CONFERENCE PERMITS OREGON GAME

NO OPPOSITION TO WESTERN TRIP OF TEAM DEVELOPS

New Ruling Adopted, However, Which Prohibits Similar Games in the Future

Expected opposition to Nebraska's football game with the Oregon Agricultural college, to be played at Portland Ore., next fall, did not develop at the meeting of the Missouri valley conference schools, held at St. Louis yesterday. This is the word sent to The Daily Nebraskan by Chancellor Avery, Nebraska's representative at the conference and president this year.

The conference representatives did, however, adopt a resolution that will absolutely prevent the staging of another game with the Oregon school at Portland. This resolution, proposed by Chancellor Avery, makes it imperative that all games be played on the home grounds of one of the competing schools, and defines home grounds as the place where the executive offices of the school are located.

The executive offices of the Oregon Agricultural college are located at Corvallis, not Portland. President Kern recently wrote the chancellor, however, that all of their football games have been scheduled at Portland and that that city has always been considered their home grounds. This interpretation by President Kern was accepted by the conference delegates so that Nebraska may play her game next fall.

The new rule may cause a clash at some future date, as it is certain that Nebraska, continuing her record of the past half dozen years, is going to have offers from schools of greater importance. Some of them do not play their games on the home grounds but select some large city where the alumni of the institution may have a better opportunity of seeing their alma mater perform. When such an offer comes to Nebraska, and is perforce refused on account of the new definition, there will be a strong demand that the leading Cornhusker school throw off the shackles of the Missouri valley conference, and either move into higher ranks or become independent.

The Student Should Know—

STATION A

Do you know that Station A is the busiest postoffice station in the city? Nearly four thousand people are accommodated by having it on the campus.

Station A was established in 1901 and has been steadily growing. Last year the receipts amounted to nearly $16,000, and the money order business done was nearly $25,000. Station A is the only station in the city that transacts international money order business. Over 1,300 pieces of registered mail were handled during the year 1915. Also more than 1,000 insured and C. O. D. parcels post packages were taken care of. There is no account kept in the parcels post

FIRE BREAKS OUT IN ARMORY

Fire, starting in a small box of sawdust, and probably started by a cigar stub or cigarette, burned a hole a foot square in the Armory floor early Sunday morning. Night Watchman J. W. Bunch saw the flames and was able to put out the blaze before the department came. The fire was in the southwest corner of the Armory, and was discovered at 1:40 a. m. The school of agriculture had played a basketball game the evening before.

VIVIENNE HOLLAND WINS WRIST WATCH

Secures 256 Cornhusker Buyers—
Fannie Malzacher Second

Vivienne Holland won the prize of a gold wrist watch offered by the Cornhusker staff to the girl who secured the most subscriptions for the year book. She got 256 orders, ten more than Fannie Malzacher, who was second, and won a chafing dish and a Cornhusker. Hester Dickinson was third with 163; Doris Slater fourth, with 142, and Larue Gillern fifth.

TRI DELTS CAPTURED COLORED COOK

How did the Tri Delts get the waiter for their dance Friday night? Was it by bribery, kidnaping or dark and deadly threats?

The men who gave the "James dance" in the Armory made elaborate preparations for the entertainment of their guests. Parallel bars and side horses were placed artistically in various parts of the gymnasium, for those present to sit upon; flying rings were suspended from the ceiling and the balcony was filled with spectators. Only one thing was lacking—no one officiated at the punch bowl. Arrangements had been made for the Delta Upsilon cook to grace this position, but he came not.

Saturday the deserter was called to account for his absence. He insisted he went to the dance and did his duty. When asked how many couples attended the dance, he said "thirty," for it was the Delta Delta dance at Art hall that had his service, and not the gym dance in the Armory. The mystery is still unsolved; how did the girls do it?

department, but it is estimated that nearly 61,000 parcels were sent out during the year ending December 31, and about as many more were received there and delivered either through the boxes, general delivery or carrier 36.

About 300 people receive their mail through boxes rented at the station. Five hundred or more call at the general delivery window for mail, including The Daily Nebraskan and the Awgwan. Members of the faculty and executive staff are served by H. C. Witte, carrier 36.

Miss Gunnison has been in charge of this station since 1908. She has but one assistant, E. C. Talbott.

Mail is received and dispatched four times daily.

DR. STEWART COMES TO UNIVERSITY TODAY

New Coach to Spend a Week Looking Over New Home

Dr. E. J. Stewart, new coach of the Cornhuskers, will arrive in Lincoln some time today. He expects to spend a week with the Cornhusker institution, looking over the material for the 1916 team, watching the high school tournament and getting acquainted with conditions generally.

