

EMPHASIZE PERMANENCY IN YEAR BOOK

HEAVIER AND MORE DURABLE PAPER AND LEATHER

Snapshots and Stories of Every Notable Event in the College Year

Permanency has been emphasized in this year's Cornhusker more than ever before, both from a standpoint of mechanical make-up and from a standpoint of interest.

There has been no money spared in making the book itself as permanent as possible, more durable paper, heavy fine grain leather, and a hand sewed tape binding that will insure a strong back-bone.

The editorial department has also looked forward to a more permanent character for the book. There has been no event of the year that is of general interest which has not been "covered" both with snapshots and write-ups. The Athletic and Military sections are more complete than ever before. Each class and college has its own department, with write-ups of its principal activities, and pictures of its organizations, teams, officers, etc.

There are more junior and senior pictures than ever before, and what is even more important, they are in compact and permanent form. Individual pictures are easily lost or damaged, but when all are bound together in a book they are easily kept and referred to. Besides, there will be the pictures of practically all the students instead of only a few class friends. The organization pictures, too, with the members' names below, are always a source of pleasure and satisfaction to Cornhusker owners.

If one is thinking, "I guess it isn't worth while for me to buy a Cornhusker this year," he should ASK THE MAN WHO OWNS ONE.

ALPHA TAU OMEGAS HOLD HOUSEWARMING

The annual house-warming of the Alpha Tau Omegas was held Sunday morning at 10 o'clock, when the house-keeper's cottage at the rear of the fraternity house caught on fire.

The fire was discovered by a sophomore, who awoke the house. The three chemical tanks of the fraternity were pressed into service. These were unable to check the flames, so the fire department was called.

"Sleuth" Ketchem succeeded in turning the stream of one of the chemical tanks upon Martin Chittick's hair, while Lyman Thomas, whose garb was decidedly negligee, received the full force of the hose and retired to another part of the house.

On the whole, the warming was one of the best given. The attendance was large and the idea of appearing in bathrobes and bed room slippers at an affair like this will probably mark a new epoch in the social life of the fraternity.

JACK LANE BACK

Jack Lane, business manager for University Week, was on the campus Monday, but refused to be interviewed as to the towns that have contracted for the show. He said he would make a statement later in the week.

SECOND AND THIRD CLASSES WIN DEBATES

The sophomore and junior debating teams were the respective winners in the preliminary class debates held Saturday night at 7:30 o'clock.

Dean C. C. Engberg, Professor S. B. Gass and Dean W. G. Hastings were the judges in the freshman-sophomore debate. W. F. Urbach presided. L. W. Trester, H. P. Troendly and L. W. Kline were the members of the freshman team. The sophomores were W. C. Cull, J. D. Young, and L. L. Murphy. The sophomore team had the negative of the question, "Resolved, that the Monroe Doctrine should be abandoned." A unanimous decision was awarded them.

Prof. G. N. Foster, Homer Hewitt and Prof. H. H. Caldwell were the judges in the senior-junior debate. C. L. Eldrege, Cecil Laverty and Ira D. Beynon composed the junior team. The senior representatives were C. O. Weber, Henry Pascale and Harry Ellis.

SUGGEST NAMES FOR GIRLS' SECTION

Cornhusker Staff Offers Twenty-two to Voters

The "Nebraska Girls' Section" is a departure from last year's so-called "Beauty Section," in that the list submitted is a combination of all the types of girls in the university.

There is, naturally, a difference of opinion as to the type which should be considered. The Cornhusker staff, after many days of careful consideration, decided to make the selection from sophomores, juniors and seniors. Their choice was based on either the girls' activity in the university, their popularity or their beauty. When voting for eight, therefore, these qualities are to be remembered.

Many criticisms have been made concerning the twenty-two selected, because the list was not made for merit alone. If such a choice were made, the staff could have done nothing better than have chosen from the Xi Deltas, Silver Serpents and Black Masques.

