THE CORNHUSKER

Today you will be asked to subscribe for the Cornhusker, the Nebraska annual. Just what the book will be this year, you will be told in another part of this paper. It might be said here that we have never been given a book which was not worth the money, and this year will be no exception to the rule.

Your duty on this proposition is not only one to the book, but to yourself. The Cornhusker is the embodiment of the year's events. It is the record of the life of the student community for an important part of its existence. It is a great addition to the traditions of a great school.

Twenty years from now if you don't subscribe, you will be willing to give many times the purchase price of the book for a copy of it. It alone will be able to recall to your mind the sense images of the most enjoyable period of your life. The few dollars you will pay for it will not be of consequence then, but the memories of your college course will be priceless.

"Preserve the present for the future."

THE OMAHA MEDICS

That the University of Nebraska Medical School at Omaha is boosting for greater things for Nebraska is indicated by a copy of "The Rules" received today at this office. The issue is the "Cornhusker Number," and on the front page is the greeting, "Omaha to Lincoln, 'What Is Sixty Miles Between Friends?'"

We must not forget that the Omaha branch is still a part of us, and an important part. The people up there deserve proper mention from every possible source. It is to be hoped that the Cornhusker gives them the recognition they suggest as their due.

SINGLE TAX OUT TOMORROW

Last week, The Nebraskan promised to submit the final plan on the Single Tax in today's issue. At that time we overlooked the fact that this issue was to be devoted to the Cornhusker. This necessitates postponing until tomorrow the report. Watch for it.

UNIVERSITY NOTICES

All 9 o'clock classes in the engineering department are dismissed today in order to hear the lecture of E. P. Hyde in M. E. 206.

The Lincoln Commercial club will entertain in its rooms on Wednesday evening, March 1, the University Commercial club.

There will be a meeting of the Pharmaceutical society today at 5 o'clock in the afternoon, in N 2.

S. P. Parker, E. E. '14, is in the employ of the telephone company at Des Moines, Iowa.

LAW AND MEDICINE AS PROFESSIONS

A number of books on law and medicine as professions are placed in the reading room for this week. One book contains many articles by well known men on the opportunities offered in both of these callings.

Beveridge, "The Young Lawyer."
Billings, "Medicine as a Career."
Brandeis, "The Opportunity in the Law."

Brewer, "The Ideal Lawyer."
Cleveland, "The Country Lawyer in National Affairs."

Holmes, "Doctors, Lawyers and Ministers."
Pritchett, "How to Study Medicine."
Shears, "Choice of Medicine as a Profession."

Some other works of interest are:
Flexner, "Medical Education in the U. S."
Flexner, "Medical Education in Europe."

Dos Passos, "The American Lawyer."
Harris, "Letters to a Young Lawyer."
Osler, "Evolution of Modern Medicine."

Warren, "History of the American Bar."
Wellman, "Art of Cross Examination."
Wellman, "Day in Court."

Teach Teachers Athletics

Under the tutelage of Coach Bennie Owen, Oklahoma will give a course in athletic during the summer school this year. The main purpose is to instruct the teachers attending the university in the summer how to coach high school athletics. The course will include the building and management of playgrounds.

Printing that's better, at Boyd's, 125 North 12th.

Scott's Orchestra. Call, B-1482.

LOST—Ladies' watch, in leather bracelet; between Lyric and 1220 R street. Return to Student Activities office. Reward. 99-191

REED WINS PRIZE OF CORNHUSKER

Reading and owning one will always inspire in the freshman more loyalty and pride for his school.

It will be a much prized addition to the freshman's growing library.

You will find the picture of your best girl—the one you met at the mixer.

The Cornhusker will serve the freshman as an all around directory. Every little while we hear some one say: "I don't know, but we can look him up in the Cornhusker."

The fellow who has spirit enough to buy a Cornhusker prefers to tear, crease or dirty the pages of his book himself. Outside help is not appreciated.

The Cornhusker in the home will put the family album out of business as a means for sister to entertain her youthful swain.

Before completing your university course, you will undoubtedly desire a complete set representing each school year and it will be practically impossible to buy them later; therefore, "Do It Now."

STATE SHOULD OPERATE MOVIES, SAYS MCKEEVER

Lawrence, Kan., Feb. 23.—That the state of Kansas should own and control the movies and that by so doing a million dollars annually could be turned into the school funds, was the substance of a plan advanced by Prof. W. A. McKeever, head of the department of Child Welfare, last night at a joint assembly of the Y. M. and Y. W. in Myers' hall.

"The state of Kansas should take over the motion picture business just as it has the publication of text books," said Professor McKeever. The motion pictures today are our greatest educational force, and yet it is in the hands of commercialists, and not in the hands of educators, where it belongs.

"A state board of educators who had full control and management of motion pictures could, at present prices, clear a million dollars annually for the school fund and thus raise a much needed revenue.

"Our state censorship has done a most courageous and commendable work, but it is placed by law at the losing end of the game. Seventy-five per cent of the films shown in Kansas today are cheap and mediocre productions and about half of them are depictions of some base crime or other form of moral depravity."
