldn't they play in Omaha because the College of Medicine is located here?" The Omaha football fans are keen for a big game next fall and are moving mountains to try and secure one. Technically the Portland and Omaha arguments are parallel and yet it has been the sentiment of the conference authorities to keep the game as free from commercialism as possible. It was for this reason that off-the-campus games were forbidden.

We Agree With Abe

Did you read the article in the Sunday Journal about athletics at Missouri? We are forced to admit, with Abe Martin, that the author was "either a lunatic or a darn fool." And what is worse, one of those responsible for its publication in the Journal had the short-sightedness to say it was a "very interesting and accurate account." Needless to say the person in question is bitterly opposed to intercollegiate sports, or other activities which promote friendly relations between schools and between the university men taking part in such contests.

training department for Y. W. C. A. secretaries in this field of work.

Miss Holmquist is especially interested in the combining of all departments of the Y. W. C. A. work and the work under her supervision reaches girls from the city, rural districts and colleges. It is the development of democratic co-operation among girls in all places in life.

Kansas

Those old timers, who were lucky enough to be around Lawrence in the good old days of 1899 and the ever-victorious football team of that year, got a real treat when Fielding H. (Hurry Up) Yost blew into town for a flying visit with his old friend, Hugh Blair, a downtown real estate man.

While refusing to be really interviewed, Hurry Up admitted that he had gained considerable success at the University of Michigan in the past fifteen years, since he left Kansas, after giving the K. U. the greatest team in its history.

Yost was one Kansas coach that succeeded in getting away from the Cornhuskers, and the resulting all-victorious team of 1899 justified the experiment.

Princeton

There are at present eighty-two freshmen and sophomores and sixteen upper-classmen working as waiters, ushers, doormen and floor captains in the university dining halls. The students do not do any of the rougher work, such as table setting, sweeping, etc., this being done by professionals, who also help serve when any student is absent. This system of student employment was installed only at the beginning of the past year, and is a success both from the standpoint of the students benefited and from the higher quality of service obtained.

Harvard authorities who advised Princeton not to try such a system, are now preparing to take it up.

Baylor

The "North America" defeated the "South Americas" in soccer, on Carroll field, says the Lariat. A team of the Brazilians in Baylor suffered defeat at the hands of the Texas players. It is true that Texas and Brazil are about the largest states in their respective continents, but they are not of the same continent. Why not say "All Brazil" and "All Texas" teams?

Baseball practice begins with a vim at Baylor. The new material is very promising and the old men have come back strong.

Washington

Twenty-three drawings of suggested seals for the University of Washington, to replace the one now used, were submitted in a prize contest arranged by President Suzzallo, but all were rejected.

The objection to the present seal of the university is that it is exactly like that of the University of California, except that the motto "lux sit" is in English—"let the light shine," on the southern institution's emblem. Professor Meany says a blacksmith designed the original Washington seal.

Chicago

The co-eds of the University of Chicago have gone on a strike because, in certain lecture courses, they are not permitted to sit on the same side of the room with the male students.

Columbia

Strange as it may seem, Columbia was founded more than a century before she had a dean of departments. The office of dean of the school of arts was the first one created, in 1889. The first appointee to the office of dean was Henry Bisler, LL.D., of the class of 1839. Dean Bisler was emerited in 1885, after fifty-two years of service at Columbia.