It is urged that the voters do not let policy enter into their choice, but that they choose with the above named qualifications in mind—beauty, popularity and activity. If those suggested, do not suit, the voters may pick eight original ones.

The girls that have been suggested on the ballot are as follows:

- Louise Brownell,
- Jean Burroughs,
- Louise Coe,
- Jeannette Finney,
- Phebe Folsom,
- Lucile Foster,
- Edna Froyd,
- Carolyn Funke,
- LaRue Gillern,
- Loa Howard,
- Marion Kastle,
- Camille Leyda,
- Lucille Leyda,
- Marjorie Martin,
- Lulu Mitchell,
- Marie Rowley,
- Doris Scroggin,
- Doris Slater,
- Louise Stoll,
- Ethel Stone,
- Genevieve Welch
- Edith Yungblut.

PERSINGER BEFORE OUTLOOK SEMINAR

South America Is the Topic for Tonight's Meeting

Professor Persinger, of the American History department, will give an illustrated lecture on South America before the World Outlook Seminar tonight in the Y. M. C. A. room of the Temple, at 7:15 o'clock. This is the second of a series of eight meetings of this organization under the direction of the Y. M. C. A. The meeting is open to all university men.

No man in the university is better qualified to speak on South American conditions and pan-Americanism than Professor Persinger. He has made several trips to the south and has been a keen observer and student of all phases of South American development. "Sometimes we think this country is boss-ridden," declared Professor Persinger, "but you ought to see some of the so-called South American republics." The politics of the states, their relations to each other and their feeling toward the United States will be discussed. The talk will be illustrated by a large number of slides made from pictures taken by the speaker.

The major portion of the time will be given to Brazil, Chile, Argentina and Peru. The first three named were conspicuous in the "ABC" alliance during the time of our recent unpleasantness with Mexico. The basic thought underlying the talk will be the relation of the United States to its southern neighbors and the real meaning of pan-Americanism as applied to social, industrial, religious, commercial and civic institutions.

The World Outlook Seminar, open to all students, is trying to solve the need that university men have for a broader outlook upon international affairs that are coming more and more into prominence. The meetings are planned and directed by the university Y. M. C. A., and draw talent mostly from the campus.

MOTOR MARATHON FOR CORNHUSKER

Fifteen University Girls in a Thrilling Race

Fifteen motor cars, driven by fifteen co-eds will race all the rest of the week on the east side of the Cornhusker booth between U hall and the Armory. The race will be a close one, as all the cars entered are racing cars and the drivers are experienced.

The following is a list of the entered cars with their drivers:

- Packard, Catherine Newbranch;
- Rambler; LaRue Gillern; Chalmers, Margaret Davidson, King, Edna Pegler; Detroit, Louise Coe; Hupmobile, Hester Dickenson; Cadillac, Edna Froyd; Ford, Doris Slater; Dodge, Myrtle Beeler, Saxon, Vivienne Holland; Paige, Fannie Malzacher; Peerless, Ruth Whitmore; Buick, Dorothy Davies; Stearns-Knight, Doris Scroggin; Overland, Fern Simmonds.

The race starts Tuesday, February 29, at 3:25 p. m. and closes at 6 p. m. Saturday, March 4.

H. P. Miller has returned to the university in order to complete his course in electrical engineering. He has been in the employ of C. L. Lewis, '15.

DR. HYDE LECTURES BEFORE SIGMA XI

"Fighting has become a science resting on the correlation of various phases of a number of other sciences, among which may be mentioned physics, physiology, and psychology," said Dr. Edward P. Hyde, of the Nela Park research laboratory of Cleveland, Ohio, at the February open meeting of Sigma XI, which was held in the general lecture room of the Physics building, last night.

Dr. Hyde analyzed the efficiency of light production and compared the efficiency of various artificial light sources with that of the firefly and that of the theoretical source of highest possible efficiency. He then discussed the "Mazda C" and gas-filled Tungsten lamp. The importance of color in lighting was discussed and the advances in the production of artificial daylight shown. Dr. Hyde completed his lecture by briefly reviewing the organization and work of Nela Park research laboratory at Cleveland and the National Lamp Works of the General Electric company.

