THE CENTER OF THE UNITED STATES

Where is the center of the United States? A simple question and yet one that very few can answer correctly. There are many popular de-lusions as to the location of the geographical center of continental United States, excluding Alaska. "Kearney, the Hub City," is but one of many.
 The center of area of the United States is that point on which the surface of the United States would balance if it were a plane of uniform weight. This point is at latitude 39 degrees, 55 minutes; longitude 98 degrees, 50 minutes, about ten miles north of Smith Center, Kan. This is according to the 1910 report of the bureau of census.
 The nearest Nebraska towns of any man songs were sung by a quartet composed of club members.

 After the program a social hour was spent in games and light refreshments were served.

Dr. and Mrs. Forsyth Visitors Rev. David Dryden Forsyth, '89, and his wife, formerly Myra Clark, '89, have been spending part of this week in Lincoln. Rev. Forsyth was a presiding elder in a Methodist church in Denver and is now on his way to take up educational work for his denomination, with headquarters in New York city.

Harry W. Hinman, '10, who since his graduation has been with the Santa Fe railroad, first at Cloves, N.
 M., and then at Topeka, as instructor of apprentices in the shops, is now instructor in mechanics, toolmaking and other technical subjects in the Detroit schools. The great part of his pupils are from the many factories in Detroit.

Mr. Hinman is a member of Acacia and Sigma Xi fraternities.
 Frances Barstow, '19, left Wednesday with her parents for California.
 They expect to be gone about three weeks.

Joseph B. Kuska, '13, stationed with the United States government at Colby, Kan., visited the university during the first part of the week.

Mary Taylor, who has been visiting Dorothy Carns, will return to Omaha Sunday.

Helen Forbes, '19, is ill with small-pox.

size to the center are Red Cloud and Bloomington. Bloomington is about 15 miles northwest, while Red Cloud is approximately 20 miles to the northeast.

The center of population of the United States is in the city of Bloomington, Ind. When the 1920 report of the bureau of census is compiled the center will no doubt have moved to the westward.
 These two items of information are probably more misunderstood than any two geographical facts which should be common knowledge.

Girls Wear Green Hats
 The conventional green hat for freshman girls has been decided, according to the Purdue Exponent, for the 1919 women at Lafayette. The hats are to be of soft green material, small in size, with a black band and a bow on the side.

WOULD POST GRADES
 The Daily Texan advocates the posting of all grades on bulletin boards.
 The reason cited is that the publicity tends to make each one struggle for higher marks. The system has been successful in the Texas law school.

UNIONS IN OTHER SCHOOLS

In the fall of 1913, a few interested students of the University of Iowa began a campaign for the development of an organization that would be broad and democratic in its character, taking in all of the men of the university and having for its purpose the developing of students ideals and the carrying on of student activities, which would make for a greater and a better "Iowa." The movement had the approval of the entire faculty and of many prominent alumni. The result was that at an all-university dinner about 600 men were enrolled as charter members of the Iowa union.

 Officers were elected, quarters were secured, and the project was launched.

The property rented was an old hotel, facing the campus. Furnished rooms were provided for students at a very reasonable rate; a "commons" under efficient management was established, pleasant parlors and billiard rooms were furnished, and it was soon evident that the venture was a success. From that time the Iowa union has steadily grown, and today has the hearty support of 80 per cent of the male students of the university.

The ways in which it has been ben-efiticial are many. It has encouraged a democratic spirit among the men by furnishing a place to spend their spare time among men of their own class; it is a clubhouse for all, regardless of class or creed; it has been a starting place for all new movements; it has boosted athletics, and it has developed a greater "all-university spirit."