Dr. Stewart will line up the coaching problem for the spring practice, with Dick Rutherford, assistant coach, during his stay this week.

The university extends to the new coach its heartiest welcome, and hopes that he may feel that his change from the west to the middle west is a good one.

John Cook's Father Dies

Word was received Saturday from Beatrice of the death there of Dan W. Cook, father of John Cook, '18. Mr. Cook has been seriously ill for several months, and his son was called home from the university a week ago.

EMPLOYMENT BUREAU FILLING MANY JOBS

The employment bureau of the university shows by its monthly report that it has grown and is handling with ease the purpose for which it was started.

Last month, sixty-eight odd jobs were filled. There were thirty-seven steady jobs filled, the majority of which netted the student two or three meals per day. Some of the jobs were worth $30 per month, while others brought in sums from $10 up.

UNIVERSITY NIGHT PROVES POPULAR

Best Performance Yet—Gallery to Pit Full—Muffler On?

University Night was held Saturday, the Oliver was packed from pit to gallery with a mob that obeyed the chancellor's request for a judicious use of the muffler, and the performance was a success, from every point of view. To attempt a criticism of the show when everyone saw it and has formed his own opinion, would be almost reckless, and assuredly useless. Certain it is that the sketches were on a higher plane than those of a year ago.

The last two numbers, "Tiny Thumps" and "The County Fair," were perhaps the least worthy of the performances. The pre-medical sketch was too realistically funny; it was one of the decided hits of the evening. The Phys. Ed. girls, with their tennis drill and their song, were most attractive, and Howard Granden's one string violin, Jimmy Allison's musical horeshoes and Irving Baker's steel guitar were excellent. The Glee club and band excelled their former splendid records, and the Palladian and Union skit was good. Sigma Delta Chi, with a clever sketch featuring Ruth Morgan and Eva Miller, and ending with the annual production of the ever-popular "Shun" had one of the best bits.

CORRECTION IN LIST OF SILVER SERPENTS

In the list of Silver Serpents in Friday's paper, the names of Doris Weaver and Ruth Quigley were unintentionally omitted. Both girls were elected last spring and have been active members all year.

WHAT PROMINENT UNIVERSITY PEOPLE THINK OF THE SINGLE TAX

"To my mind the adoption of the Single Tax would be the greatest force for the making of good universal citizenship that has ever been proposed. It equalizes the burden for the support of student activities and would permit because of the added financial backing a high standard in every department. The Daily Nebraskan should be a much larger paper to be commensurate with the size of our university. It is doubtful whether the fee as proposed would add more money to the athletic treasury, but it would awaken an interest in every student and arouse a greater spirit to inspire our teams in competitive athletics. Within the next few years Nebraska must have

FOUR TOWNS GET UNI. WEEK SHOWS

DAVID CITY, SEWARD, SCHUYLER AND NORTH BEND SIGN UP

Fremont May Take the Shows—Plans Now Completed for Vacation Trip

David City, Seward, Schuyler, North Bend and possibly Fremont will be the towns visited by University Week this year, according to an announcement Saturday afternoon by Business Manager Jack Lane, who recently returned from a trip out in the state. Of the towns which signed contracts this year, David City and Seward are the only ones which took up the proposition when it was first launched a year ago.

Manager Lane said that practically every town he made was anxious to sign of for the Week, but some towns could not be taken up because of the mileage and their distance from other cities on the circuit. Fremont is putting up a strong bid for a place on the schedule, but has put off signing the contract until it can find out for certain whether a place can be found to stage it.

Those in charge are attempting to put off the tearing down of the tabernacle in which the recent revival meetings were held until after the dates for University Week. If they succeed, Fremont will sign up and complete the list of five.

The personnel of the Week this year is even better than last spring. It will include the following: The Cadet band of forty pieces, the Glee club, with thirty men; the University Players, in "Believe Me, Xantippe," the varsity debating teams, on the question of preparedness, and Prof. C. E. Persinger, on "South America—Its Commercial and Political Relations with the United States."

The management is especially pleased with the program for this year, and is sure that it will make a still greater impression than did the productions of a year ago. The varsity debating teams have taken the place of the road show, and will argue the most vital question of the day, preparedness.

In putting on "Believe Me, Xantippe," the Dramatic club is putting on a through-and-through made in Nebraska production, which, it is believed, will rank equally well with "The Man from Home" of last year.