MORE NAMES FOR NEBR. GIRLS' SECTION

The Daily Nebraskan Proposes Some Additional Girls

The Cornhusker staff has proposed the names of twenty-two girls for the Nebraska Girl's Section of this year's annual. The ballot provided by the Cornhusker leaves eight blank spaces for names to be written in, the staff suggesting that its list is by no means complete.

The Daily Nebraskan begs leave to offer its help to the Cornhusker and the voters, and suggests an additional list of names as worthy of consideration. It is the belief of The Nebraskan that for all around worth, the following upperclass women students would bear careful consideration.

The Nebraskan's suggestions are:

- Florence Angle,
- Ethel Arnold,
- Josephine Ballard,
- Agnes Bartlett,
- Ruth Beecher,
- Edith Brown,
- Ermine Carmean,
- Dorothy Carns,
- Lulu Mae Coe,
- Edna Coffee,
- Magdalene Craft,
- Marie Cusack,
- Amy Dickinson,
- Gladys Dominy,
- Dorothy Ellsworth,
- Cornelia Frazier,
- Marion Hall,
- Mary Haller,
- Vivienne Holland,
- Milrae Judkins,
- Marguerite Kauffman,
- Camilla Koch,
- Lauretta Lord,
- Fannie Malzacher,
- Eva Miller,
- Ruth Mills,
- Carrie Moodie,
- Gertrude Munger,
- Edna Olson,
- Catharine Pierce,
- Melba Quigley,
- Louise Scharland,
- Geneva Seegar,
- Lulu Shade,
- Isadore Sheldon,
- Esther Smith,
- Freda Stuff,
- Ramona Troup,
- Marion Watkins,
- Nell Youngers.

REED WINS PRIZE OF CORNHUSKER

SUBMITS TEN BEST REASONS FOR FRESHMAN

Display Real College Spirit and Recall Many Treasured Memories

Harry L. Reed, of Beaver Crossing, won the Cornhusker for the best ten reasons why a freshman should buy the university year book:

The winning reasons are as follows:

It will show that you have the real college spirit.

Your first year will have a great many treasured memories for you—perhaps more than any other year, and these can always be vividly brought back by the Cornhusker.

Don't allow yourself to think that you can't spare the money. Cut out a few of your other enjoyments, for they will be lost as the proverbial "snow flake." In the Cornhusker you have something that will always live.

Ask graduates. They will tell you that their Cornhuskers are priceless to them. Why should we make mistakes when we know what to do?

As a purely business proposition, it could not be better. Next year alone you will realize over 100 per cent on your investment, and it will more than double with each succeeding year.

We want to be boosters. The Cornhusker will be a silent booster for our university when others look at it.

The university has had an unusually brilliant year in football, basketball and debating. We are very proud indeed of our school's showing. A 1916 Cornhusker will always give us that proud feeling for our university whenever we open it.

Our posterity will greatly enjoy seeing how we looked when at college. The Cornhusker will mean something to us then.

Don't say that you will wait until your sophomore or junior year and then get one. Afterwards you will find there is a void somewhere in your college life, and that somewhere can be only attended to this year with a 1916 Cornhusker.

What if they had printed no Cornhusker this year? We would all have had much to say concerning the unloyalty of the upperclassmen in overturning a time honored custom. But the Cornhusker is printed—will our loyalty still show itself? Let every freshman reply with a rousing, "yes."

Among the other good reasons submitted, these received honorable mention:

The 1916 Cornhusker is going to be a book you will take pleasure in showing to your friends.

CONVOCAION

The Leap-Year Cornhusker convocation program today is novel, interesting and impressive. It is as follows:

- Introduction—Harold J. Schwab.
- Music—Cornhusker quartet.
- Five-Minute Talk—Prof. W. T. Dann.
- "The Inevitable," a skit—Catharine Pierce and Dick Koupal.
- The Mysterious Maze?
